

Walker's greatest garment sale.

Three great departments involved. The entire ready-to-wear section of our store, including the suit department, the undermuslin department and the juvenile department.

A mighty purchase of sample lines and floor stocks from the greatest garment houses of the country.

A sensational sale of coats, suits, costumes, skirts, waists, petticoats, undermuslins, corsets and children's clothing.

$25,000 worth of new, clean merchandise brought here especially for this great sale in the ready-to-wear section.

Our buyer, Mrs. McNair, has just returned from New York

—we received word three weeks ago that manufacturers were overloaded with fall and winter goods—cash would do wonders. Mrs. McNair was hurried to the market with plenty of money and instructions to buy whatever was good. The ready money brought prices down to a fraction of the actual values. The total purchases came to $25,000.00—would have been twice or three times as much at regular wholesale prices. The goods are here, were hurried to us by express. You'll select Monday and week at prices, which considering the condition of the stock and the actual values, will appeal to you as nothing short of marvellous.

Nearly all prices marked as low as half off; many numbers will be as low as three-fourths off the regular prices.

The largest garment department in the middle west

—will start Monday morning the greatest sale it ever inaugurated. Aside from the tremendous stocks bought outright for this wondrous selling, there are countless additions from our regular stock—broken lines, depleted ranges of colors, and all odd garments left from the season's business.

It will be a wonder. There'll be twenty extra sales people to wait on you—stocks will be arranged for your convenience and easy choosing, and everything will be in readiness to handle the biggest business ever done in the ready-to-wear section.

The numbers quoted go to show what great things there are in store for you.

Positively no approvals, no exchanges and no credits on goods sold during this sale—the great reductions make this imperative.

Sale starts Monday—lasts all week.
