

MARY TAYLOR MAY LEAVE THIS TOWN

Police Rejoice With Prospect of Losing Sight of Colored Thief.

MAY DEPORT GEORGE BIND

Chinaman Appears Added as to His Head and Federal Officers Will Investigate.

There is much genuine rejoicing about police headquarters today over the prospects of ridding the city of Mary Taylor, colored, and one of the most troublesome thieves that ever infested this city. The woman has been arrested scores of times on charges ranging from vagrancy to robbery, but each time she has managed to escape punishment. She is regarded by the police as being one of the cleverest "dips" that ever operated in Salt Lake. She was arrested again Wednesday on a charge of vagrancy. The officers had tried to "get" her on charges of robbery, frequenting an opium joint and kindred charges, but in each instance success did not meet their efforts.

The woman was in court this morning before Judge Diehl, and when her name was called, her attorney, William Newton, entered a plea of guilty, with the understanding that the time for sentence would be fixed for Monday morning and, in the meantime, the woman was to be released on her own recognizance.

Assistant City Atty. Rogers and the police officers seized the chance to give the woman a "float." They have had considerable experience with the notorious character and took the view that if she will leave the city a good deal will be done to this community. The order was made with the understanding that the Taylor woman leave town immediately. On Monday morning Judge Diehl will impose a jail sentence. If Mary is here she will have to serve the sentence, and, no doubt, it will be one for a long term. If she leaves the city and then drifts back here in a few days or at any time before the expiration of the sentence, she will have to serve time.

The authorities have found this scheme to be an excellent one, as crooks of Mary's caliber are anxious to keep away from the city when they know that a jail sentence is hanging over their heads. After pleading guilty to vagrancy and given a "float," the other charges against her were dismissed.

GRANAT SENTENCED.
Sentence was imposed this morning on Frank Granat, saloonkeeper, charged with interfering with an officer. This case has been on the docket for several months. In April W. H. Dye, server of poll tax notices, called at Granat's place to serve a notice on an inmate of the house, whereupon Granat interfered and threatened to throw Dye out of the house. He was arrested and his attorney contended that Dye was not an officer of the city.

Judge Diehl ruled, however, that Dye was an officer and that Granat had interfered with him while Dye was in the discharge of his duties. He was ordered to pay a fine of $25. Judge Webster gave the defense asked for stay, and it is likely that the case will be appealed to the district court.

S. L. Graham, a carpenter from Denver, stood up, looked around and sat right down again. He was charged with being "unlawfully" drunk and denied the allegation. He was of the opinion that if he was drunk at all it was a "lawful" one and was ready for trial. He stated that he came here from Denver and was on his way to Bingham where he had a job. The court decided to let Graham go and the latter is now "beating it" for Bingham.

INCREASED POSTAL BUSINESS.
In the regular monthly report of the local postoffice for the month of June an increase of 10 per cent is shown over the receipts for the same month last year. Postmaster Thomas said that the increase was even greater than he had at first estimated, and shows a remarkable growth in the postal business. The report is as follows:

Stamps, Cards, Envelopes, Total.
1908 $18,081.19 $40.00 $4,238.42 $22,359.62
1907 17,289.61 482.62 3,028.86 20,801.09
Inc. $791.58 $37.00 $1,209.56 1,549.53
Increase, 10 per cent.

CLERKS HOLD OUTING.
At the outing of Retail Clerks at Lakoon yesterday the Tenth ward baseball team was defeated by the team from the eleventh ward, the final score being 7 to 1.

The lineup of the winning team was: Beveridge, c.; Dore, 1 b.; Cameron, 3 b.; Dore, 2 b.; Childs, c.; Gardner, p.; Morris, f.; DeGrey, s.; Norris, p. The tenth ward team was composed of: Brown, Keddington, Allison, Ransom, Jensen, McDonald, Keddington, Rigby and Morris.

The ball game was the feature of the evening. They assembled at the resort early in the evening owing to the fact that they could not get away from the city until the afternoon. For that reason the scheduled program of sports was not carried out except in the case of the baseball game and swimming races.

NEW STREET RAILWAY TRACKS
The Utah Light and Railway management has decided on a change in the Ashton avenue car line. At present the cars run east on Seventh South street, from State to Ninth East streets, before turning south on Ninth East. The tracks on Seventh South are those laid by the Rapid Transit company years ago, and are worn out. Instead of rebuilding the line on that street, the company will rebuild from State street to Third East, thence a new line is to be built south to Ninth South, and thence east to Ninth East, whence the Ashton avenue cars will continue south as at present. Second West street has been given a new double track to Ninth South street, for the Third Avenue-Second West street line. The company is completing the halting of the Wardsville line. There is so much to be done this summer in the way of reconstruction, that it is doubtful if the Ninth avenue tracks can be laid before fall.

