U. GETTING READY FOR NEXT MEET

Comes on Saturday With Crack Athletes of Boulder.

TEAMS LEAVE THURSDAY.

Maddock's Men Holding Trial Meets Every Evening Preparing for Track and Field Events.

Coach Maddock's athletes at the State University have before them one of the hardest tasks of the year. It will be a test of strength, speed and skill and they have not long to wait. It comes next Saturday when they will line up against the strong Boulder team at that place in track and field events, and the boys on the hill are working for all they are worth to get into the best possible condition for the big struggle. The annual meet this year promises to eclipse any contest that has taken place between teams representing the two institutions and the hardest kind of a fight is looked for.

As only 10 men from each school will be permitted to participate in the contests, Maddock has his hands full in selecting those who will leave Salt Lake for Boulder next Thursday afternoon. He is putting forth his best efforts to select a team that will be victorious and a spirit of confidence prevails at the U.

This evening and tomorrow evening trial meets will be held and the coach will make his final selections in the case of the practise. Nearly all the athletes at the varsity who have taken part in meets this spring are good in more than one event and one of the strongest teams that has ever left the state is expected to line up against Boulder.

Among those certain to go are the two star sprinters, Brinton and Richardson. Brinton made a great name for himself in the contests with Boulder last year, and is depended upon to turn the trick again Saturday. Richardson will give a good account of himself in the shot put and discus events as well as the 100 sprints. The hurdles and jumps will find Hunt entered while Convill will be in the broad jump, and will be prepared to do things with the hammer. In the low hurdles, Ferguson, who lowered the record last Saturday, will be there and he will also be in the quarter-mile run. Russell will be depended upon for the pole vault and can also do things in the hurdles and high jump. Captain Nelson is another who can do things in the hurdles and high jump. Young, the hammer thrower; Judd, the mile runner; Bailey, Hedges, Kanrick, Alley, Anderson and Laubly are others. With a team composed of such men the U. boys should make a splendid showing but the winning team will certainly know it has been in a fight.

TITLE FOR CASTLETON.

Atlanta Calls Him "Mormon Youth With Four Wives."

Roy Castleton, the Salt Lake southpaw pitcher, who is making good in the Southern league, seems to be quite a favorite way down in Atlanta. The Atlanta Journal has the following to say about him anent the opening game with Birmingham, Ala.:

"Roy Castleton dallied with fate several times during the nine innings of the opening game with Birmingham, but in the last round he bored a hole in their prospects and sticking a hunk of dynamite into it blew them to smithereens, wherever that is.

"It was in the last inning that the Mormon youth who is said to have four wives and another in prospect for early fall, shone out bright and strong. Douglass in that inning started off things by making a single to right. Raub doubled and Douglass went to third. Then it was that the Salt Lake delegate got down to real business."

YALE'S ELEVEN WILL BE FAST AND LIGHT.

Capt. Burch, of the Yale's football team, in speaking of the prospects of the Elis for next season and also of the beauties of the forward pass, says:

"Yale's eleven for next season will be another typical team—light and fast. That is the kind of team that has generally represented Yale, and her success on the gridiron justifies the continuance of that policy. Yale loses several of her best men this year, but will have a fine team again next year, for there is lots of good material to be had from what was her second eleven last fall. These players were mostly freshmen and therefore ineligible last year, but can play this coming season. The hardest task will be to delevop a quarter-back to replace Tad Jones, who was a wonder and whose place will be hard to fill. Yale also loses both the regular ends and tackles, as well as two of the substitute halfbacks.

"In the matter of retaining her old men for next season's team Princeton fares better than any of the big Eastern elevens. The Tigers are to keep almost all their team of last fall. But Yale will present a strong front, as there are good candidates for every position on the eleven. Yale's schedule for next fall will be one game shorter than last season, as the Villanova game has been cut out."

The football rules for next year are practically the same as last season's, the principal change being in the rule with regard to the forward pass. Under the revised rule the only man on the team trying the forward pass who has the right to received the ball in case of a fumble is the man to whom the ball was passed and who fumbled it. The entire opposing eleven has the right to get the ball, so that, if there is a miscue on the play, it is one man against eleven for the recovery of the ball.

"The forward pass is a beautiful play and I like it far better than the dropkicking of goal from the field. Of course, that is a spectacular play and looks mighty pretty when it is successful, but it's largely a matter of chance and luck and doesn't show any particular science or team work. On the other hand, the forward pass is spectacular and also requires the best kind of team work. There is no more scientific play in football. Yale used it to advantage many times last season and will continue to use it."

WAGNER NOW HIGHEST PRICED BALL PLAYER

Now that Hans Wagner has signed with the Pittsburg club under remarkable circumstances, the question who is the highest salaried baseball player in the world is once more under discussion. When the Flying Dutchman announced his retirement last winter and failed to sign up when the playing season approached, President Barney Dreyfuss sent Wagner a blank contract asking him to fill the amount of salary and sign. Wagner returned the contract without his signature. "It is not a matter of salary," he wrote to Dreyfuss. "The Pittsburg club has always treated me right, but I want to retire for a year."

