SAN FRANCISCO, via Jackson, Amador Co., 25th, 1 p.m.—Last Sunday night, Hatch, bookkeeper for the Amador mine, was attacked by Hugh McMenomy and William Deneen, members of the miners' league, and on Monday, in company with J. W. Brunett, he came to Jackson and got out a warrant for the two league men, and they were brought before Justice Turner, of this place. Deneen pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery, and McMenomy, who was charged with assault to commit murder, had his case postponed till to-day, and was permitted to go on his own recognizance. He returned to Sutter Creek, where he met Brunett, when high words passed between them. Brunett slapped McMenomy's face, McMenomy drew a pistol and Brunett drew one also, and both commenced firing. Hatch came out of his office during the shooting, with a pistol in his hand, and was shot in the right breast, but no one knows by whom. McMenomy has two wounds in the groin, supposed to be mortal. Hatch is still alive. Brunett is unhurt, and is now in this place under protection of the Sheriff, for fear of an attempt on the part of the leaguers to get hold of him. At twelve o'clock all is quiet. There is little hope for either of the wounded men's recovery.

SAN FRANCISCO, 25.—If troops are ordered from San Francisco the nationals and city guards, who were first sent to Amador, will be among those sent. This is deemed advisable as they know the grounds and would be more effective than fresh men, who would require considerable time for preparation to take the field. Few if any substitutes will be sent. The nationals have received payment at the rate of four dollars a day, and will receive one dollar more as soon as the city guard receive their pay to-night for the first campaign.

The latest private dispatches from Amador are of such a character that the mine owners will probably request Governor Haight to call out troops again. The Governor, while ready to act if required, desires to avoid the expense and trouble of ordering out troops if the civil authorities can maintain the peace without military aid.

Both Hatch and McMenomy are alive, but not expected to recover.

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, 25.—Yesterday morning an Indian who was working with some white men on a wood ranch, about twenty-five miles from this place, set fire to a house and burned it down with all the contents. The facts are as follows: The Indian and one of the men named Heron, were left together. After a short time Heron left the Indian alone, and when he came back to the place where he had left him found that he had gone. Then he saw a smoke at the house and went down and found it on fire, but could not see anything of the Indian, who by that time had fled. A man named Yandell went in pursuit, in company with another man, and when within about half a mile of this place they overtook him and then the race for life commenced. They ran through the town, the Indian about fifty yards ahead. As they neared the river Yandell gained on him when he turned round and fired, killing Yandell's horse instantly. When the horse fell the Indian took to the river with the other Indian in pursuit of him. Yandell came back to town and procured a pistol and went on in pursuit and found the Indian dead near the river. The Indian in company with Yandell said he did not kill him. A coroner's inquest was held on the body this afternoon, the verdict being death from a pistol shot wound by some unknown person.

STOCKTON, 25.—Mrs. Catherine Brannan, aged 63 years, while walking on the Central Pacific R. R. track, about two miles north of this city, last night, at 11 o'clock, was run over and killed by the western bound freight train. She was mangled in a frightful manner, her head being mashed so as to be unrecognizable. The left arm was cut off close to the shoulder and the right leg and arm broken. It appears she had been mentally deranged for some time, and lately has been kept under the watch by her daughter. She, however, effected her escape from the house yesterday p.m., and wandered about until the time of the accident.

St. Louis, 26.—A terrible accident occurred at fifteen minutes past six last evening, on the Toledo and Wabash Railroad, sixteen miles from this city and two miles this side of Edwardsville. A freight train of thirty-three cars, heavily laden with grain, going south at a great speed, collided with a gravel train, on which were laborers returning from their work. Of these, six were killed outright, four others so severely injured that there are little hopes of recovery, and fully one-half the others are more or less injured, some severely. The collision occurred on a short curve, and neither of the engineers were aware of the other train being on the track till it was too late to prevent the collision. The engineers and firemen from both trains jumped in time to save their lives. Both of the engines and a large number of the cars were demolished.

CARSON, Nev., 26.—Ben Ellsworth, a teamster and an old and respected citizen of Carson, was shot in the groin yesterday, in Pine nut valley, Douglas Co., by a Mexican, named Edward Rodriguez. The weapon used was a rifle. Rodriguez and another Mexican, named Arbellos, had a dispute about the title to a wood ranch, and the shot which took effect in Ellsworth was intended for Arbellos. Ellsworth was in a critical condition at last accounts, and the wound is believed to be fatal.

SUTTER CREEK, 26, 10, p.m.—Things are quiet, as far as the late troubles are concerned. Hatch and McMenomy will be buried to-morrow or next day.

A fire has just broken out in the Badger shaft of the Amador mine. Great efforts are being made to extinguish it. Most of the people of this city are present at the mine and much excitement prevails. The shaft is closed and the employees are running water down. Steinburg has placed a guard at the scene. As the Badger shaft is only used for hoisting water from the mine, it was impossible for it to catch fire by accident. Undoubtedly it was fired by some of the leaguers, or one of their hired tools. Fears are expressed that this is the initiatory step of a programme for destroying all the mines and visiting vengeance upon all those who assisted in thwarting the desires of the leaguers to run the mines to suit themselves. Murders and assassinations may follow.

RUSSIAN METHOD OF PRESERVING FRUIT.—A method of preserving fruit, quite frequently adopted in Russia, consists in slacking fresh lime by sprinkling it with water and adding a little creosote. The fruit is to be packed in wooden boxes, with a layer of prepared chalk powder of an inch in depth at the bottom. This layer is to be first covered with a sheet of paper, and upon it the fruit is to be laid so as not to touch each other. On the first layer of fruit another sheet of paper is placed, with the lime powder sprinkled over it, and a sheet of paper over this; upon this another layer of fruit is spread, as before, and the process continued until the box is full. The corners may then be filled with charcoal. If a tight-fitting cover is put on the box, the fruit, it is said, will maintain its sweetness for at least a year.
