NEWS OF THE WEST.

What the Bicyclists Say of Their Treatment in Salt Lake.

PUMPS 45,000 GALLONS A MINUTE.

Steamship Captain With a Record—Promoting the Growth of Flax—Drouth in Oregon.

Whitelaw Reid has engaged a furnished house at [illegible], Arizona, where he intends passing the winter with his family.

Castle Creek, about the vicinity of Hot Springs, Arizona, is reported to have changed in topography, the work of the late flood.

The governor of Wyoming has been asked if he will permit the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in his state, and has replied in the negative.

D. A. W. Thornton, special agent of the department of agriculture for the promotion of the growth of flax, proposes visiting the hop fields of Puget sound. His purpose is to induce a change from the cultivation of hops to that of flax.

The past season has been the dryest yet recorded by the United States weather bureau at Portland, Oregon. Up to date the rainfall is 14.49 inches below the normal. The average rainfall for the month of October is 1.96 inches, but this year there has been none.

The farmers in the northeastern part of Whatcom county, Washington, have formed a stockmen's protective association. They believe there is an organized band of thieves operating in conjunction with butchers at a distance, and they intend to try to put an end to the thievery by drastic measures.

A Pasadena, Cal., water company is putting in an immense pump. The lifting rod is 6.0 inches, and the cylinder is 3 feet, 11 inches in diameter. The pump will lift 1,500 pounds of water at every stroke, and will make thirty strokes per minute, consequently the supply every ten hours will be over 120,000 gallons.

The city council of Tacoma, Wash., on Wednesday evening removed City Treasurer McCauley from office because of his failure to furnish an additional bond for $100,000, which the council asked for ten days ago, after the bank failures. Frederick [illegible] was elected to serve out the unexpired term. McCauley was required to furnish the additional bond because he placed the city's money in weak banks against the protest of the city commission.

The news comes from Walden, North Park, Wyoming, that J. S. Case, a highly respected citizen of La Porte, who has been teaching school at Walden, has tried to take his own life by cutting his throat while laboring under temporary derangement of mind. The attempt was made on Sunday, October 27, at M. J. Capron's residence, Walden. The efforts of the demented man were frustrated, however, by the timely interference of Mr. and Mrs. Capron. It is thought that Mr. Case will recover.

Captain J. M. Cavarly, for many years senior captain in the Pacific Mail Steamship company's service, and in the company's employ for forty-one years, died at San Francisco on Tuesday. He had the remarkable record of never having a vessel commanded by him in an accident while he was on the bridge. He has commanded the following named steamers: Oregon, California, Constitution, Colorado, Sonora, Sacramento, Montana, Arizona, Great Republic, Golden Age, China, San Juan, San Blas, Granada, City of Pekin, City of Rio de Janeiro, City of Sydney, City of New York, Colima, Colon, Acapulco, Granada.

E. C. Bald, who was here a few days ago at the Wheelman's meet, is quoted as follows in San Francisco: "The people in the East don't know what hospitality means when compared with the West. There is as much difference between them as between day and night. Our fun commenced at Denver; at Pueblo it continued, and at Salt Lake it was one continual round of pleasure from the time we arrived until our departure. The Salt Lake Wheelmen had nothing to do with the meet, and we attach no blame to them for the fizzle of the second day. At Ogden we received the only bad treatment on the whole trip, being compelled to pay admission to a dance in order to obtain our prizes. We have all been laying plans for the good times we would have when California was reached, and I can assure you we are only too happy to be here."

An Impossible Sacrifice.

A Hungarian paper says that Francis Deak, the Hungarian statesman, used to get rid of troublesome visitors by telling them the following story: "Once, when in Paris, Napoleon and I paid a visit to a hospital for old soldiers. Here he perceived among the rest a man who had lost one of his arms, and he entered into conversation with him. 'Where did you lose your arm?' asked the emperor. 'At Austerlitz, your majesty.' 'Then no doubt you curse the emperor and your country every time you look at your mutilated limb?' 'No indeed,' protested the veteran, 'for the emperor and my native land I would readily sacrifice my other arm if needs be.' 'I can hardly believe that,' the emperor remarked and passed on. But the soldier, anxious to prove that he was in earnest, immediately drew a saber from its sheath and lopped off his other arm."

Here Deak would pause and fix a penetrating look on his visitor. "Well, what have you to say of such a man and such an action?" "A most sublime act of self sacrifice! A truly noble character!" This was the style of reply invariably given. "But the story has one flaw," he would gravely add. "What is that, pray?" "It is simply impracticable. How could a one armed man contrive to cut off his only remaining arm?"

The chronic [illegible] still lives, but there are less cases of chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia than formerly. The fact is so many people have taken Simmons Liver Regulator that they are now cured of these ills. And a great multitude are now taking Simmons Liver Regulator for these ills, and they'll soon be cured. "I is the best medicine." — Mrs. E. Bain, Baltimore, Md.