Yesterday afternoon Detective Sletts arrested two men using the names of Lou Roseberg and Sam Redman. The police believed the men to be grafters and all around crooks. They were charged with vagrancy and this morning lost no time in placing them in jail, with the understanding they were to have a chance to leave the city. They were given an opportunity to leave and hastened to the street.

George Bind, a subject of China, with added brains, was called upon to explain, through Mrs. King, an interpreter, why he walked into the Clawson residence yesterday morning. Bind said he was looking for another Chinaman he thought was working for the Clawsons. Judge Diehl continued the case until the U. S. officials make the morning lost no time in placing them in jail, with the understanding they were to have a chance to leave the city. They were given an opportunity to leave and hastened to the street.

Bind said he wanted to get work here, but was unable to do so because he had no money, and no friends. He said the Chinese of the city refused to have

United States Marshal William Spry, accompanied by Wesley K. Walton, Republican state chairman, are expected to leave Salt Lake Saturday afternoon to attend the Colorado Springs session of the Republican national committee. Marshal Spry holds a proxy from Ed. Loose as national committeeman and will represent Utah on the committee. At the previous session in Chicago, Representative Howell held this proxy and attended the sessions of the committee for two weeks preceding the national convention.

OLD FOLKS ENTERTAINED

Veterans of Jordan Stake Guests of Honor at Wandamere Yesterday.

Yesterday entertainment was provided at Wandamere for the old folks of Jordan stake, and those were present several hundred persons above the prescribed age, 70 years. The guests of honor were given a royal good time, nothing that could add to their comfort and happiness being omitted by the committee appointed for the occasion. There had been a compilation of the names of all over 70 years residing in the stake, and the booklet was presented to each of the veterans, with photographs and other souvenirs.

William A. Turner of Bluff Dale was the oldest man present, being 93 years old, and the honor of being the oldest fell to Mrs. Harriet Hill of West Jordan, who is 87. Dr. Draper lived probably the oldest person in Utah, James McHenry, who will attain his one hundredth year March 11, 1909. He is hale and hearty and bids fair to become a centenarian.

PRESIDENT BEN E. RICH HERE.
The old folks' committee of Jordan stake consists of the following: William J. Panter, chairman; C. C. Crapp, secretary and treasurer; William C. Cox, chorister; Hyrum Gott, Willard Lee, H. E. Beckstead, Zephariah Butterfield, Niels Lind and C. LeRoy Cooper.

President Ben E. Rich of the Southern States mission arrived in Salt Lake yesterday from Chattanooga to spend several weeks in Salt Lake. President Rich has been in Chattanooga for the past 19 years in charge of the missionary work there. President Rich said this morning that there had been 131 baptisms into the Church in the past month, and that progress was being made more rapidly than for many years.

SWEARING EXPENSIVE.
It cost Mamie Woodruff, colored, just $10 for indulging in vile language toward Officer Pierce last night. He arrested the woman in Commercial street and while on the way to the station she used profane and abusive language toward him. Pierce stood the abuse as long as he could and then locked the woman up on the charge of abusive language.

Blanche Flowers, another negro woman, charged with vagrancy, will plead tomorrow morning.

Yesterday afternoon Detective Sletts arrested two men using the names of Lou Roseberg and Sam Redman. The police believed the men to be grafters and all around crooks. BAN ON TUBERCULOSIS

Regents of University Will Bar Students and Faculty Members Who May Be Afflicted.

The University of Utah regents have decided to take definite steps to prevent the spread of tuberculosis on the university campus by placing the ban against any student or faculty member who is afflicted with the disease.

The rule is the outgrowth of the death of Prof. Gilbert last April, in which investigation developed the fact that the professor had suffered for some time from pulmonary tuberculosis.

At a meeting of the regents in May a committee was appointed to investigate and recommend rules for the proper safe guarding of students and faculty from the disease. The committee consisted of Dr. C. G. Plummer, Rose Anderson, J. H. Fisher, T. B. Beatty, R. T. Richards and John Sandwell.

The report of the committee, which has just been submitted, follows:

To the Honorable, the Board of Regents of the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah:

We, your committee, appointed to consider regulations relating to the prevention of pulmonary tuberculosis, in the University of Utah, beg leave to report as follows:

Whereas, pulmonary tuberculosis is a contagious and an infectious disease, spread by means of the secretions given off from the respiratory passages of persons affected, and

Whereas, the disease has been known to exist among the teachers and students of the university, and

Whereas, the presence of persons so affected is a constant menace to the health of those with whom they come in contact; and further, that their own welfare is endangered by confinement indoors; and

Whereas, the disease can be prevented by the exclusion of infected persons;

We respectfully recommend that the board of regents of the University of Utah reserve the right to have examined, by the regents, all persons, whether teachers, students or employees, who are afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis, and we further recommend that the regents, student or employee, believed to be suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, be allowed the choice of an outside physician to be present and take part in the examination.

