FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY JULY, 3, 1888.]

Deferred One Day.

Owing to the railway being unable to furnish sufficient accommodations on the 11th, because of the cars being in use in another direction, the Old Folks' excursion to Lehi is postponed for one day—until Thursday, July 12.

Returned.

Richard G. Lambert, Esq., reached this city last Saturday evening, from a trip through the southern part of the Territory. He went as far south as the borders of Arizona. He was traveling in the interests of the News, and met with gratifying success.

Tidwells Pardoned.

Governor West has issued pardons to Thomas Tidwell and F. M. Tidwell, who have been serving sentences for murder. The petition for their pardon was signed by quite a number of the citizens of Emery County, and several residents of Salt Lake City.

A Battery.

John Reese was arrested this afternoon for battery upon Sam Newton. Both men are blacksmiths, and are employed on Commercial Street. Reese struck Newton on the right side of the head with a pick handle, making the blood fly and inflicting a severe blow. It is claimed that the striking was done without any provocation. Reese was considerably under the influence of liquor. He was taken before Commissioner Norrell, who set the case for 3 o'clock this afternoon for trial.

A Silver Reef Fire.

On Saturday night several buildings on Main Street, Silver Reef, Utah, were destroyed by fire. The blaze started in an unoccupied store belonging to a Mrs. Hays, and spread north and south along the street. On the south side the flames stopped when they reached the cross street and had nothing more in that direction to burn. To the north, the blaze reached the fireproof store of Jas. M. Louder, where it was checked. Most of the buildings were unoccupied. The losses are, Mr. Louder, $500; Mr. Jordan, $150; Mr. Quirk, $6,000; Mr. Sinclair, $100; besides other smaller amounts.

A Race for Liberty.

This afternoon four traps, under sentence of imprisonment at hard labor, jumped from the city gravel train near Liberty Park, and made a desperate effort to escape. They headed in a southeasterly direction, going through fields, over fences, etc., in their efforts to evade their pursuers. Officers Malin and Clayton followed, and the latter overhauled two of the fugitives about a quarter of a mile from the penitentiary, and two miles from where the break was made. The runaways had taken to the bed of Emigration Creek, and were endeavoring to submerge themselves when discovered. They made considerable resistance, but were overpowered, and Malin brought them to town with their hands tied together with a piece of rope. Archie Clayton continued the chase after the two remaining fugitives, who had quite a start, and managed to submerge themselves in the gulches on the hill. Other officers joined in the search, and it is likely that the runaways will be found and retaken before night.

Saints En Route.

The company of Saints which left Liverpool on the 23rd ult., per S.S. Wyoming, arrived in New York on the 3rd inst., and left for the West yesterday at 3 p.m., all well. They are in charge of Elder Bowring, and will travel via Norfolk and the Union Pacific. In all probability they will reach this city next Wednesday evening.

A Well-Preserved Veteran.

Brother Wm. Knox, of the 7th Ward, is celebrating the 73rd anniversary of his birth today, and, considering the great age he has attained to, is remarkable for the vigor of his mind and body. He bids fair to live and be counted as a full band at the carpenter trade a great many years, and we trust he may.

The Fires.

There were three fire alarms yesterday, the first being occasioned by the taking fire of a basket of clothing in a house in Social Hall Alley. A firecracker and a boy was the cause. About $10 damage was done. The firemen were in the procession at the time, but departed quickly for the scene of duty.

The second alarm was in the debris of the fire of about two weeks since at the old Salt Lake House premises. As only rubbish was burned, there was no loss.

About 4:30 p.m. the third alarm was sounded. The cause of this, too, was a firecracker. The little boy didn't know how it happened, but the squib got into the straw and the result was that T. E. Daniels' barn, near the D. & R. G. depot, was burned. Loss about $50—altogether, a good record for the day.

ELIAS A. SMITH,

Portland, July 2.—August Roth, an employe in the North Pacific sawmill, while stepping over a revolving shaft today, was caught by a projecting pin and thrown down, and his abdomen fearfully lacerated and torn, exposing and rupturing the intestines. His recovery is deemed hopeless.

Nogales, A. T., July 2.—Train Dispatcher W. P. Rudd, of the Sonora Railway, shot himself this afternoon with suicidal intent and died instantly. He was stationed at Carbo, Sonora, where the deed was committed. Disappointment in a love affair is the supposed cause for committing the deed.

AT OGDEN.

How the Fourth Was Observed in the Junction City.