Finally Prest. Harry Pulliam, of the National league, who, as secretary of the old Louisville club, originally signed Wagner for fast company persuaded the great player to join the Pirates. While Wagner was holding out it was stated that the Pittsburg club could afford to pay him $15,000, and that the National league could afford to make the Flying Dutchman's salary $25,000 per annum, owing to his worth as a drawing card.

While the amount of Wagner's salary for this year has not been made public, it is known that it is at least $19,000, and that he received a good sized bonus for signing the contract.

When Napoleon Lajoie signed the contract three years ago that runs out this season, it was reported that it was for $25,000 for the three years. At the time Larry was called the highest priced ball player, although Barney Dreyfuss said, "I would like to bet a few yellow ones that Fred Clarke receives a larger salary than that mentioned in Lajoie's contract, and at that Clarke is not the best paid man in the National league."

Friends of John McGraw claim that the Little Napoleon is the highest salaried player, unless Wagner's new contract calls for more money than McGraw's. After the Giants won the National league pennant in 1905, and then the world's championship, he signed with the New York club for three years. Before that the figures in his contract were said to be somewhere between $8,000 and $10,000 per year.

BASEBALL AT MORGAN.

Business Firms Contribute Money for First Class Team.

This season promises to be a hummer for the local fans, already there has been contributed by the local business firms an amount sufficient to warrant the promoters to go ahead and perfect arrangements for a ball team. Grounds have been rented from Mrs. Clark opposite the depot. They will be ensclosed and cleaned off in good shape. As the writer looks over into the field now he sees the bending form of the Rt. Hon. E. N. Wadsworth, who is busily engaged in pulling up lucern roots for the reception of the bases. Just how long he will last is not known but as I look again he is still at it. His efforts are well directed and he has on his face that determination which is always rewarded by final success. The barber now pulls his coat and takes in his lily white hands a specially prepared instrument, and plys his hand at the task of clearing the grounds. They will succeed. Good for the boys. Lets buckle in and have some fun during the summer.—Summit County News.

NEW BASEBALL CLUB.

Monday night at the city hall a number of baseball fans met and elected a set of officers for the coming season. President, J. H. Gardner; vice president, and Assistant manager, W. S. Evans; manager, W. A. Knight; secretary and treasurer, R. L. Howard.

A number of players have been doing some practising at City Park of late.

The prospects are for a good team this year. Lehi will support the boys and many are now waiting to hear some one call "Play Ball!"—Lehi Banner.

M'COY PICKS STEWART.

Says He Is Coming Champion Heavyweight Fighter.

It has been said more than once, and by those who are students of the game, that a boxer is a poor judge of the merits of another man, but I'm going to risk a prediction. I'm going to name the heavyweight champion of the world—that is, he will be in a year from now. I refer to Jim Stewart, the giant recently brought to the front by Billy Elmer, says Kid McCoy.

I have boxed with Stewart, and he's there. Not all the way as yet, but coming fast. Stewart is still a boy—he will be 21 in June—and has only been boxing a few months.

He is a hitter, and has it in either hand, but particularly a straight right for the body. This blow is a peach. He looks awkward and ungainly in action. There is nothing graceful or finished about his style.

Tonight Stewart will have the hardest test of his short career. From all accounts this man Barry is a skilled fighter and he has had plenty of experience against some of the best men in the country. I honestly expect Stewart to beat him, and if he can't beat him in six rounds he has the head to stand him off.

COACH VENTURE.

London, May 4.—A great crowd gathered in Northumberland avenue this morning to witness Alfred G. Vanderbilt's start on the coach Venture from the Victoria hotel on its first business trip to Brighton. The coach was heartily cheered as it passed down the avenue. Reginald Vanderbilt and Craig W. Wadsworth, second secretary of the embassy in London, were among the passengers.

Brighton, England, May 4.—Mr. Vanderbilt arrived here promptly. A great crowd turned out in Brighton to welcome the American driver. The first part of the journey was in bright sunshine. The stopping places were gaily decorated in honor of the passage of the coach. American flags predominating. The last stake of the journey was through heavmists, and Brighton, when Mr. Vanderbilt arrived, was enveloped in fog.

A Salt Lake City Case

Many More Like it in Salt Lake City.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Salt Lake City. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence.

Mrs. C. M. Dale, living at 459 west Eighth South street, Salt Lake City, Utah, says: "For a year or more I was entirely free from kidney complaint until I began suffering from pains in the small of my back through my loins. When I caught cold or overexerted myself I became very much worse, and was often laid up from three days to a week at a time. My kidneys were also very irregular and gave me much distress and annoyance. I heard so many people praising Doan's Kidney Pills, that I decided to give them a trial, and procured a box at the F. J. Hill's drug store. They helped me from the first, so I continued taking them until I was cured. I am glad to recommend the remedy that cured me."
