The Crescent Cream company also reports a shortage, but they have managed to rub along thus far with-out serious inconvenience. The con-dition today finds the Franklin and Recley companies in about the same condition as yesterday. Both are on the "ragged edge."

GRIEF AT DRUG STORES.

The effect of the shortage is being felt by the drug stores, and if their customers are unable to get their regular allowance of cream in the future they will blame the ice man. Just now the leading drug stores report having sufficient ice, but their supply of cream cut down on account of the troubles of the cream people.

The Salt Lake Ice company reports itself able to take care of its regular customers though it is not in a position to care for any new ones. Its sup-ply is about 80 tons of artificial and 40 tons of natural ice.

The Alaska Ice company reports itrelf well able to care for all its cus-fomers up to the end of September, though it is not able to take care of any more new customers, a number having been taken on during the past week

The Heil Ice company and W. Cot-ten also report that they are unable to supply new customers, though they pe to be able to supply regular customers.

REGULAR CUSTOMERS ONLY.

It would seem from the report of the the would seem from the report of the ice companies as obtained by phone and by personal talks this morning that the householders have nothing to fear, each company stating that regular cus-tomers will be taken care of. It is stated that the Salt Lake Brew is producing about 15 tons per day, ich is being turned over to the Salt Lake Ice company for distribution in order to help the situation, and the Inter-Mountain Packing company is al-80 producing a few tons a day which is being handled by the Alaska Ice company.

That the present shortage has been helped by the unusual number of people present in Salt Lake this summer, there is no doubt but for all that there is need of greatly increased facilities for ice production, and preparations are now under way for the installation of additional machinery by the Utah Ice & additional machinery by the Utah Ice & Cold Storage company which will in-crease the capacity of the plant from 80 to 180 tons a day. General Manager E. J. Part of it will be installed, it was said this morning, in the old building west of the office, but the company will need additional boller room and tank capacity. Relatives and neighbors overawed the two policemen accompanying the doctor and they called the reserves to assist them. The young woman's friends fought vigorously to keep her in the house and during the battle the street filled with more than 1,000 of the curious. After many blows had been struck, the police carried the suffering young woman out of the house and then they had to fight their way through the crowd to get her into the ambulance and to the hospital.