And that, should the examination disclose the presence of pulmonary tuberculosis, the board of regents shall exclude from the University of Utah and from any and all of its branches the teacher, student, or employee so infected.

J. W. McHENRY INJURED.

James W. McHenry was painfully injured last night in his livery stable at Murray. A stranger had driven into the livery barn and while he was alighting from a buggy asked Mr. McHenry to hold a 14 caliber revolver, thinking that he might drop it in leaving the rig. Mr. McHenry took the gun, but had held it only a moment when the stranger, who was armed with a knife, rushed at him and threw the hammer exploded and the bullet penetrated Mr. McHenry's chest. Dr. Allen stepped into the stable a moment or two later and rendered prompt aid. Mr. McHenry was taken to the Murray hospital for treatment and this morning his injury was found to be so serious that amputation was resorted to to save the limb, the foot being removed just above the ankle.

RODE WITHOUT A TICKET.

But R. A. Randolph May Now Have to Travel to Provo.

"I didn't got no ticket and I didn't got no money, but I'm going to ride just the same. Neither you, nor the railroad, nor George Gould or the porter, can put me off."

Such was the defiant statement made by a young man giving the name of R. A. Randolph to conductor on the Grande train coming down from Ogden last night. The young man had climbed aboard a Pullman and was comfortably seated when the conductor demanded a ticket. Randolph refused to pay his fare or produce a ticket.

When the train arrived here Officer Seigfus was notified and took the young man to police headquarters. On his person were found a number of betting cards and two new potatoes. He talked in a rambling manner and showed every sign of being demented. After being locked in a cell he began to sing and shout and kept up the noise all night long, preventing other prisoners from sleeping.

This morning the young man, who is well dressed and has the appearance of having been well reared, gave the name of Carl Sandahl, but declined to say where he came from. He was in Judge Diehl's court but persisted in jumping from his seat and walking out of the courtroom muttering incoherently to himself. He created so much disturbance that it was found necessary to take him back to a cell.

After court adjourned the officers tried to get a statement from him but he simply muttered to himself and tried to dash out of jail. Officers Hilton and Sandahl kept him in the cell until where he was locked in a padded cell. He will be examined by a commission to determine his mental condition.

ADDRESS TO SALESMEN.

Philadelphia Expert Talks to Members of the Real Estate Association.

The feature of the semi-monthly luncheon of the Salt Lake Real Estate association at the Commercial club this week was the address by H. N. Tolles, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Tolles discussed the science of selling and business building in a clear, logical and forceful manner. He showed that luck and chance in selling are delusions; contending that every sale is subject to immutable laws. The understanding and following the laws, truths and principles make business easier, pleasanter and more profitable.

"By the study of the science (the recognition of the laws) of business selling," he said, "we become able to sell, which leads us to realize that salesmanship is, in its highest sense, a profession. We then have a track to run and something to profess."

The real estate salesman is usually a specialty man, but that in large degree is because of the nature of the business. The four factors entering into every sales transaction," declared the speaker, "are the salesman, the customer, the thing sold and the sale itself. From the time that a man stepped out of the gates of Eden up to this very present there has not been an exchange of a commodity, tangible or intangible, a service performed, a wedding or a social function, in what these four factors have entered."

"We therefore are led to the study of these factors. First, the salesman—here it is a question of personal development, mental and physical. Salesmanship defines the power to persuade people to purchase at a profit that which the aggressor of the salesman has to offer to his customer. From whence then comes the mental man, thus securing ability, reliability and action. Then, developing endurance from the physical man, enabling him to become a good, healthy animal with the power to stay in the game and stay in the game."

"The study of the customer reveals that although no two men are alike that in many ways men are similar. The exterior reveals the interior. The lines of the face, the flash of the eye, the tone pitch and speed of the voice, the motions as well as the environment indicate the habit of thought and can be read like an open book."

"Salesmen as a rule are poor logicians. The science of logic is used in analyzing the thing to be sold for selling points, therein constructing a clear and convincing presentation of the stronger points so that the mental picture is logically presented to the mind of the buyer."

"The sale itself being a meeting of the mind of the salesman and customer, the science of psychology is essential. The customer's mind must be led through four distinct stages of first, attention, second, interest, third, desire, and fourth, decision. In the creating of these stages, which may require minutes or months, comes the finer points of the strategy of the sale."