At no time for a number of years past has the natal day of our Nation's independence been looked forward to with such deep interest by the people as it has been during the few weeks that have just past. Last evening the impatience for the coming day was evinced by some of the loyal citizens by the explosion of their firecrackers, and other demonstrations. As the night deepened into gloom the inclinations continued, and some of the people remained awake during the small hours of the night, like the bees in the song, to Watch for the light of the morning to dawn

And color the gray eastern sky.

When the first rays of light appeared they were saluted by from the artillery, which was the signal for a general rising. At sunrise the stars and stripes were unfurled and floated gracefully in the early morning air. The celebration of the glorious day was thus fully inaugurated.

The weather was delightful. The warm rays of the sun were tempered by a gentle breeze from the mountains. At 9:30 a.m. the procession formed at the Firemen's Hall, under the direction of the marshal of the day. The procession was headed by Ogden Brass Band, the members of which, in their new uniform, made a grand appearance. These were followed by the firemen, the hook and ladder company, an immense train of citizens in vehicles, equestrians and pedestrians.

After parading through the principal streets they reached the spacious pavilion in Lester Park, which was packed to its utmost capacity with spectators.

The proceedings were there opened by rendition of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by the band. The assembly was called to order by Mayor David Eccles. The chaplain of the day, Elder E. H. Nye, then offered up an appropriate prayer.

The band next executed the overture "Rival."

The Declaration of Independence was recited by Mrs. Nellie Thomas, and elicited immense applause.

The band rendered the "Nellie Polka."

Professor T. B. Lewis,

ORATOR OF THE DAY,

was next introduced and delivered an eloquent oration, in which he traced the history of the United States from the first until now, when it has become one of the foremost and most powerful nations of the earth. The orator dwelt at some length on the genius of the Constitution of our nation, and the intent of the framers to give the utmost liberty and freedom, both civil and religious, to all. He was frequently interrupted by vigorous applause.

"THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

was beautifully sung by Miss Mollie Phelan.

Hon. D. H. Peery made a brief, but patriotic speech in his characteristic style. He predicted that the government of the United States would increase and extend over the earth until every civilization will be brought under its influence.

The "Flag of our Union" was sung by Miss Flora Purdy.

After a brief speech by Judge R. K. Williams and music by the band, a vote of thanks was awarded to the speakers, reader, the singers and the band.

A twelve o'clock noon, the chaplain pronounced the benediction. Thus ended the morning exercises. The greatest harmony and peace prevailed, and nothing occurred to mar the happiness of the occasion.

AFTERNOON.

A great part of the afternoon was consumed by a match at base ball, for $50, between the Athletics and the Standards. The game closed about 4:30 p.m., in favor of the Athletics.

The score stood: Athletics 20; Standards 8. This game left but little time for the other exercises—viz: Wheelbarrow races, pole climbing, pig chasing, free dance in the Pavilion, etc.

EVENING.

In the evening there was a torch-light procession. The streets were gorgeously illuminated.

At ten o'clock p.m. there was a grand pyrotechnic display, in which hundreds of dollars worth of fireworks were consumed. This ended the day's celebration, which closed as it began—in peace, goodwill and fellowship.

INCIDENTS.

Between seven and eight o'clock last night Chas. H. Greenwell, and his mother were returning from a drive in the northeastern part of the city. When descending the driveway, north of the race track, the horse turned quite suddenly down a steep embankment.

The buggy was rolled over and over for about one hundred feet towards the Ogden river. The occupants of the vehicle were thrown out. Mr. Greenwell escaped with a slight bruise, but his mother was not so fortunate. Her neck, right shoulder and the right side of her face were bruised, and three fingers of her right hand are injured. She also suffers from internal injuries, but no bones were fractured. I saw her this afternoon, when she was resting comparatively easy, but still suffering from the effects of the accident.

At half past one p.m. today, the bell and whistle sounded the

which was discovered to be on Sixth Street, three blocks east of Main. A small haystack belonging to Mr. Joseph Wheelwright caught fire, it is supposed from crackers that were thrown too near to it. The fire brigade was speedily on the spot, and although the hay was consumed by the fiery element, greater damage was prevented by the prompt action of the firemen. The loss was light.

This afternoon Mrs. Simon Higginbotham, while in conversation with a lady friend, discovered her (Mrs. H.'s) dress to be on fire. Prompt assistance was rendered, and the flames were extinguished; but the shock from the fright at the discovery was too great for the lady's nerves, and she was thrown into hysterics, from which she did not recover for two hours. It is thought that a fire cracker had been thrown in the place where she was and that it caught in her dress and caused it to take fire.

