SOCIAL SOCIETY

The predicted holiday reaction in social circles has been a noticeable thing this week, the number of events having been meagre as compared to previous ones. Several large dancing parties have been given and a few home affairs, though few of the latter attempted to be more than informal.

Next week will be notable in the entertainment of the visiting delegates to the Woolgrowers' convention and their ladies, a number of events being planned in their honor, among them affairs at the Bee Hive and Lion Houses and a large reception at the Commercial club.

Another important affair planned for during the week was the old-time ball to be given at the Lion House on Jan. 11st, the guests to go in old-fashioned garb, and old-fashioned refreshments to be served, with all other details carried out in the same idea.

Miss Agatha Berkhoel was guest of honor at a card party on Wednesday night, Miss Beatrice O'Connor entertained her card club and about a dozen being present. The room was prettily decorated with pink carnations and ferns and the tally cards were Miss Berkhoel's favorite songs illustrated.

Mrs. Samuel Newhouse gave a party at the Orpheum on Tuesday.

The Telegrapher's club gave a delightful dancing party in the Jennings block on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lamb gave a dinner party on Wednesday night for Mrs. W. D. Leonard of Murray and R. B. Watson of New York.

A pretty affair of Wednesday was the bridge tea given by Mrs. G. P. Holman the rooms being beautifully decorated with La France roses and carnations and eight tables being played, with prizes going to the winners at each. These were Mrs. P. McGeath, Mrs. Union Worthington, Mrs. Charles Post, Mrs. Anna Thompson of Portland, Mrs. Windsor V. Rice, Mrs. Kreibels and Miss Nason.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cutler, Jr. entertained at a delightful dinner party on Monday night in honor of Gov. Cutler and Mrs. Cutler. The rooms were effectively adorned with flowers and ferns and about 20 guests enjoyed the event. After dinner "52" was played, prizes being won by Mrs. H. E. Cutler and Joseph Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Blyth, Jr., gave a box party at the Orpheum on Monday night followed by a box supper at the Wilson.

Mrs. Walter Jennings entertained her card club yesterday.

The engagement of Miss Alice Paul and Mr. M. P. Dougan was announced this week.

A dinner was given on Wednesday night by Judge and Mrs. O. W. Powers the decorations being in red with roses and ferns artistically arranged and covers laid for about a dozen guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney gave a party at the Orpheum on Thursday night, their guests being Mrs. John Groesbeck, Mrs. Louise McCune and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spencer.

Mrs. J. Silvers was hostess at a large tea on Tuesday given in honor of Mrs. G. Logan of Louisville, Ky. The rooms were bright with carnations and similar, pink being used in the parlors and red in the dining room. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. F. C. Loebow, Mrs. Miss Lucille Helde and Miss Marie Sloan of Oakland. The guests invited to meet Mrs. Logan were Mrs. Benjamin Young, Mrs. A. N. McCay, Mrs. Tom D. Pitt, Mrs. W. E. Vigus, Mrs. C. E. Post, Mrs. C. D. Elchorn, Mrs. J. C. McClain, Miss Elizabeth Post, Mrs. C. E. Sherman, Mrs. B. Schirmer, Mrs. T. J. Laten, Mrs. S. Simon, Mrs. J. N. Courtney, Mrs. G. R. Cleveland, Miss Cowan, Miss Marie Sloan, Miss Helde, Mrs. J. Israel, Mrs. W. D. Prosser, Mrs. A. E. Eberhart, Mrs. W. D. Prosser, Mrs. A. E. Eberhart, Mrs. W. C. Hall, Miss Ainsley, Mrs. Alfred Derrick, Mrs. C. Harris, Mrs. F. C. Loebow, Mrs. Ada Schoelling.

The Delta Sigma fraternity gave a dancing party at Unity hall last night, the guests comprising the various university fraternities and sororities, and the patrons being the faculty of the institution and a number of old-time students. The decorations were in the college, class and society colors, and the entire affair delightful.

The Utopian club gave a dancing party last night at Unity hall the evening being one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week. Excellent music was provided and a large number were present.

Mrs. Fred Hale gave a delightful bridge tea Thursday in honor of her daughter, Mrs. T. B. Hunter of Monterey, Cal. The room was prettily decorated in red, and prizes awarded Mrs. W. L. Ellerbeck, Mrs. Lafayette Hanchette, Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff and Miss Florence Grant.

The first informal Solree for this season was held at Christensen's Wednesday evening and was a very enjoyable affair. A number of social and card clubs are arranging to attend every other week.

Mrs. S. H. Pinkerton entertained the members of her card club at luncheon at the Emery Holmes on Thursday, and "500" was played afterward, the prizes being won by Mrs. Broughall, Mrs. Sands and Mrs. Garland of San Francisco.

On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caine gave a family party at their home in celebration of the seventy-fourth birthday anniversary of John T. Caine, the host's father. The rooms were bright with flowers and shaded lights, and the time most delightfully spent.

Mrs. E. P. Swindler was hostess at a bridge party yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Olive Gaylord gave a card party yesterday, the decorations being most the game of "500".

A notably interesting event of the week was the Parsifal recital given at Rowland hall, under Miss Colbourne's direction, the legend being explained by Mrs. Iglehart with various readings included, while Mrs. Plummer and Miss Geneve Ellerbeck rendered the music of the various themes with song and piano respectively.

Miss Georgia Webber gave a luncheon Thursday in honor of Mrs. Nye, the table being beautifully decorated in large pink carnations and Parma violets, and the candles shaded in silver and pink while the place cards were hand-painted in violets. Bridge was played, the prizes going to Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Union Worthington, Mrs. William Cunningham and Miss Jessie Anderson. The guests to meet Mrs. Nye were Mrs. James L. Franken, Mrs. Jay Tavin Harris, Mrs. Sam Park, Mrs. Grant Hampton, Mrs. William Cunningham, Miss Margaret Park, Mrs. A. D. Cleveland, Miss Crawford.

Mrs. George Putnam was hostess at a bridge party on Thursday, the rooms being bright with flowers and about 10

THE LARGER OUTSIDE FILES

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, Jan. 12.—One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cave, corner of Washington avenue and Twenty-third street, when their daughter, Miss Alice M. Cave, was married to Guy B. Nelson. The ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock by Bishop James Wolterspoon in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a beautiful white silk gown, and was attended by Miss Cross, while Mr. Fred Hollingsworth acted as best man.

A brilliant reception was given during the afternoon and evening, which was attended by many friends of the young couple, who showered them with heartiest congratulations for a long and happy life. Many beautiful presents were bestowed upon them. The home was elegantly decorated with cut flowers and ferns. A dainty wedding repast was served. The contracting parties are among the most popular young people in Ogden. The bride is a young lady of talent and charming personality and has been a leader in social circles. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Nelson, and is a well known employee of the Southern Pacific shops. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make Ogden their home.

Among the delightful events of the week was the masked carnival given Thursday evening at the auditorium skating rink, which was enjoyed by over 1,500 guests. The prizes for the
