LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

MEETINGS in the various Ward meeting houses to-morrow evening, commencing generally at 7 o'clock.

THERE 's a letter at this office for Mr. Henry Dryden.

THE ELDERS' QUORUM will meet in the west wing of the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms at 7 o'clock this evening.

MESSRS. at the W. U. Telegraph Office for Samuel Phillips, N. Garnes, —— Richardson, E. J. Butler, J. W. Drew, S. J. Eberts and P. E. Connor.

THIRTEENTH WARD ASSEMBLY ROOMS.—Elder Joseph F. Smith will preach in the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms to-morrow evening. Services commence at 7 o'clock.

THEATRE.—Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Bates appeared in "Caste" and "The Married Rake." The lady labored under the disadvantage of a cold, but nevertheless enacted her roles of "Polly Eccles" and "Mrs. Trictrac" and "Cornet Fitzherbert" with much vigor and vivacity. Mr. Bates was a most successful "Old Eccles," but in the character of "Mr. Frederick Flighty" he was still more successful, developing admirable ability for high comedy. We think he made this latter the character of the evening. Miss Adams, Mrs. A. Clawson, Mr. Margetts, and Mr. Marden also acted with their accustomed excellence.

This evening, the last of the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Bates, will be presented the ever popular play of "Camille," Mrs. Bates in the title role, said to be one of her best impersonations. Mr. Bates as "Armand Duval." Miss Adams, Mrs. A. Clawson, and Messrs. Thorne, Graham, and Marden will also appear.

The performance will conclude with the farce of "The Trials of Tompkins."

THE SITUATION TO UTAH.—The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States that a jury summoned by the United States Marshal to try an offense against the laws of the Territory of Utah is an illegal one, must be considered by all right-minded people, as being made in the cause of right and justice. This principle has been so well established in the courts of this Territory, for a number of years, that the question has never been raised in our district courts. Aside from all connection with Mormonism, with which the Supreme Court had nothing to do, the Gentiles will admit that the Court could not have decided otherwise, and they will yet have occasion to be thankful that the highest judicial authority in the land directed illegal indictments to be quashed, rather than that a wrong, (and what might be considered an oppressive and persecuting act), should be countenanced by that tribunal.—Cheyenne Leader.

MAY-DAY EXCURSION.—At a meeting of the teachers in the University Building, this morning, in pursuance of the call of the County Superintendent, published in yesterday's News, arrangements were entered into for a May-Day excursion to South Cottonwood, in which all the Schools of the County were respectfully invited to participate.

The programme of the exercises was arranged and the necessary committees appointed. The unanimously expressed wish of the teachers was that the exercises should be principally physical conducted by teachers appointed for the purpose. A band of music will be in attendance.

The Schools south of the city are all expected to be present, going in their own conveyances respectively.

At the meeting held this morning, Karl G. Maeser was appointed Marshal of the day. Each teacher was appointed Marshal of his or her school.

The Superintendent requested the teachers to take the names of each pupil who intended going and be able to report the number to him on Monday night and receive their money (probably 25 cents each) on Tuesday.

If the weather be unpropitious on Wednesday the excursion will be postponed till Friday.

The Superintendent expects that the Trustees of each school district will see that no pupil is debarred the privilege of participating through lack of means to pay the railway fare.

A PARADISE.—For peaceful prosperity, for quiet, homelike comfort, for lack of ruffianly element, and for the practice by its inhabitants of the widest and most far-reaching description of true Christian love, Salt Lake City undoubtedly holds a place more exalted than does any other municipality in the whole broad land.—Philadelphia Press.

ENTIRELY IMAGINARY.—The following dispatch, in the Sacramento Reporter, is not of the bowling order:

"SALT LAKE CITY, April 24.—The local transmit reported by the agent of the associated press is entirely imaginary."

