An Accident.

Yesterday morning a C. P. passenger train was passing along the track to-wards the depot offices from the north, train was passing alone the track towards the depot offices from the north, in this city. As the baggage and mail cars were passing the tracks which come togetuer with the C. P. track at that point, and form a cow's foot, an engine which was running on the other track, and which was being temporarily manused by its freman, became unmanageable. To bystanders it seemed as if the locomovive subdenly jumped forward as if enraged.
Be that as it may, the sudden movement has not been explained, but the damage was accomplished. The engine struck one of the cars, and had its steam chest knocked in and then proceeded to strike the other car. It tilted both cars up on their sides, and in that position, both bodies stopped.
The occupants of the cars were shaken up and badly frightened, but no one was hurt. One of the cars was somewhat badly damaged, having its platform splintered to a considerable extent.—Ogden Standard, Jan. 17.

Supreme Court.

In the Perritorial Supreme Court today all of the justices were present, and the following ousiness was taken up:
In the case of Oxden City vs. John McLaughlin and Ray Gallagher, a decision was made in favor of the defendants. They were arrested, under an Oxden City ordinance, for resorting to a house of Ill-fame for lewdness, and appealed to the Supreme Court on the ground that the city had no anthority to punish such conduct. The decision today was to the effect that

Y. M. M. I. A. Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Improvement Associations of this Stake was held last evening in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms, Connselor Geo. C. Lambert presiding.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Ninth Ward choir. Elder Charles W. Stayner delivered an address upon the duties of officers of Mutual Hmprovement. Associations that was replete with such timely suggestions and practical advice as his long experience in presiding over the Twentieth Ward Association and extensive opportunities for observation had qualified him to offer. Brother Oliver Hodgson, of the same association, followed with an interesting lecture upon astronomy, In which he answered the questions: "What is the nature of the moon?" and "What reasons are there for believing that it is without life?" Counselor Geo. C. Lambert followed with a few remarks upon the manner of conducting exercises in association meetings, during which he advocated general subjects to be handled in consecutive order in all the meetings, reading circles, at nomes of members, the practice of responding to calling of roil, with quotations, etc. It was an interesting meeting and the attendance was fair considering the severity of the weather.

The next monthly meeting will be held at the same place on the evening of Feb. 20th, upon which occasion it is expected that the Seventh Ward choir will furnish the inusic and the Eighth Ward Improvement Association a brief programme.

F. A. Newberger, who was arrested by Deputy Whetstone on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, on Wednesday evening, was before the Commissioner on Friday morning. W. M. Maughan appeared for him. The complaint covered two years of time and the examination resulted in Mr. Newberger being bound overto await the action of the grand jury. His bondsmen are Seth A. Langton, Serge F. Balliff and Charles Frank. Elizabeth F. Newberger was placed unde $200. John Widmer and John Lederman sureties. A correspondent writes to us that on Wednesday two boys about eighteen years of age, named respectively Hyrum Halversen and Hans Weading were are raigned before Justice Bevens on the charge of stealing. The article stolen was a kag of beer belonging to Audrew Andersen. The boys pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $15 each iscluding costs. Halversen paid his fine, but Weading, not having the wherewith to settle, was committed to the city jail until Friday, when his father gave security for his line and he was released.

Friday afternoon John A. Kidman, of Petersooro, was before Commissioner Goodwin on the going charge. Mr. Poulsen, Mrs. Kidman and C. H. Bevens appeared as witnesses. After the evidence was all given, Mr. W. W. Maughan, connsel for the defense, made an able argument in favor of his client and showed very distinctly that no evidence had been adduced that would warrant the defendant being bound over. The commissionar briefly replied to Mr. Maughan's argument, after which he took the matter under advisement until 70'clock in the evening at which hour he rendered his decision, which was that Mr. Kidman, be discharged.

