

GOULD GETS LOS ANGELES IN LINE

Secures Entrance to City of Angels and Harbor Rights.

"INDEPENDENT" VENTURES.

But That Harriman's Rival Is Preparing for Future Is Evident in Every Move.

Some time ago the "News" printed a story about the organization of railroad and harbor companies, which was believed to have been a Gould move to secure an entrance into Los Angeles. Further details are furnished by the Los Angeles Times. This problem of how Gould's Western Pacific Railroad will have an entrance to Los Angeles has apparently been solved by the organization of the Los Angeles Harbor Railroad company.

At the same time was filed the articles of incorporation of the Los Angeles Harbor company, which aims to develop the West Basin at Wilmington.

While each company is independent of the other, both have the same directors, and will co-operate. Each company is capitalized at $2,500,000, with $250,000 subscribed. The Harbor company will have $500,000 in preferred stock, and provision is made for a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000, while the Harbor Railroad company has a provision for $2,000,000 bonded indebtedness.

A. C. Bird, formerly traffic manager of the Gould lines in the east, but now a resident of Compton, has been elected president of both the new companies. Mr. Bird was also at one time vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. He is the leading spirit in the new enterprises, which may mean much to Los Angeles.

W. J. Winthrope is secretary of both companies, and J. W. Oakley is treasurer. The other directors are Jacob Baruch, N. W. Myrick, Lee C. Gates, Fielding J. Sullivan, A. P. Maginnis, and H. C. Oakley of Los Angeles; F. S. Carr, Wilmington, and W. J. Arkell, New York.

TO SAN PEDRO.

In the articles of incorporation it is stated that the purposes of the railroad company are to "build, buy, lease, own and operate railroads and railways to be operated by electricity, steam or other motive power, over, on and along the following route, and from and to the following places, and over and along the following branches: "From a point to be hereafter selected in the city of Los Angeles to the city of San Pedro. That the estimated length of said railroad is 25 miles."

GET WATER RIGHTS.

The papers also provided for the ownership and operation of steamships and other vessels for freight and passenger traffic, and for the building and operation of telegraph and telephone lines. An express business is also expressly provided for.

In addition to these extended powers the companies will "own and acquire under the laws of eminent domain" docks, wharves, yards, machine shops, etc. This will mean the employment of a great number of men, including skilled mechanics.

IT'S INDEPENDENT

It has been stated by members of the directorate and by Allen and Vandyske, of the firm of Lawler, Allen, Vandyske & Jutten, who, with Lloyd W. Montrose, are attorneys for the promoters, that the proposed new line connecting this city with its harbor will be built with independent capital, and that so far as any other corporation is concerned, each company is absolutely independent.

This capital, it is asserted, has been secured, and as soon as some further necessary preliminaries are completed work will be commenced on the railroad and the harbor.

ESPEE BARRED.

Apparently the Southern Pacific is barred. Secy. Winthrope says: "By the formation of this company we are enabled to hold open for other roads a right of way to the sea from Los Angeles. If Gould's Western Pacific desires to enter the city by our tracks it will be given the privilege. So will the Santa Fe, or any other line. I do not think there will be any hitch."

"This development of the West Basin and the building of this line will mean the development of Wilmington; a development which could never have obtained under the original Flint resolution in Congress. For if the Southern Pacific gets possession of San Pedro harbor it will kill Wilmington and deal it a blow it will take more than 20 years for it to recover from."

When the Panama canal is completed, the ships of all companies and nations using the canal on their way to the north, to Hawaii and to the Orient, will pass within 70 miles of Los Angeles and this port will become a half-way station. We are

WESTERN PACIFIC "POSSIBLE."

"It is possible that the Western Pacific will enter Los Angeles by our tracks, but at the same time any other road which desires to use them for this purpose will have the right. It is true that there may be some connection with the Gould lines in so far as the use of our tracks for this purpose is concerned, but it should be understood that this company is absolutely independent of the Western Pacific or of any other railroad or corporation."

