FRAGMENTS.

Yesterday was a great day for those who have come to us for information concerning the royal family of England. Not only did we publish the news of the birth of a son, but also the death of Queen Victoria and the birth of King Edward VII.

The Queen died at 2:05 p.m., having been ill for several days.
The cause of death was natural causes. Her death was sudden, however, and there were no signs of disease.

This morning we published a short notice of Queen Victoria's death, and the news soon spread. The Queen was considered one of the greatest women of her time.

Queen Victoria was the first woman to be crowned empress of India, and she was a great leader in the field of politics.

Her death has been a sad loss to the world.

The Queen was 82 years old when she died. She had been queen for 63 years.
Her reign was one of splendor and power, and she will be missed by many people.

The Queen's death has caused great sorrow throughout the world, and her memory will live on in the hearts of all who knew her.
