

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

Twenty-Fourth St. Viaduct Ordinance Passes Two Readings—Salaries Increased.

WILL LIGHT CANYON ROAD.

County Commissioners Will Eliminate Some of the Dangers of Night Travel—Checks Refused.

Ogden, Nov. 25.—At last evening's session of the city council the most of the time was occupied in the consideration of the franchise for the Twenty-fourth street viaduct. Atty. C. R. Hollingsworth, representing the Harri-man roads, presented a copy of a proposed ordinance prepared according to the railroad company's desires in connection with the building of the structure. The ordinance was read, passed two readings and referred to the law committee, the city attorney and the engineer.

The new ordinance, according to a statement made to the council, contains all of the essential points agreed upon at the conference between the railroad officials and a number of Ogden business men, held recently. It provides that the road approach, which will be built of concrete with a macadam top, shall commence 15 feet east of the east line of Wall avenue, encroaches upon only 10 feet of the Rio Grande Western property, leaving a 7 per cent grade. The road approach will end at the west end of the continental oil property.

Among those who sat through the council session was Mayor-elect A. L. Brewer. He has announced his intention of attending all sessions of the council after he takes office.

It was decided to call upon the railway company to extend its main across the railroad tracks on Twenty-eighth street and to place a new light on Twenty-eighth street and Pacific avenue.

The matter of grading Twenty-second street from Madison to Quincy avenues to divert the water from Dry Hollow into the Twenty-eighth street canal was referred to the street committee with power to act.

Several petitions against the filling in of the old river bed at the mouth of the canyon were presented and referred to the committee.

It was reported that the railroad employees were encroaching upon city property at the foot of Twenty-first, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-eighth streets. The city engineer was instructed to prepare a plat covering this territory with a view of stopping the encroachments.

The ordinance increasing the salary of women passed its third and final reading. It was ordered paid.

WILL ILLUMINATE CANYON.

County Board Working for Safety of Travelers in Scenic Highway.

Ogden, Nov. 25.—The great danger in traveling through Ogden canyon dark nights because of the numerous places where horses or vehicles might go over the embankment several feet to the bottom of the river, has been a source of apprehension for these many years. The county commissioners have now awakened to the dangers of the road and at yesterday's meeting of the board the situation was thoroughly discussed. The accidents that have occurred because of darkness at times were referred to and the commissioners thought the only plan will be to establish electric lights through the canyon at the dangerous points so motorists would know where these places are and could see them. The entire matter was referred to Committee on Bonds, aggregating $5,000, was ordered paid.

mission McKay with power to act, and it is believed he will see that the canyon is sufficiently lighted, as he for years has driven through it almost at night and day, and appreciates the importance of the matter with good lights through the canyon and the fence rail along dangerous places the safety in driving through the canyon at night will be greatly improved.

REFUSED CASHIERS' CHECKS.

Railroaders at Montello Demanded Hard Money for Pay.

The report comes from Montello, Nev., that for a short time last Saturday it looked as though the Southern Pacific would be at a standstill at that point over the company's sending the men checks instead of cash for last month's services. The employees have been having no end of trouble lately cashing checks and therefore refused to accept them from the paymaster and threatened to go out on a strike. The situation was immediately understood by those in charge of the men and the officers at San Francisco were notified, resulting in Chief Clerk William A. McGraw of the Ogden freight office being instructed to send $3,000 in cash to cover the checks, which was done, thus settling the difficulty.

GREEKS OBSTRUCT STREETS.

The instructions given the policemen by their superiors that Twenty-fifth street must be kept clear of the groups of Greeks and Italians who frequent that district from the depot to Grant avenue, resulted yesterday in the arrest of a dozen Greeks on lower Twenty-fifth street who were jabbering together blocking the street. The nominal sum of $1 was required from each as bail. The men were angry over the arrest but it may be a lesson to them that if they want to talk together in groups they must get off the street to do so.

DIVORCE SUITS.

A divorce suit has been commenced in the Second district court by Ella Keller against Charles A. Keller. They were married at Ogden, Aug. 14, 1905. She charges that her husband has at times been cruel to her and used his fists on her, also that he has failed to provide her with the necessities of life. One child lives as issue of their marriage. A decree of divorce, custody of the child, and alimony, is prayed for.

It is now evident that Mrs. Marcelle Watts will not permit George A. Watts to get a divorce without a contest. Watts made some serious allegations against his wife in the complaint, and now she has filed an answer and cross complaint, charging him with beating her with his fists at times, and otherwise being cruel and unkind to her. She asks for a portion of $5,000 worth of property he owns, restoration of her maiden name, Marcelle Baker, and a decree of divorce.

MAILS SON TO COURT.

W. M. Piggett, the well-known barber, has filed a complaint with the clerk of the juvenile court against his young son, Donald V. Piggett, charging him with being unmamable, in that he refuses to show his parents, spends his time loafing around the streets and undesirable places, and associates with vicious people. He will be tried before Judge Gunnell.

"THE POOL FROM BOSTON."

The presentation last evening at the Fifth ward hall by the Fourth ward dramatic club of "The Pool From Boston," in honor of William McKay, was witnessed by a large audience. Mr. McKay left the 27th of this month for Germany, to do missionary work. A neat little sum was realized at last evening's production.

married Mary Carlisle. He had taken an active part in every thing of an upbuilding nature and passed enough all the trials and hardships incident to early life in these valleys. Three years in succession his entire crop was destroyed by grasshoppers and chinch bugs. He helped in the construction of the old fort wall at 2 N. W., furnished a team to haul rock for the Salt Lake Temple, helped to build a road around the Point of the Mountain, and furnished an ox team to go for immigrants. Last June he had the misfortune to fall and break his hip and was confined to his bed until the final chinch bug came to relieve him of his suffering. He passed peacefully away at the home of his son Richard. He leaves four sons, Ephraim, William, James and Richard and three daughters, Mrs. Lizzie Beck, Mrs. Martha Strong, Mrs. Jane Olson, besides 50 grandchildren and is great-grandchildren.

On the 21st a heavy snowstorm visited the town. The ground was covered to a depth of six inches. One or two sleighs were seen on the streets. The snow is fast disappearing, however, under the warm rays of today's sun.

Suits & Overcoats

The liberal response we had yesterday to our reduction of 20% on new Fall and Winter Clothing is convincing evidence that the public in general know that when we say we are selling clothing at one-fifth off our regular price that it is true.

Also that our regular prices—considering workmanship, style and fit—are as low as consistent business judgment will permit of.

Our sale is a logical business proposition, as we cater to men who want the new styles each season it is necessary that we do not carry any clothing over to the next season; hence the following reduced prices:

$20.00 Suit or Overcoat . . . $16	$35.00 Suit or Overcoat . . . $28
$22.50 Suit or Overcoat . . . $18	$40.00 Suit or Overcoat . . . $32