SHEPHERD WILL CONDUCT.

To Lead Chicago Orchestra in the Rendition of His Own Composition.

The announcement made last week that the Chicago Symphony orchestra would play Shepherd's composition created great satisfaction among Salt Lakeers, and now comes an additional announcement from Chicago that Conductor Rosenbeker desires Mr. Shepherd to conduct the orchestra in his (Shepherd's) composition. The music in question is "Marche Pittoresque and Scene Orientale from Orchestral Suite, Op. No. 1." Mr. Shepherd has advised Manager Graham that all the parts are in readiness for the occasion, and it is just possible that Mr. Shepherd will meet the orchestra at Provo to go over the work with them.

This feature of the festival, together with the playing of the great Guilmant Organ Symphony by Mr. McClelland, assisted by the entire orchestra, lends a local color to the event which ought to create no small amount of enthusiasm over the big spring festival.

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Packed House Grets Performance at Theater for Benefit of St. Ann's Orphanage.

The packed house in evidence last night at the Salt Lake theater speaks well for the cause of the St. Ann's Orphanage, for whose benefit the entertainment was given. It went by the name of a "Night of Irish Melody" and was under the direction of Miss Nora Gleason and Miss Margaret Mulvey. Some of the work, notably Bernardino Kimball in "Sweet Kitty O'Neill" and Loretta Boehler in "Creek Monsieur," with chorus, would have put many professional vaudeville acts to their rout. The highland fling by Little Mac, a guerite Taylor was as carefully and gracefully executed as any grown person could have done it.

Little Thelma and George Cronin were a joy to the audience in the duet "Stingy," and the little boy's solo, "I Don't Like Your Family." The house, indeed, was loth to part with them, and might have kept them on the center of the stage indefinitely, save for the faint limitations of the tiny performers. Other numbers rendered by the tots of the cast were: "The Baby," Theresa Veltz; "Irish Jig," Ethel and Boyd O'Donnell; "Song," "Charlie" Williams; "Cross My Heart," "Charlie" Williams; "My Dolly," Bessie Johnson; "I'm a Brownie," Anna Aures; "Song," Irene Goody.

One of the "big" features not billed on the printed program was a small boy gotten up in Brownie style with limbs hardly developed enough to be distinguished in his long trousers and coat, and who, without prompting, did an involuntary "long fisherman" part, all by himself, staying well in the center of the stage after the others were off in the wings, evidently too absorbed in the fascination of the number and drum in the orchestra to mind his surroundings till dragged off by solicitous little ones evidently overwhelmed with embarrassment at his break.

The costumes were all appropriately planned, and the entire affair a most decided credit to Miss Gleason and her assistant. That it netted a handsome sum for the orphanage, cannot be doubted.

disapproval thereon. I know of no law authorizing the board of county commissioners to create what is known as a contingent fund for the sheriff of the county, and setting apart a special sum of money to be used by the sheriff at his pleasure. The sheriff must present his claims against the county with proper vouchers, after they have been accrued, to the auditor, for his investigation and action.

"If the boards of county commissioners had the power to create a contingent fund without limit, and place it at the disposal of the sheriff or any other officer, it might sooner or later result in great loss to the county. At least it would be a mighty risky experiment."

The other case was a dispute between Utah and the Bingham West Dip tunnel. The state selected certain lands upon university rulings, while the mining company chose the ground as mineral bearing. At the hearing the state presented no evidence, so the mining concern was given the ground.

Auto Speedway to Saltair Seems to Be Assured—Proposition of Manager of the Resort.

