The new schoolhouse being erected in Clarkston is nearing completion. It is a credit to the town, as it has modern conveniences and improvements. Special attention has been given to ventilation. The building committee merit great praise for the energy they have displayed in pushing the building forward. Other settlements should make a note of Clarkston's enterprise in this regard.—Logan Journal.

In today's issue John C. Cutler & Bro. have a new advertisement, in which they represent some of the classes of home-made goods they have in stock. The quality of the wares is unquestionably excellent, and the advertisement should be read by all intending purchasers. Some of the articles referred to are well suited for holiday presents. If home manufactures should be preferred by consumers.

Quite a number of the youth of the community are anxious to acquire the art of shorthand writing. Crossing the Continent.

We had a pleasant call today from Mr. A. H. Overman, president of the Overman Wheel Company of Boston, which is extensively engaged in the manufacture of bicycles and other mammoth carriages, and is one of the liveliest rivals of the "Pop" Manufacturing Co. in America. Mr. Overman arrived yesterday and is pleasantly impressed with our city and surroundings. He will start for San Francisco in the morning.

Third District Court.

Judge Zane gave a decision yesterday afternoon in the case of Salt Lake County vs. Hiram Yenger. The defendant made a motion to dismiss the suit, which was argued by counsel for both sides. The court granted the motion. The plaintiff gave notice of appeal, and was allowed twenty days' stay.

Today, the suit of D. P. Tarpey vs. Loretan & Burke, was continued for the term.

Marie L. Hayhoe vs. Hiram Yenger, appeal from the probate court; on trial before court.

Disgraceful Conduct at Provo. Some peculiar proceedings occurred at the meeting of the Salvation Army last night. During the services the captain delivered an address in which he cried out, "O Lord Jesus! Let the fire from heaven descend upon this congregation!" He had no sooner uttered this fervent appeal, than a bunch of fire-crackers, attached to the tail of a young man in the audience, was lighted. The popping and crackling of the combustibles made the young man jump with fright, and he immediately darted from his seat, rushed on the stage and scattered confusion among the people. Women fainted, men yelled for police, and the hoodlums added to the scene by singing, "The Lamb, the Lamb, the bleeding Lamb." All rushed to the door and were surprised to find it guarded by a man dressed up as an Indian chief, armed with a tomahawk. Complaints have been sworn out against John and Jacob Westfall, and George Collins for being the ringleaders, and they will have a hearing before Justice Booth—Territorial Engineer, Dec. 6.

Frank Mayo.

Frank Mayo is an actor of a school that should have many pupils. He is neither snail nor snail, but a fatalist, a fatalist that tries the audience. He is easy, graceful and natural in his movements, and his voice, which is admirably disciplined, is musical and penetrating. His enunciation is distinct, but not affected. He converts the stage into a world and portrays character just as one would expect to see it in the avenues of life into which his plot leads.

"Nordack" in which Mr. Mayo appeared for the second time in the city last night, is an admirable drama. When first presented here some weeks ago, the unfavorable verdict of competent critics was to the effect that in conception and detail it is the finest new play on the stage. There is some of that which is offensive to delicate minds in it. The faintest suggestion of immorality is absent. It treats of intrigue and deception, it is true. The schemes of traitors and villains are met and thwarted by the genius and courage of many nobility. But there is no filth, no subtle poison, no suggestion of immorality. It shows the conception of a pure mind guided by a noble heart. Mr. Mayo may be proud of the plot and dialogue of the play, as he has a right to be of his own peerless acting.—Patriot, Harrisburg.

AUSTRALASIAN MISSION.

A Highly Interesting Conference Among the Maories.

Following is the report of the semi-annual conference of the Waikato district of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints held at Rakauamanga, Oct. 13 and 14, 1887:

Conference was convened at 10 a. m. on the morning of the 13th, the president of the district, Wm. Gardner, presiding. The following Elders from Utah were present: President William Paxman, of the Australasian mission, Elias Johnson, his traveling companion and interpreter, H. J. Manning, H. J. Sears, H. J. Burgess, Alma Hayes, Boyd Stewart and George Romney.

There were some 200 members of the Church present, besides a number of non-members. The weather was not as pleasant as we could have desired and for that reason there were not as many present as would have been otherwise. Still as it was, the seating capacity of the building was filled, and the Maories were placed upon the floor at all cost, and within their confines.

