

THEATER GOSSIP

Theater next week and listen for a few minutes to Fred Ray and his two assistants "the Human Tragedy," the night they are bound to enjoy will distract any lurking suspicion of misgivings. It is when more imminent that the foolishness is an absurdly funny that it performs the same service that it did in a book of nonsense rhymes just for a tired man.

Based on the bill are the O'Meers stars, graceful and daring when arranged, as to be as pleasurable on a stand of six as ordinary individuals on four legs. Curtis Blethen is billed as "The Famous English comedian," and it is claimed that he produces a record number of laughs from any kind of audience.

New comedy "The Parrot's Tax" returns. "The Minstrel Man" and "Newson's Appeal" are the names of the acts introduced by William B. Sullivan and Charlie Rosqueling.

Kolling & Klifton are America's premier banjoists, and their act is reported to be in a class far and high above the ordinary musical turns.

New animation features on the program and sensations by the popular German orchestra complete the bill.

"The Alaskan" was brought out in New York at the beginning of the present season and the company now rendering it is the same as that with which it made its bow on Broadway. The principal people are

AGNES CAIN BROWN.

Singing One of the Song Hits in the New Comic Opera, "The Alaskan."

Harry Girard, Agnes Cain Brown, Teddy Webb, Edward Martindell and several others, while a big chorus and an enlarged orchestra will add to the musical features. Advice from Denver state that the week played there at the Broadway theater was a record breaker.

Salt Lake thespians feel a keen interest in the production of a new play by Booth Parkington that first saw the light of day in Chicago on the night of Sept. 29. If it entitled "The Man From Home," and it is written for the peculiar abilities of W. T. Hogan well remembered as the original Fremen Whitmarsh in "Sag Harbor" and Mr. Stubbs in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." In the supporting company were Ethel Plympton, one of the original "Hazel Kite" cast, Miss Ada Vernon, and several other noted players.

The management of the Orpheum announced that next week's bill will be one of the highest-grade shows on the road. As the headliners, Fred Ray & Co. appear in a "Shakespearian Tragedy." Here is one dramatic critic said of this sketch: "It may seem like sacrilege to persons of the old school to burlesque Shakespeare or the 'noble' Romans, but if these super-sensitive critics will visit the Orpheum

Nance O'Neill has postponed the opening of her season for a month. It is probable that she will appear in an effective solo play instead of "His Eyes in Order."

A Chicago dispatch states that R. H. Stetson appeared here in a new play Monday night entitled "The Food Sale in His Heart." It is written by Lawrence Irving and seems to be a strong success.

Louis Massey, now playing in "The Hypocrite" is to be starred next season in a repertoire of standard plays, including dramas by Henry Arthur Jones and Bernard Shaw.

It is reported that Edna Purviance will make a production of "Foolishness" next season with a large company.

She will probably make a tour of the world in the spring, including Australia in her itinerary.