Last night's automobile speedway meeting in the Chamber of Commerce was well attended, and the interest manifested was such as to ensure the successful carrying out of the scheme to build such a speedway between this city and Saltair. Judge E. F. Colborn presided, and the meeting was conducted under the auspices of the Real Estate association. Manager Langford of the Saltair company offered right of way along the north side of the railroad track for the entire distance, and offered to haul all the material and men used in construction of the speedway, free of charge, to maintain and repair the same for five years and police it. The meeting decided to incorporate a company with $50,000 capital stock in 500 shares at $100 each, 400 of which shares are to be sold to owners or prospective owners of automobiles, the remaining 100 shares to be held in the treasury for future use. The drive will be made from shale gathered on the shores of the lake, and to be well oiled with petroleum which will keep down the dust. Stalls for the autos will be built at the resort, and the roadway will be open to stockholders, also, to other owners of cars who will be required to pay toll. No other vehicles will be allowed on the speedway, and no limit will be placed on the speed of cars. J. R. Walker and Jacob Moritz were appointed a committee to start the subscription books, and another meeting will be called when a majority of the stock has been subscribed. So the scheme looks like a "go."

GIVEN UP TO DIE
B. Spiegel, 124 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured. Why not let it help you? F. J. AS TO CONTINGENT FUNDS.
Attorney General Breeden Submits Opinion on Query from Weber.

Attorney General Breeden gave out the following opinion last evening, on the action of the Weber county commissioners in the matter of contingent funds, in reply to a query from County Attorney N. J. Harris of Ogden:

"I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 23rd inst., enclosing Sheriff Weber's claim against the county of Weber for the sum of $200, and asking my opinion as to whether or not this is a legal claim. It appears that the claim is based on an order made by the board of county commissioners, directing that the said sum be paid to said Sheriff as a contingent fund for the incidental expenses of said sheriff in the performance of his duties and that said sum is to be returned to the county treasurer at the expiration of the term of office of said sheriff.

The powers and duties of the board of county commissioners are limited by statute and subdivision 7 of section 511, Revised Statutes, as amended by section 7, chapter 122, session laws of 1903, reads as follows: "Referring to the powers of boards of county commissioners—'To settle and allow all accounts legally chargeable against the county after the examination of the same by the auditor, and order warrants to be drawn on the county treasurer therefor.'"

It will be observed that this section only authorizes the board of county commissioners to allow and pay all legal claims against the county after such claims have first been submitted to and examined by the said auditor as to their correctness and legality; in other words, the county commissioners have no authority to allow claims and order their payment until the same have been submitted to the auditor with proper vouchers and investigated and examined into, and reported with his findings to the board of county commissioners—with his approval or

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 23.—Light receipts of cattle and a good demand last week resulted in an advance of 40 to 75 cents on steers, and 25 to 40 cents on other grades, including stockers and feeders. The good prices proved attractive to shippers, and also spurred speculators into unusual activity, with the result that the supply today is 11,000 head. The market has stood the test today in fine shape, indicating the urgency of the demand upon packers, who protest that the meat market is not in shape to justify such rapid advance in prices as have been made recently. Sales today are strong to 10 higher than the close of last week, and the equal of today's market is only found back beyond the beginning of the panic days of 1907. The Lockhart steers, which have been furnishing a line on the market lately, sold today at $6.40, $6.50 and $6.60, as compared with $5.25 for the first shipment four weeks ago, 60 to 80 cents above a week ago. Other Colorado red steers have sold as high as these lately, and steers fed in the panhandle country have also reached $6 or better in the last week, while branded westerners sold at the top price today, $6.67 1/2. Salesmen hold the whip hand now, but buyers may be depended on to arrive for some big breaks should the opportunity offer. Cows bring $3.50 to $4.50, heifers $3.00 to $4.00, $3.50 to $4.00, calves, $1.50 to $2.00; stockers, $4 to $5.25; feeders $4.75 to $5.50. Sheep and lambs have participated in the advance made by the other kinds of live stock lately, putting on 40 to 60 cents in the last week. Run today is 8,000 head, market strong to 10 higher, lambs at $7.00 to $7.75; yearlings, $6.75 to $7.10; wethers, $4 to $4.60; ewes, $5.80 to $6.25. Those prices are for woolled stock, and an allowance of 50 to 75 cents per hundred weight must be made for clipped stock, which has not moved very freely yet, but will soon predominate.