A native of the Celestial empire attracted the attention of a large number of people to-day on Main Street by the singular eccentricities in which he indulged. It was discovered, however, that he was laboring under the influence of opium and whisky. He was arrested by Officer M. F. Brown, but it was not until help was obtained that "John" was secured and placed in jail.

Excursion trains were run during the day to Syracuse and Lake Park, and many Ogdenites visited those places. At night there was a ball at the Ogden River Resort.

THE FOURTH AT TINTIC.

Celebration of Independence Day at Eureka.

Editor Deseret News:

Preparations have been in progress for some time past to make the national holiday a time of rejoicing and enjoyment for the whole people. There was no distinction made because of class or color. All shades of opinion with regard to politics or religion were for the time being laid aside, and all joined together to celebrate the anniversary of the nation's independence.

The effort proved to be an entire success. We had some trouble to secure the services of a brass band for the occasion, as one had to be imported from Salt Lake City or some of the settlements. Finally one was secured from Springville. Work was suspended at all the mines for the day, and there was a general turnout. There was cannonading at sunrise and the very earth trembled with the

of giant powder between anvils and otherwise that shook the people out of their beds to enquire if an earthquake was in progress.

The Stars and Stripes were fluttering in the morning breeze from every liberty pole in town. The procession formed in front of Captain Day's office at half-past eight, the band playing some lively marches. In a beautifully decorated wagon sat the Goddess of Liberty surrounded by 33 young ladies dressed in white to represent each State in the Union. Next came the Eureka Glee Club in a dandy conveyance followed by the Sunday school children. Then came carriages and citizens. The large bowery, half a mile from town, seemed a cool retreat after the march up there. It is needless to go through the programme as it is nearly always substantially the same on such occasions.

THE PROMINENT FEATURES

were the soul stirring strains of music by the band and choir, the prayer of the chaplain and the oration. The reading of the Declaration of Independence of course is always good. The day was warm, but there was plenty of ice water at hand, which, with cool lemonade in the shade, was the only beverage indulged in.

The game of baseball between the boys of the Beck mine and those of the Eureka was quite interesting and was won by the latter nine.

There were foot and horse races, and lots of joking and betting on the side. Everybody seemed determined to be agreeable. A dance in the evening closed a pleasant day without a jar to mar its peace and harmony. We had visitors from the Mammoth, and Homansville turned out en masse.

One incident—about 11 o'clock p.m.—while the dance was in progress, alarmed and excited the whole town. The dreadful cry of fire was raised, and everybody made a rush. The flames issuing from Widow Sullivan's lodging house attracted everyone to the scene. The building could not be saved, but by dint of hard work by all hands the progress of the fire flend was checked. The explosion of a coal oil lamp was the cause of the fire.

PAROWAN STAKE CONFERENCE.

The quarterly conference of this Stake convened in Parowan meeting-house June 23 and 24, 1888.

Present on the stand: Of the Stake Presidency, Morgan Richards, Jr.; members of the High Council and representative brethren from all the wards in the Stake and Elder R. G. Lambert of Salt Lake City.

Owing to the busy time of the year the attendance at the first meeting was not very large, but it gradually increased as the conference advanced until the seats on the floor and in the galleries were filled.

President Morgan Richards offered the opening remarks. He exhorted the Saints to lay aside their labors and cares of life and devote their minds during conference to the worship of God. Referred briefly to the trials the Saints are having to pass through, but said if they continue faithful God will deliver them in the future as he had done in the past. Through the blessings of the Lord the Saints are comfortably situated, have beautiful homes and surroundings, and he hoped if "booms" should come in this section of the country, the Saints will be wise, and not be led astray by the temptations and allurements that may be brought into their midst.

The various reports show an increase of faith and good works with the majority of the Saints, while a few are reported as becoming sleepy, dilatory, careless and faithless, having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof.

The speakers during conference were Elders Samuel T. Orton, Hans J. Mortensen, Thomas Thorley, Wm. E. Jones, Myron S. Roundy, Francis Webster, Robert B. Dalley, Charles Adams, Wm. C. Mitchell, John Eyre, Charles Heyborne, Jos. H. Armstrong and R. G. Lambert.

The general and local authorities were presented and sustained by vote, as also a list of home missionaries. The usual priesthood meeting was held and much good counsel and instruction given.

WM. H. HOLYOAK, Stake Clerk.

San Francisco is preparing for the meeting of the National Education Association, which commences there on July 17.
