SOLD AT AUCTION.

Block of Utah National Bank Stock Goes Under Hammer.

A New York dispatch states that 300 shares of the Utah National bank of this city were sold at auction yesterday, along with shares of several New York banks. The affair is characterized as mysterious, and the theory is advanced that F. Augustus Heinze or one of his former co-workers was selling out stock that could not longer be carried, or that the stock offered was the collateral for a matured loan which had not been met. This was neither affirmed nor denied by those who conducted the sale. Mr. Heinze until October was president of the Mercantile bank and a director of the Utah institution.

The Utah bank shares sold for $63. Mr. McCornick stated last evening that he had not been notified of the sale of the stock. of this city were sold at auction yes-

DeGraw, fourth assistant postmaster general, at Washington, D. C. The letter is in the form of a circular to postmasters, and reads as follows:

"In view of the numerous complaints which have reached the department of delay in the delivery of mail, and hardship imposed upon rural carriers while serving their routes, due to the practise of some patrons placing loose coins in their boxes for the purchase of stamps each time they desire to dispatch letters, you and the rural carriers under your supervision are directed to call the matter to the attention of patrons and in a proper and polite magner urge that they provide themselves in advance with as liberal a supply of postage as circumstances will permit, and also suggest that patrons place in their boxes a small detachable cup of wood or tin in which to place coins when necessary in purchasing a supply of stamps."

NATIONAL GUARD TO LEARN OF WAR

Utah to Send Her Entire Force of Men to Crow Creek Reserve.

FOR OUTING WITH REGULARS.

To Join in Military Maneuvers With Militia of Three States.

Dates Set for Mobilization Are from August 1 to 15-Official Orders Will Issue Shortly.

With the efficiency of the National Guard at the highest point in its entire history, Utah's citizen soldiery is to have this season an outing on a larger scale than ever before attempted.

The growing friendliness between guardsmen and regular troops, and the increased watchfulness of the general government over militia commands, has resulted this year in arrangements for camp being made much more early than usual.

Utah will send her entire guard on a long journey to the Crow Creek Forest reserve, there to join in military maneuvers with the citizen soldiery of Wyoming, Idaho and Colorado, and with two regiments and one battalion of United States infantry, two field batteries, one company of engineers, all participating in what is known as a provisional division encampment. a provisional division encampment, DATES FOR MANEUVERS.

While the official orders are not yet published, it is known from authoritative sources that the dates for the joint maneuvers for the National Guard are from Aug. 1 to 15, and the fact that the war department has already issued the orders designating the nature of the war department has already issued the orders designating the nature of the work, allows Utah's guardsmen to get into form prior to leaving for the encampment neampment.

encampment.
This is the second excursion of state troops out of the state. The first one however was not successful entirely because transportation facilities were poorly arranged, the food was not suited to men unaccustomed to field rations, and long delays in getting meals while aboard the train resulted in sickness. The orders for that encampment too, were received only a an sickness. The orders for that en-campment too, were received only a few weeks before the line of march was taken up to the point of entrain-ing, so that no preliminary practise was possible.

NO RECRUITS NEEDED.

Utah's National Guard this year will not have to be recruited to make an eleventh hour showing. The companies eleventh hour showing. The companies number straight down the alphabet without exception from A to H, with each ready now to prepare for the encampment. In addition to the seven companies of infantry the First battery, the sinal corps, the hospital corps, and the band, will go to camp. The totals force now numbers 500 men. hospital The totals force now numbers 500 men, the features which worked to the guard's undoing several years ago are totally absent.

OFFICERS INTERESTED.

The officers, upon whom the respon-The officers, upon whom the responsibility of getting the guard in form will rest, are Adjt.-Gen. Wedgwood, head of the staff; Col. Plummer, active head of the line; Majs. Williams and Kammerman, First infantry; Capt. Pexton. Company A, at Nephi; Capt. A. W. Johnson, Company B, at Ogden; Capt. Henry Eakle, Company C, at Salt Lake; Capt. L. P. Nelson, Company D. at Mt. Pleasant; Capt. Lafayette Morrison, Company E, at Richfield; Capt. G. W. Sidwell. Company F. at Capt. G. W. Sidwell, Company F, at Manti; Capt. E. P. Bassett, Company H, Sait Lake; Capt. William C. Webb, First battery; Capt. E. Le Roy Bourne, signal corps; Capt. William D. Tyn-dale, hospital corps; Lieut. C. A. Arns, band.

ASSEMBLE IN SALT LAKE.

The Utah troops will probably be assembled in Salt Lake, except those from Ogden, and will leave on a military special for the camp grounds in order to arrive there at the date required by the orders. Col. Plummer, in order to prevent confusion in the handling of quartermaster supplies and commissaries will probably name the men to take charge of these departments this month, so that they may quired by the orders. STORY OF UNIQUE CLUB

Gamblers Naively Testify in Judge Diehl's Court Regarding Collection of Dues.

Arguments in the case of the city vs. Pat Lynch, Pat Hogan, E. A. Gooch and S. Monroe, charged with gambling, in the so-called Argonaut Gooch and S. Monroe, charged with gambling, in the so-called Argonaut "club," were concluded yesterday afternoon and Judge Diehl promptly found the men guilty as charged.

In all probability some of the men would have escaped conviction had they not taken the stand to testify in their own behalf. In doing this they made a blunder. All the witnesses said they belonged to a club and it was most amusing to hear the story they told. Hogan said he had been in Salt Lake about a month and since that time had been a member of the "club." Asked the purpose of the club he said that it was just a place to go so they wouldn't have to hang about the street corners. He declared the game being played on the night of the arrest was domino whist, but was unable to explain how the game was not draw poker.

Asst. City Atty, Rogers took the man in hand and asked questions that Hogan could not or would not directly answer, and soon had the gambler "up in the air."

"When dld you join the club?" he was asked.

"Oh, about a month ago."

"When did you join the club?" he was asked.
"Oh, about a month ago."
"How did you join?"
"Oh, I just went in there with a friend of mine."

"Is there any initiation fee?"
"Oh, I don't know. I guess there

"Are there any dues?"

"What are the dues?"
"Oh, when the club needs money, they call on us for a dollar."
"Who do you mean by 'they'?"
"Oh, any of the boys."
All the witnesses answered practically the same. None could explain how domino whist was played, but all were sure that it was a game never to be played for money. Judge Diehl was convinced of the defendants' guilt and so found.
