NAMELESS AND NONDESCRIPT

THE People's Party has an antagonist to contend with in the coming election years. which is both nameless and nondescript. It is comprised of elements that defy description by say single appellation. Heretofore the opposition has centered its forces unler the name of "Liberal," a gress misnomer, for a more ill iveral and tyranaical political organization would be hard to find. exhibit the weakness of their cause b carping criticisms of simple phrases In the Constitution, and endeavors to attach to them a meaning foreign to their import and intent. For instance, much has been made of the opening sentence of the section in reference to the practice which has been proclaimed the great barrier to Utah's admission into the Union. It says:

"Bigamy and polygamy being consid-ered incompatible with a republican form of government, each of them is hereby forbidden and declared a misdemeanor."

It is asked, why are these practices any more incompatible with a repub lican than a monarchial form of government, and why should the "Mormou" members of the Convention formulate such a prohibition? It i very difficult to satisfy persons who are determined to be dissatisfied, and impossible to make those whose living and pleasure depend upon determined hostility to Utah's political advancement agree to anything fair and rational relating to the movement. Objections are to be expected, and some of them foolish and fallacious but these are so silly as to be beyond anticipation.

The State of Utah and the Nationa Government have nothing to do with monarchical antipathies or affinities The United States have to guarantee to each State "a republican form of goverument." This is provided in the national Constitution. It has been claimed, as an objection to Utah's Statehood, that bigamy and polygamy are incompatible with a republican form of government. Whether this objection is reasonable or foolish has nothing to do with the fact. The obection fas been raised It has been quite common. The only constitutional objection that could be interposed to Utah's admission into the Union is one founded on that constitutional provision.

All that Congress is really required to do in the matter of admitting new States into the Union is to see that they have a repu hcan form of goverament. Religious questions may not be interposed. They are outside of the purview of the government. Whither scitizens are "Mormons" or Methodists, Catholics or Protestants, Puritans or Infidels, has nothing to do with their political status. The government of each State must be republican truth er faisily of the theory. That bidy made no affirmation or negation of its correctness. The convention recognized the fact that such an objection lad been raised, and to meet tist effection the prohibitory provisions were inserted in the Constituton. The object was to frame an unexceptionable in strument as the fundamental law of the new State, one that could not be reasonably assailed by the strictest sticklers for Utah's conformity with the laws and institutions of the several partners in the Federal compact. But they float no flag. and wear no uniform. They are a sort of guerilla genus, who fear each other is much or more than they do any common foe. They know each other too well for any great amount of mu tual confidence to exist. As a matter of public convenience, t is desirable that the enemics of the People's Party should be christened: otherwise unintentional offense i likely to be often given, by applying to them appellations which they object to. For example, what name could be given to the organization in the fifth precinct, this city, that recently nominated Messrs. Marshall By Telegraph to the NEWS.] and Hoge for the Legislature? It has already expressed its scora of the name "Liberal," and its contempt for that of Republican. It is not known to have been, to any extent, Democratic, and the absence from its councils of certain leaders of the "Loyal League" satisfies the public that that order has not fathered it. The political What-is-it that is at tempting to place the two gentlemen referred to in the Legislature, should until to-morrow. assume a name. No delicacy regarding ancestry should occasion further hesitation. The same may be said of the foes of the People's Party in other parts of the Territory. That abandoned female, "Anti-Mormonism," seems to have been breeding a family of walfs to whom she has given no distinctive cognomens; and a family falling-out has scattered her offspring, and severed every bond of sympathy and relationship between the members dull of the former household, save the desire to injure the People's Party, which is still more or less common to them all.
