

KING AND POWERS HOLD TWO RALLIES

Democratic Orators State Their Views In Whitney and 20th Ward Halls.

A LAST APPEAL FOR VOTES

It Is Centered on Their Party Members Urging Them to Cast Ballots
For Bryan and Knight.

In two rallies, one held at Whitney hall and the other at the Twentieth ward amusement hall, Judge O. W. Powers and Judge William H. King, two of the principal Democratic campaign speakers, last night expressed their views of the campaign progress and problems. Judge Powers opened at Whitney hall, and transferred to the Twentieth ward amusement hall when he had finished, while a like transfer was made by Judge King. State Chairman Sam King and President W. W. Ray of the Bryan club, filled in at each rally place while the principal speakers were moving from one hall to the other.

Judge King's address centered in an appeal to young Church members to stay with their party affiliations. Judge Powers reviewed the campaign's progress with special emphasis upon the Republican activities, and the official orators of the State Chairman Sam A. King made a prediction that in the event of the senator's re-election a protest and contest would result before which the one previously made would become insignificant.

State Chairman King presided at Whitney hall, and transferred to the Twentieth ward amusement hall. Music was interspersed between the speeches by the Bryan-Knight quartet of Provo girls and by the Bryan quartet of Salt Lake.

Judge Powers expressed the opinion that national issues in Utah were inconsequential in the face of local issues, and that he looked with apprehension upon a return of the non-Gentile struggle in Utah, bringing with it distrust and ill feeling. A young man, he said had spoken words in the Twentieth ward amusement hall which never should have been allowed in a political rally, or conference. If uttered, since they were a direct appeal for men to abandon political affiliations.

READS FROM BEOBACHER.
He charged that presidents of "states" had urged the people under the ecclesiastical jurisdiction to vote the Republican county ticket. From the Beobacher he read what he said was a translation of an article entitled "A Last Word of Warning," in which it was advised that the people vote the Republican county ticket, especially, and the whole state ticket, preferably. "The time has come to stand forth stanchly," he urged. "Let the weak-kneed members of the party go over to the Republican party. It is better to have a hundred Democrats than to have 10,000 whose votes are influenced by a church, or any other power."

"The Republican party," he claimed, "is not standing on an appeal to reason, but an appeal to fear. I hold in my hand a copy of the Red Light Republican, an alleged newspaper, which is a disgrace to the newspaper fraternity." It charges that a meeting held at the home of Sam A. King was held, and the Democratic party was sold to the "American" party. The story is an absolute falsehood.

SEEKS PEACE.
"I don't want to see the return of old conditions. I don't want to fight with my neighbor, but the Democratic party stands between us and a religious war. If I did not voice my protest to such methods, I would be recreant to my citizenship. The Democratic party is never accused of making the pulpit a political stage."

The speaker claimed that his party had not been accorded a fair deal. Not only are newspapers and circulars attacking us, he said, but men are sent around to talk the voters and threaten atrocious things of the men in the party. I have been charged, for instance, that Brigham H. Roberts has entered into a conspiracy for the disintegration of the Church. Mr. Roberts needs no defense at my hands. There is no better, braver man truer to his friends in the Church. But we must stand up to these threats.

Such methods have made more "American" votes in the past week than all the "American" workers have secured in six months.

When the Democratic national convention deliberated on inserting a church and state plank in the national platform I was against it and told them that we could work out these problems here at home. Were it not for the Democratic party the political situation would have returned to a "Mormon" and anti-Mormon fight. The state is filling with "Mormons" but with Gentiles, and while the Church now controls, soon it will be in the minority. The only safeguard is for the members to vote according to their consciences.

JUDGE W. H. KING.
Judge William H. King declared he brought assurance to the people of a Democratic victory in the state from an extended tour over it. He regretted that local issues forced national questions into the foreground, and declared that the Republican campaign was one of slander and abuse instead of discussion of national issues, and an attempt to win through dragging into the campaign matters without political bearing, and without any right in a political arena.

The speaker said he was a believer in religion. It tends to elevate us from the sordid things of life, to make us broader and better men. But he does not believe in commingling religion and politics. There is a broad and noble field for religion and a great field for politics. They are separate and apart.

He charged that the Republican leaders of this state have sought to use the Church as a political football, to kick about as they please. He said that the Republican leaders, he said, appealing to the people, are not content with endeavoring to move Democrats over to the Republican party have sought to discredit the leaders of the Church by declaring that they were not in harmony with the Church.

CHURCH AND ANTI-CHURCH.

"But consider with me the speaker said, for a moment what the result would be if we followed the course they want us to. Let us suppose that the Mormon Democrats would all move over into the Republican party and take our stand beneath the Republican party. We then have a church and an anti-church party. There would be no Gentiles left in the Republican party. We might defeat the Gentile party once or twice, but we could not do it for good. For you cannot cause by defeating it. In ten years Utah will have a population of nearly 1,000,000 people. The development of our mining and our farms would bring eastern states a stream of immigration. And those people would be practically all Gentiles. Where would we except them to take their stand with the church party or with the Gentile party? We know they would go with the Gentiles. Little by little the church would be disintegrated. It would not only Salt Lake City, but other cities, not alone Salt Lake county, but several counties until in a few years it would control the state. It is not better that the Mormons and Gentiles live side by side in peace and happiness. The Nazarene teaches that we should love our God with our whole heart and whole soul and that we should love our neighbor as ourselves. Let us carry out that divine injunction."

