

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—At the Criterion, 48 west Tenth street, is located a party of Salt Laker, who have been enjoying the theaters and sights of New York in fine style for some days past. The Criterion is the present home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Richards. Their son Jack, is attending a military school in New Jersey. Mr. Richards is well known in musical circles, and with his wife has a large circle of friends in the city. Their visitors for the past 10 days, have been Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richards and Miss Alice Crismon. Mr. Richards is here on business, and also for the benefit of his wife's health, which has been very poor of late. Miss Crismon, who has an ably filled the office of stenographer at the Utah building at the St. Louis fair, since May 1st, joined Mr. and Mrs. Richards at St. Louis on their way to New York. She has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Richards, also visiting with her friend, Mrs. R. C. Easton, and will go direct to Salt Lake from Gotham to take her old position as stenographer in the land office. Miss Crismon has won friends from among all classes who have visited the Utah building at the fair, and her absence during the closing weeks will be felt by Utahns who make the pilgrimage to that wonderful city.

Mr. Wilford Young, son of Hon. J. W. Young, who has been an inmate of St. Luke's hospital for the last six weeks, suffering from a severe case of typhoid fever, is now convalescing, and is able to take some very light nourishment. His wife and baby are with Mr. Jno. W. Young at his apartments, on Seventy-third West, the "Ansonia."

Prest J. G. McQuerris returned from Salt Lake last Thursday, looking and feeling well; his trip, though a brief one, was full of incident, and he brings most encouraging news concerning the mission here. Col. Wilford Young also returned two days later than Prest. McQuerris, they having traveled west together. Col. Young made a two days' visit in Kansas City. He returns in excellent health.

It is anticipated that the Misses Hart, and Clara Young will come down from Vassar to spend Halloween with a number of their classmates in this city. Halloween parties are a great fun among the young people here. Balls and theater parties with the inevitable midnight supper are quite the thing. Even married people indulge in the theater and supper, and it is almost regarded as a legal holiday. Miss Clara Young has been suffering from a severe case of tonsillitis, and it is uncertain whether she will be able to participate in much of the fun on Monday night.

Mrs. Elias A. Smith, with her sister, Miss Pearl Weller, has made a dining visit to New York; they are on their way from the fair, and are now visiting with relatives in Philadelphia before returning west.

At the "Cadillac," Forty-third and Broadway, is registered the name of Victor P. Wells of Salt Lake. He will remain for a few weeks on business and to visit friends.

Two Elbers, Joseph S. Welsh and John A. Martin have been released, and left for Utah Friday. Elder Welsh's labors have mostly been confined to the Brooklyn conference, where he has established a firm friendship with every one he has associated with; his departure from this scene of his labors is greatly regretted by the entire conference. Elder Martin has been in poor health for many months, and it was thought best to release him before any serious complications arose. He has faithfully filled an honorable mission, and takes with him the best wishes of the colony.

Miss Lulu Snow, who is living at 45 Manhattan avenue, is hard at work these days, studying piano with Prof. Lambert.

The Yale and Columbia football game played this last week, which resulted in a complete failure for Columbia, was the means of bringing two Salt Lake boys down from Yale, Harold F. F. and Roger Sherman, both second year men, who came "to see Yale win," they declared in advance. That they returned even more jubilant than they came, goes without saying.

The "Bonnie Brier Bush" company found its way into New York Sunday evening from Wilkesbarre, Penn. The company now plays Jersey City one week, Newark the week of Nov. 7th, and Brooklyn the week of Nov. 14th. That means three weeks in "dear New York" to every actor—and it is fair to say, they all look forward to the change with joyful feelings. Mr. Stoddard breaks all records for cheerfulness and vigor—he is in every way stronger as "Lachlan" than last year.

and bids fair to go through another two years.—The company all round, as near perfect as can be, and as the proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, so is the proof of excellent acting tested by the business a play draws "Standing room" signs and "house sold in advance" has been the usual word at the box offices this season so far.

JANET.

BARTHOLOI'S GREAT TASK
ON HIS GIFT TO AMERICA.

If in the course of things the United States some day should be conquered by some liberty hater, like the sultan of Turkey, and the statue of liberty at New York suffer the fate of an earlier wonder of its kind, the Colossus of Rhodes, it is probable that the junk dealer who then would purchase the liberty statue as so much old copper and iron would accord to Bartholdi, who did not last Tuesday in Paris, the place which a careless public, accustomed to the sight of the statue, and having come long ago to wonder at its magnitude, has requested to give the creator of the eighth wonder of the world, says the Chicago Tribune.

Tradition says 300 camels were used in transporting the brass of the Colossus of Rhodes to Alexandria after its purchase by a merchant. Twelve hundred or more such animals would be required to transport the liberty statue from New York to South Canal street in Chicago. There were 30,000 pounds of brass in the Colossus of Rhodes, and there are 40,000 pounds of copper and iron in the statue at New York. This is to indicate in a general way how much greater is the Bartholdi statue than the ancient piece of sculpture over which the ruler of history marvels.

SIZE LOST IN BACKGROUND.
Because of the vast picture which forms the background of the statue in New York bay the immense size of the sculpture is not brought home. It is only when recourse is had to comparative figures that the figure on which Bartholdi spent ten of the best years of his life is seen to be not only a work of art but the greatest of colossi.

The nose of the figure of Liberty is 4 feet long. The eyes are 2 feet wide. The hand measures 11 feet. The forehead is 7 feet long, and the finger nail is a foot in length. The head is 14 feet high and around its crown 9 persons may stand. In the torch held up by the right hand there is room for 14 persons.

A man standing in the torch sees New York's shipping from a height of 255 feet, that being the distance between the top of the torch and low water mark. The statue is 31 feet high, the figure of St. Charles Borromeo, on the banks of Lake Maggiore, measures 66 feet; the Virgin of Puy is 48 feet high and the Bavaria at Munich, the oldest extant example of colossi, is 45 feet.

Frenchmen of 20 years ago had a better opportunity than Americans of today to compare the Liberty statue with ordinary objects. While it stood for several years in the yard in Paris in which it was made,

What? Do not pin your hat to your own hair? Can't do it? Haven't enough hair? It must be you do not know Ayer's Hair Vigor. Here's an introduction! May the acquaintance result in a heavy growth of rich, thick, glossy hair! And we know you will never be gray.

J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

It towered above the house tops in a way that brought out its magnitude.

HIGHER THAN MASONIC TEMPLE.

If placed with its pedestal and base alongside the Masonic Temple in Chicago the top of the torch would be 40 feet higher than the temple is.

The statue is made out of hammered copper, held in its form from the inside by an iron framework. Bartholdi began his work on the statue by making a three foot model. From this he made a statue measuring seven feet, and from the latter a model measuring 31 feet.

Measurements then were taken of the 31 foot model and lengthened in the correct proportions to get the size of the 38 foot figure. In executing the final figure from the smaller models 3,000 measurements were necessary. The figure of Liberty cost $250,000, contributed by the people of France in money, material, and labor, and Bartholdi is said to have received nothing for his 10 years of work.

Cured Consumption. Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had a quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot get it without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c. per bottle. Sold by Z. C. M. L. Drug Dept.
