Two literary ladice lately were witnesses in a trial. One of them, upon hearing the usual questions asked, "What is your name?" and "How old are you" turned to her companion and said: "I do not like to tell my aga; not that I have any objection to its being known, but I don't want it published in all the newspapers." "Well." said the witty Mrs. — "I will tell you how to avoid it. You have heard the objection to all hearsay evidence; tell them you don't remember when you were born, and all you knew of it is by hearsay." The ruse took and the question was not pressed.
