Running Fountains Substituted For Drinking Cups—Movement Against Truancy.

TO STOP RECKLESS DRIVING

Moral Wave in Ogden—Stolen Clocks Recovered—No Improvement in Otis's Mental Condition.

Ogden, Nov. 6.—Drinking cups have been abolished in the Ogden public schools. This action has been taken following an order issued by Supt. Allison about four weeks ago and as a result of the same there has not been one case of contagious disease in the school since.

Drinking cups have been supplanted by means of a continuous flow of water from fountains which have been established. This has been done to secure a perfect system of sanitation in the schools of Ogden.

AFTER TRUANTS.

Probation Officer Jacobs has started a campaign against the small boys who are not attending school. Thus far only a few boys have been taken before the juvenile judge and they have been allowed to go pending their promise to attend school without playing truant. A fine of $10 is being made by the board of education and the juvenile court officers to keep the small boys off the street and place them in school.

MOVE AGAINST RECKLESS DRIVING.

V. C. Gunnell, judge of the juvenile court, has sent a strong letter to Chief of Police Browning calling upon him to do his duty in regard to enforcing the ordinance relating to reckless driving and exceeding the speed law. The letter calls attention to the number of narrow escapes that the people of the city are subjected to daily through the careless manner in which boys drive delivery wagons down the main streets of the city and cross the street intersections. The continual violation of the automobile speed law is also called to the attention of the police department.

This action of the juvenile court is in accord with what this paper has advocated in this department for many weeks. Several times has the "News" called the attention of the police department to the continuing reckless driving which one sees on the streets of Ogden daily. The police department has also had its attention called to the ordinance relating to leaving horses on the street without tying them or having any weight straps to fasten to the bridle.

SEVENTIES NOTICE.

of Vanilla obtains its rare excellence from the Mexican Vanilla Bean.

quorum of seventy are requested to attend the meeting next Sunday at the Western academy at 10 o'clock Sunday. B. H. Roberts of the first council will be present.

STOLEN CLOCKS RECOVERED.

City Detective Pender has succeeded in locating six clocks that were stolen from a freight car in the Rio Grande freight yards early Thursday morning. The stolen property got into the hands of an employee who told of getting them from a tramp. As soon as he got possession of the clocks the man distributed them among his friends in various parts of the city. While he will not be prosecuted for having the stolen property in his possession rumor has it that he will lose his position.

MORAL WAVE IN OGDEN.

Following the orders of the city council for the police committee to cause a complete investigation in regard to the condition in Ogden's red light district, many of the dives have been closed for a few days.

The public sentiment is growing stronger each day against the immoral conditions in the city. It is on account of this that the council has at last taken some action in the matter. The police department will probably be called upon at a future meeting, to make some report upon certain other conditions in the city, such as the continued violation of the liquor ordinance by certain saloons of the city.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN OTIS.

J. Lynn Otis, the young man who has been in the custody of the sheriff for the past week suffering from dementia, fails to improve and the authorities are of the opinion that he will have to be committed to the state mental hospital at Provo. A number of days ago while in the office of the sheriff, being attended by the county physician, Otis made an attempt to escape. Seeing the outside door open, Otis made a dash and out the door, closely pursued by two deputy sheriffs, who caught the man but did not overpower him until they had had a fierce struggle. Whenever the opportunity presents itself, Otis attempts to escape. He does not hesitate to assault the guards in an attempt to escape and vigilance is necessary even when he is being served with his meals.

Japs Celebrate—While the people of Ogden were celebrating election Tuesday evening, the members of the Japanese colony celebrated their emperor's birthday in a fitting manner. After addresses and other forms of entertainment were held at their hall they adjourned to a public square where they set off some brilliant fireworks.

Paying Election Bets—During the past three days the populace of Ogden has been treated to a number of amusing sights in the way of the payment of election bets. It has been no uncommon sight to see men walking about the streets pushing wheelbarrows or drawing little wagons and carts in which were riding some friend. All the bets were the result of the national election and in most cases the carts, harrows or conveyances used bore a sign asking which bet on Bryan.

PROVO. EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION

State Boards of Nebo, Wasatch, Utah, Alpine and Juab Meet at B. Y. U.

Special Correspondence.
 Provo, Utah, Nov. 5.—A convention of the state boards of education of Nebo, Wasatch, Utah, Alpine, and Juab stakes, was held Nov. 4 and 5 at Brigham Young University. These five stakes, instead of supporting state academies of their own, have combined in recognizing the Provo institution as their official church school.

The meeting was especially for the purpose of promoting a more extensive patronage of the mid-winter semester courses which are carried by the institution for the benefit of young people, who because of pressing farm work, cannot begin their studies at the opening of the school year. University extension courses in theology, to be given in the principal towns adjoining Provo, were also arranged for, the experiments in this direction last year having been very successful.

Concerted action was also arranged for in the matter of calling young men to enter the missionary class, and thus prepare for preaching the gospel. The matter of providing a larger attendance in the Provo hospital was also discussed. It was pointed out that by taking one year's work in theoretical nursing here and then spending two years at the Groves' L. D. S. hospital to get the practical side, young women would receive diplomas as professional nurses, and be able to command better wages than those now given to lady teachers. No action was taken in regard to this matter, but all saw the need of emphasizing this aspect of education.

A full representation of the five state boards was present. The members first met with the principal of the one hour in lieu of the regular theological classes, then spent some time inspecting the work of the school. After the official meeting, they were tendered a banquet at the Domestic Science department, which won from them a very warm commendation. The move for definite and concerted action in extending the usefulness of the school, was recognized as being so vital to the spiritual growth of the respective stakes, that these conventions are likely to be of more frequent occurrence in the future, than they have been in the past.