RETURNED.—Elders Henry G. Boyle and Thomas E. Daniels, who left some fourteen or fifteen months ago on a mission to the Southern States, reached this city this morning with a company of twenty-five Saints, from Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina. During their absence these brethren have labored in Bedford and Franklin counties, Virginia, and in Tennessee. In the former they received a rough reception and barely escaped mobbing; but they faced the music like true servants of God, preached the gospel faithfully, overcame the influence of those who sought to injure them, and succeeded in baptizing into the Church between twenty and thirty persons, and when they left had the good feelings of said numerous friends among the people. In Tennessee they were received kindly, had little or no persecution, slander or calumny to contend with. The ministers of the Methodist, Campbellite and Presbyterian churches willingly allowed them their pulpits to preach in, and their labors were successful, for they baptized several. Last Spring they sent a company of twenty-eight from the same locality. They had a good mission, took great pleasure in their labors, started for home from Lynchburg, Va., on the 16th inst, had a very pleasant journey, were kindly treated by the railway officials, and rejoice exceedingly to be again with their friends in Zion.

BEE MEETING.—Very interesting short lectures were delivered at the bee meeting this morning at the 14th Ward Assembly rooms, by Messrs. Morgan, Bailey, and Moses Thurston, upon various subjects relative to the culture of bees and artificial swarming, the manner of extracting honey, surplus honey boxes, etc.

The meeting unanimously decided against the use of the Merkley Hive and countenanced the adoption of the Kidder Hive in preference to any other hive yet known, as the handiest and the best adapted for general use.

The President extended, through the ladies and gentlemen present, a general invitation to the monthly meetings.

He stated that short lectures would be delivered at the next meeting by practical apiarians upon the general management of Bees.

Adjourned until the last Saturday in May at half past 10 o'clock a.m., at the 14th Ward Schoolroom.

LESS VANITY AND TEMPER AND MORE DISCRETION NEEDED.—Mr. Clagett has taken up the cudgels in the House for some speculating parties in Utah, and in advocating the granting of a charter and right of way to the Salt Lake and Colorado Railroad Company, which is a scheme in opposition to the Utah Southern road—made a fierce onslaught on the Mormons, and had an angry altercation with Delegate Hooper. While it is, no doubt, gratifying to Mr. C., to be called on by the opposition party in Utah to represent them, we doubt if on the whole he will advance the interests of his constituents by invading the jurisdiction of another Delegate. At this juncture, when important interests of his constituents depend upon unity of action and harmony between the Delegates from Utah, Idaho and Montana, it is unfortunate that such an episode should have occurred. If it should endanger the projects with which he is charged, his constituents will have reason to regret that he has not less vanity and less temper, and a little more discretion. It is of no particular importance to this Territory whether Brigham Young or some other parties shall build the road from Salt Lake City south ward, but it is of great interest that some amicable understanding and harmonious action among the Delegates interested should forward a railroad to Montana. A Delegate has generally enough to do to fight the battles of his own constituents, without signalizing himself in the contests of outsiders. Such a course may give him glory, but will scarcely profit his people. There are Senators and Congressmen enough to take care of such affairs. Delegates represent local interests.—Helena Gazette.

ANXIOUS.—We learn from a gentleman in from Kaysville this morning that considerable anxiety is felt by the citizens of that place for the safety of Bishop Layton and a party who started on Monday last for a point across the north end of Salt Lake, known as the Promontory, expecting to return on Tuesday, and have not been heard from since. Bishop Layton having purchased the small steam tug, Kate Connor, for the purpose of bringing cedar posts for fencing, to Kaysville, had one load brought and started himself with a company of six or seven persons on the second trip, as stated, on Monday last. Hopes are entertained that business has detained the party, and that no accident has befallen them on the treacherous waters of the lake.

OVERFLOWING.—As the snow melts in the mountains the streams swell and many of them overflow. Before the spring floods have fully set in, it would be a good thing to have the watercourses throughout the city in a good condition. Already the increasing streams are overflowing footpaths and streets in places, making pedestrianism unpleasant, especially for ladies. A few minutes' labor with pick and shovel would remedy and prevent such unpleasantnesses.

THE DEAD-LOCK IN MORMONDOM.

Washington, April 18.—The Senate Committee on Territories discussed the situation in Utah this morning, and decided to perfect and report a bill on Monday which will relieve the present dead-lock in the Territorial courts and allow business to proceed. It is understood that they do not contemplate any decisive legislation similar to the Voorhees bill now before the House Judiciary Committee, but simply a measure which will put the courts in operation and allow them to go on as usual. The Utah delegation in this city, which is now quite numerous, represent that the reports of violence and ill treatment of Gentiles by the Mormons of Salt Lake City, in consequence of the decision of the Supreme Court and the overthrow of McKean, are greatly exaggerated, if not entirely untrue.—Philadelphia Press.