"Denver," when Senator Dubois of Idaho sought to make the national Democratic platform plank which reflected on the honor of the Mormon people I successfully opposed that plank. He said that it had nothing against the Mormon people as a class, they were industrious and thrifty, but that in politics they did as ecclesiastics dictated. I declared that this was untrue, that the Mormon Democrats were true to their party and would remain true, that no ecclesiastical interference of any sort could deprive them from their party allegiance."

UNIVERSITY MARATHON.

Maddock Wants Athletics to Run to "U" Hill and Back.

Coach Maddock has a new feature in athletics to propose to the athletic council at its next meeting. He thinks that cross country running has not received its deserved attention from the "U" athletes, and hopes his new idea will tend to stimulate the desired interest. The proposed novelty is to be called the Marathon race. It will probably be run from the flag pole in the center of the university campus to the big U on the hill and return. There are to be 50 men in the race and four prizes. The man winning first place wins a U, second, a gold medal; third, a silver medal, and fourth, a bronze medal. Should this proposal take with the athletic council, the entries will begin coming in on a cross country season is near at hand.

SOUVENIR OF HOLDUP.

Salt Lake Victims Receive Unique Reminder of Yellowstone Trips.

Joseph Geoghegan and other Salt Lakers who were in the Yellowstone park holdup of Aug. 24, have received souvenirs of the affair. These souvenirs are booklets containing resolutions adopted by the victims and their names. A Spokane printing firm got them out and they are unique. They contain two pages of printed matter and a picture of a stage-coach and are bound between covers of heavy linen finish paper, tied by "a little yellow ribbon" and inscribed: "Souvenir List of Yellowstone Park Holdup Victims." Down in a corner is the line: "Yellowstone National Park, Aug. 24, 1908."

The holdup, itself, needs no description. It was told and retold in every publication throughout the United States. It was carried out by one man who held up eight coaches, one after another, getting over $2,000 for his work. The robber, or members of his gang, if he had one, have not been apprehended, although the hunt is on yet.

After the holdup the victims met at a hotel and a committee was named to prepare resolutions. These contained among other things, a request upon Secy. James A. Garfield, department of the interior for an investigation of the affair to ascertain whether there had been neglect of duty shown or not in leaving defenseless tourists without protection from bandits. Guns and knives are not permitted within the park so the holdup man, in having weapons, had an argument which could not be met with anything of its kind. Another resolution was an expression of sympathy for H. Gaskin, the student whom the robber forced to hold the bag in which the money and jewelry was collected.

Congress is asked to vote funds to provide for the policing of the park, inasmuch as the military authorities in charge have shown themselves incompetent. The resolutions are signed by Pres. Benjamin Drew and Secy. R. R. Christian, who were selected from among the victims to fill these offices of the "Holdup Victims' association."

President Roosevelt has asked for a copy of the souvenir and it has been sent him.

The Salt Lakers who were victims and the amounts they lost follow:
Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Evans, no loss.
Joseph Geoghegan, Cathleen and Gertrude, $35.
Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson and daughter $57.
Rich, $123.50.
Mrs. J. Rich, $17.
Mr. Geoghegan and others who have received the souvenirs prize them highly and several have written that for little books they represent big cost to some of the recipients.

FIND OLD MAN IN STUPOR.
Peculiar Case Discovered at American House by Patrolman Curvill.

Bishop, without regaining consciousness sufficiently to tell how he became drugged, as Dr. Raley believes he was, died in the emergency hospital at the police station at 2:30 this afternoon.

A man apparently about 40 years of age who gives the name of William Bishop, was found unconscious in a room at the American House on Commercial street about 3:30 this morning by Patrolman Harry Curran.

Whether the case is one of attempted murder or suicide is not known. He was unconscious, his pulse very feeble and the pupils of his eyes contracted, indicating that he had been drugged.

The man was taken to the emergency hospital and Assistant County Physician Raley summoned. The latter worked over the man for hours but was unable to get any satisfactory signs of improvement from the man and shortly before noon when the city was resorted to. A battery from the fire department was brought into use and the unfortunate began to show signs of recovery.

Among the man's effects was a letter addressed to Luke Grosse, and there was also a railroad rule book on the fly leaf of which was written the name of M. A. Harley.

The man is evidently a stranger, as no one has been found who knew him. His left leg had been cut off near the knee, probably in a railroad accident and he had a wooden leg. The police are inclined to believe that he had been employed as a watchman for the railway company.

Shortly after noon the man rallied and was able to tell his name but could not inform the authorities where he lived or what he had been doing. That he had taken morphine or opium was quite evident but he refused to state how he got it. He begged Electrician Sheoley of the fire department, and Drs. Raley and Paul to let him sleep and not turn him electrically into his body. Every time the battery was applied to him he yelled and cursed but the moment the current was turned off he lapsed into unconsciousness again. The man will probably recover.