Mr. Tolles showed how all trade rests on the law of confidence, that confidence comes through personality, that personality is more than good looks and good clothes, being in reality the character of the man. Character and health, he declared, can be trained through true education, which consists of the filling of the mind with useful knowledge and also the education or driving out of the latent faculties of the body, mind and soul.

The speaker complimented the association on its excellent work and told of his own experience in the past where Salt Lake City had been spoken of as "the growing city of the west."

MINER BADLY HURT.

Frank Gilmore, a timberman 59 years old, employed in the Ben Hur tunnel of the Boston Consolidated, was severely injured by a cave-in Thursday afternoon. His right leg was fractured above the knee and his chest and shoulder badly bruised and crushed. On account of the dangerous position, no one dared to go in the tunnel to help the injured man, and he lay there for several days until he was rescued by a party of men who were working in the mines there for many years.

TO TALK OF SPANISH PIONEERS.

Under the direction of Dean Harris of the St. Ann's Orphanage, Salt Lake's Knights of Columbus are planning to take up a battle in behalf of neglected heroes of western exploration, particularly of the name of Father Escalante, a Spanish priest who explored Utah valley in July, 1776. On July 21 the Knights of Columbus hold their annual meeting, and the feature of the program will be the reading of the manuscript of a book to be called "In the Trail of Spanish Pioneers," which will deal with Utah history from the beginning of the settlement of the territory to the present. The book will afterwards be printed and it is planned to still further honor the memory of Escalante and possibly other explorers in this country.

ARREST TWO NEGROES.

George Wilson, a negro, was arrested by Sergt. Hempel and Patrolmen Griffith and Betts this afternoon and will be charged with robbing Rowe & Kelly's clothing store last night. Wilson was identified as the robber by a cut on his hand, blood from which was found on one of the cloth coats which were stolen. Shortly before the arrest of Wilson, Ben Cannonball was arrested as a suspect. In his room the stolen coats were found and were later identified by the clothing store. Cannonball said he bought the coats from a third negro, whom the police are seeking. To convince Chief Pitt that he is an honest negro, Cannonball admitted the theft of an occasional warmliner, but that is all. He earns his living by dancing and whistling. He imitates every known bird and does 200 different dancing steps, all of which was demonstrated before Chief Pitt at the police station this afternoon.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Miss Maude Babcock and a number of her students entertained a handsome gathering of large and composed of summer students, teachers and friends at the theater last night. The turnout was surprisingly good in view of the warm weather. The attraction was the charming comedy of "The Amazons" by the cast named below. The piece went with a good swing and entertained vastly. Most of the renditions were excellent, in fact it is hard to say where attention should be given, but a vote would no doubt accord the laurels to Mr. Marshall as the Frenchman, Mr. Cummings as the Earl, Miss Bitner as Lady Thomasin, and Miss Evans as the Countess. The full cast was as follows:

Barrington, Viscount Latterby..... Clifford Aahby
Gairford, Earl of Tweenways..... David W. Cummings

HIT WHILE MILKING.

Charles Benson Struck by Thrown Stone by a Neighbor.

Charles Benson, residing on Somerby street, called at police headquarters this morning and asked for a complaint against John Mitchell, neighbor. According to Benson, he was struck in the eye with a big rock hurled by Mitchell last night. Benson says he was milking a cow when suddenly Mitchell picked up a stone and hurled it with great force at Benson. The rock struck him in the face, cutting his lip and inflicting a black eye. Benson told Asst. City Atty. Rogers that he did not know why Mitchell threw the rock, but stated that he had not been on speaking terms for about a year. He thought the man should be charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and Rogers referred him to the county attorney.

Testimony in the land contest case of Frank H. Sother against Ralph Short was closed Thursday afternoon, but as yet no decision has been rendered. The land in question is located near Green and Cedar streets, just east of the corner under the Desert act. CONTROVERSY OVER WATER.

Opinions Differ as to What Time of Day is Meant by 12 a. m.

Several residents of the city have become involved in a controversy as to when they shall have the right to take water from an irrigation ditch. One of the men has a water right certificate which reads that he shall begin to use the water at 12 a. m. and here is where the argument is brought up. Several of the people are of the opinion that the time stated means 12 o'clock midnight, while others say that it is 12 o'clock noon. All kinds of means have been sought by the people, but as yet no solution to the problem has been found.

Atty.-Gen. Breiden was asked regarding the time and replied, "This is a matter that is entirely out of my official capacity and I hardly feel justified in giving out an opinion on the subject. In reality there is no time as 12 a. m. but I am of the opinion that any court will hold that 12 a. m. would mean noon and not midnight."

The state engineer's office is of the same opinion, but recommends that a settlement be made by the parties concerned in the presence of witnesses, with the watermaster in the district.
