Another Political party-Plans to entrap the army of the Loire-Excitement in Spain.

The World's correspondence writes from Versailles on the 11th: A grand sortie from Paris is expected on the 18th or 20th, and preparations to resist the attack are vigorously going forward. I have good reason for advising you not to place too much reliance on the reports of the success of the army of the Loire. Von der Taun, with a small force, is falling steadily back in accordance with a well understood plan. No doubt he will lose a considerable number of men, but the sacrifice will be the same as at Gravellotte. It is intended to hold re-elected to Congress in the 7th disthe Loire army in check, and meanwhile Frederick Charles is steadily will stand eight Republicans and six pushing on, and even now, is nearly Democrats. within striking distance of Paladines' right flank. I believe I can confidently assure you that unless Moltke's plans fail, as they have not yet failed since the commencement of the war, the army of the Loire will find itself in a trap and the chances of another disastrous capitulation are imminent. Large reinfercements and a big convoy of guns made their appearance at

New York, 16.—A London special says orders have been dispatched for the recail of vessels of war from every station, except such as are actually needed in foreign waters. A large bon centration of ships at Portsmouth is already apparent, and the greatest addition the Ratern question. There is not the Ratern question. There is not the Ratern question. There is morning from Vienna, confirming the accounts already received of the excitation of Russia, a general European war is inevitable. A rupture between England and Russia is located upon as certain and imminent. It is also believed that Prussia is in close siliance with Russia against the rest of Europe.