On Saturday Fred. Newberger of Logap, was arrested on the charge of adoltery. On Monday he had his ex-gap, was arrested on the charge of adoltery. On Monday he had his ex-amination before Commissioner Goodamination before Commissioner Goodwin and was bound over in the sum of $1,000. His boundsmen were Jens Nielsen and L. R. Ma: theau. During the examination of one of the witnesses, it was necessary to ask a somewhat delicate question. After the question had been asked, a Mr. R. D. hoberts, who was present, spoke up and said that if his wife should be asked such a question he would kill the interrogator. The commissioner fined him $500 and imposed one day's imprisonment for contempt.—Utah Journal

The engineer, seeing that no power could control the train, grasped the whistle lever, and during the run the engine pealed forth a loud, despairing cry of distress. It seemed as if the valiant, almost human plece of machinery, aided by steam, and with its ponderons driving wheels turning backward at a rapid rate, would thwart the danger into which the mad cars were hurling themselves.

At the bottom of the hill stood a special passenger train, and behind it stood No. 2 east bound express. They were walting at the station for orders and were all unconscious of the seeming demon rushing upon them. Finally, one of the station hands, hearing the whistle bearing down upon the station, became conscious that something was wrong, and ran to turn the switch, so that the two stationary trains might be placed ont of the reach of dauger. He arrived just in time to throw the freight train on to a diet track, and the hearts of all who witnessed its arrival beat fast as they came to the realization of the calamity which had been averted. Had the switch not been turned, the long string of heavy cars would have thrown themselves upon the other trains with terrible force, and many persons would have been killed and injured, as each contained a large number of passengers.

Arriving upon the sidetrack, the ralls of which were rough, the engine and brakes began to get in their work, and the train came to a full stop shortly after reaching the station, without having accomplished any damage to property during its flight.

The train men have evidences of the run, however, which will probably remain with them for some time. The terrible suffering from cold which they experienced was not without its effects. They were brought to Ogden, and Dr. Perkins found that their toes, ears, flagers, etc., had been frozen. Every effort is being made to prevent amputation from becoming necessary; but it is not yet knewn what may be the result of the thrilling ride, which the conducto

The House Passes a New Bill for the Compilation of the Laws.

Jan. 17

Mr. Young presented a memorial to the Conneil and House, representatives of the Territory of Utah, for minority representation—to enable every citizen who could, to take hold of the helm of State. It had seventy signatures. It was laid on the table.

Shurtliff reported that the committee on elections recommended that C. F. No. 6, for registration, etc., would not, in their opinion, be in the interest of the Territory, therefore suggested that it do not pass. The recommendation of the committee was adopted. Marshall reported from the committee on municipal corporations and towns, recommending that C. F. 5., for the classification and government of municipalities and towns be put upon its passage. The report of the committee was adopted, and the bill filed for second reading.

The president appointed Marshall, Smoot and Carlisle on the part of the Council to confer with the committee of the House on Council joint resolution No. 5 on memorials.

Delegate Caine at Washington; report filed.

Moyle, for the committee on conference, reported a new bill providing for the compilation of the laws of Utah. The bill was read; it provides for the appointment of five persons, three of whom are to be selected by the Speaker of the House and two by the President of the Council, to make the compilation, and report not later than March 1, 1888 The work is to be done under the supervision of the Legislature. If the committee find it impracticable to complete the work by the date named, they are to continue the work until finished, and 5,000 copies printed; copies are to be furnished to public officers, and to be placed on sale at $5 per copy to the public. The bill passed its first and second reading. Hoge raised the point that the question was only on the report of the conference committee.

The chair ruled that, as the bill had been reported as new matter, therefore it was subject to the regular order.

fore it was subject to the regular order.

There was some further discussion, and the ruling of the Speaker was sustained by vote of the House.

Considerable debate followed upon the proposition to furnish county and precinct, officers with copies of the laws. Originally these officers had been excepted from the free distribution, though they were least able to purchase the books.

Hoge and Richards advocated a general distribution of the laws to be held as property of the public offices. King approved this, and wanted, the county courts to purchase the books for the use of county and precinct officers. He considered that this gratuitions distribution was not properly belonging to the Perritory.

Richards said it made no difference to him, so long as the officers got the hooks, whether the county counts or the Territory did the purchasing; but as the compilation was the work of the Territory, it should bear its own surden.