It was a most gratifying sight to the President of the mission and the Elders to behold the bright smiling faces of the audience, and to see with what eagerness they listened to the words and advice of the Elders. When we looked around us and saw

GREAT AND RAPID STRIDINGS made by the people, the Maories, civilization, it made our hearts rejoice and say: "Great and glorious are Thy works, O God!" They seem to have the work of God at heart.

During our two days' meeting we held the spirit of God in abundance, and it appeared as almost a continual presence from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. The spirit of God was present, and therefore the time passed rapidly and pleasantly. President Paxman gave us much valuable instruction regarding our duties as Latter-day Saints.

Each of the Elders was called upon and expressed his opinions, feelings, desires and knowledge of the great Father and His work. The presidents of the various branches were called upon and reported them in a flourishing condition.

President Gardner presented the general and local authorities of the Church, all of whom were sustained by the unanimous vote of the Saints. The report of the district was then given, and the Maories were sustained by the unanimous vote of the Saints.

The Stake Library.

Owing mainly to the facts that some 400 volumes now on the way have not yet arrived and that the many volumes already loaned out, the shelves of the new reading room are not as they should soon will be, as the institution is one that deserves fostering and there seems to be a disposition to aid in the work.

The latest contribution is that of Mr. C. M. L. who has just deposited there about fifty volumes of Chambers' Encyclopedia and similar works of reference.

Diphtheria.

For a few days our city has been free from this terrible disease, but today we have to record a new outbreak. One alarming feature of the recent scourge in this respect is that adults have been subject to attack in greater proportion than ever before, and in almost every instance with fatal results.

The case reported by the quarantine physician today is in the family of Mr. Henry Arnold, of the Nineteenth Ward, where a young lady twenty years of age has been taken ill. Thus far no serious developments have occurred, and it is hoped that the disease will prove of a mild type.

A Serious Charge.

This afternoon Frank Merrill, a young man 18 years of age, and son of F. Merrill, of Logan, was arrested on a charge of burglary. For the past two months the accused has been employed at C. M. L. in this city. The warrant for his arrest was sent to this city by Commissioner Goodwin, of Logan. No details of the alleged offense are known. The bail of the defendant is fixed at $1,000, for his appearance before the commission on Monday next. Whether he will be taken to Logan tonight or will give bonds in this city was not decided this afternoon.

Paid the Costs.

A case of assault was heard by Commissioner Norrell. The accused was B. B. VanDeusen, manager for a mining company in Buchanan, Mo. C. Buckle, collector for Buckle & Son, went to Mr. VanDeusen yesterday to collect a bill. There was a dispute about it, and Mr. Buckle said he would make Mr. VanDeusen pay it.

The latter took umbrage at the manner of the collector, and pushed the collector out of his office. The result was a complaint and an arrest. After hearing the testimony, the Commissioner found that the defendant was not justified in what he did, but it was a small affair, and he sent him with the costs of the action, which were paid.

A Wichita Tragedy.

A dispatch from Wichita, Kansas, under date of December 6th says: This morning at 9 o'clock was enacted one of the bloodiest tragedies that ever occurred in this city. J. E. Johnson, a prominent member of the estate, man, shot his wife and then himself, both dying almost instantly.

The Johnsons lived in the city for many years, and their marriage life was generally considered a happy one. For some time, however, it was supposed to have been a sad one, and this is supposed to have affected his mind and led to the tragedy which occurred before dawn.

The victim's name was Mrs. J. E. Johnson, and she was married to Alexander, Mo. Four children, ranging from three to ten years of age, were left behind. The tragedy was a great shock to the community, and the body was taken to the morgue for examination.

The body of the wife was found in the city, and the body of the husband was found in the city. The tragedy was a great shock to the community, and the body was taken to the morgue for examination.

Suicide.

An announcement comes from Farmington, Davis County, that on Tuesday night William Hughes, a saloon keeper near that place, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. No details are given.

Will Not Sell.

It was rumored some time since that the D. & R. G. was about to be sold to the Missouri Pacific. General Manager Smith, of the former route, was approached on the subject and replied that while he did not care to speak for the road officials, the report seemed to be manufactured out of whole cloth. A sale of the Denver & Rio Grande, he said, was impossible, and could not take place. The rumors alleging a sale originated from the fact that the Denver & Rio Grande had agreed to let the Missouri Pacific cars into Denver from Pueblo, instead of letting the other roads have the business or compelling the Missouri Pacific to build its own line. Mr. Smith was sure that the Missouri Pacific had bought the Denver & Rio Grande or that it would have an opportunity to do so for some time.
