SAVE YOUR HAIR | TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent grayness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It actually performs these seeming miracles, of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN

I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 5.—A bill was placed on the calendar providing for a new naval observatory and the removal of the present one.

A portion of Saturday was set apart for bills reported by the committee on military affairs and the Japanese indemnity fund. The bill will be called up on Monday.

Matthews' resolution providing for a committee to inquire into the claims of citizens against Nicaragua, was agreed to without discussion.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the credentials of John P. Jones, elected United States senator from Nevada. Placed on file.

A bill was then passed appropriating $4,933 to pay the Richmond Female Institute, Richmond, Va., for the use of its building by the army of the United States from October, 1865, to October, 1866.

Hoar, by request, submitted a resolution instructing the committee on military affairs to consider and report whether it is expedient to authorize the Secretary of War to secure a supply of canister shot of improved pattern. Agreed to.

Hamlin presented a letter from the Secretary of State, saying that the family of the late Bayard Taylor, United States minister to the German Empire, was not in affluent circumstances, and recommending that the salary of the minister to Berlin be continued to Mrs. Taylor for one year. Referred.

The Senate resumed consideration of the resolutions of Edmunds declaring the validity of amendments to the Constitution.

Whyte opposed it. He denied that the whole power of controlling elections for members of Congress belonged to Congress. It was for the State to protect its citizens in the right of suffrage. The United States had no right to interfere, except in cases of abridgment of that right provided for in the Fifteenth Amendment. The United States had no voters of its own, and there was no one to protect until a State denied a man the right to vote on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Edmunds, in reply to a question of Whyte, said the United States possessed all the power of elections for members of Congress that States possessed.

Garland moved to amend Morgan's substitute, by declaring that while the amendments were not legally adopted, yet having been accepted by the States are binding. Rejected.

Cameron moved executive business. Rejected—30 to 26.

Kernan, Hill and Hereford objected to wasting the time in such a useless manner, and moved to indefinitely postpone the resolutions.

After some further discussion the chair (Cockrell) ruled that the motion of Hereford embraced that of Hill, which was to postpone the matter until March 5th, or the expiration of the present Congress. The motion of Hereford was rejected—yeas 15, nays 32.

Eaton moved to adjourn—yeas 22, nays 31, Bayard and Kernan voting with the republicans, against adjournment.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 5.—The Speaker announced that the regular order was the consideration of the Mississippi levee bill.

The amendment of Sparks, striking out the clause authorizing a commission to take into consideration plans and estimates for the protection of the alluvial lands of the Mississippi, was rejected—yeas 93, nays 128.

An amendment was adopted striking out the clause which gives commissioners a life tenure of office.

Several amendments to strike out all provisions of the bill relating to alluvial land, were rejected.

Robertson withdrew his amendment appropriating $347,000 for strengthening the levees of Mississippi.

The bill then passed—yeas 155, nays 73.

The report of the committee on elections in the Florida contested case was submitted in favor of Jesse J. Finlay and adverse to Horace Bisbee. The minority submitted dissenting views. Both reports were recommitted.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the army appropriation bill. The number of aids de camp to which a general of the army shall be entitled was increased from three to four.

Whyte offered as an amendment to the bill substantially the bill known as "the army reorganization bill."

Hale rose to a point of order against the amendment.

The chairman could only look to the operation of the amendment during the year that the appropriation bill covered and if there was anything in the bill which might result in an increase of expenditures during the coming year it must clearly be ruled out of order. There was a proposition in the amendment which allowed officers to retire with three years' pay and that clearly brought it in antagonism to rule 120. The point of order was antagonized by Sayler and others. The chairman stated that the amendment did come within the spirit of the rule, while it was doubtless new legislation. Still, it was in the direction of a reduction of expenditures and therefore he overruled the point of order.

Banning favored the amendments. He moved that the committee rise in order that the amendment might be printed. This was opposed by Garfield and other republicans, who wished to have a vote taken at once, but was agreed to—ayes 106, nays 97. Adjourned.

EASTERN.

The Cipher Dispatch Investigation.

NEW YORK, 5.—A dispatch was shown to Weed, dated November 20th, addressed to General J. B. Gordon of Columbia. The translation is as follows: "Matters arranged by returning board agent. Inform Haskell and telegraph news." Witness said he never sent any such telegram. The Tribune did not lay positive claim to the accuracy of their cipher dispatches.

Chairman—On the same date there was another telegram sent to the same place and from the same persons; reading, as translated: "Have court hold on to electoral votes until fixed or failure. May be a little delay." Witness said he knew nothing about this telegram. The translation of telegram No. 25 was then read by witness, as follows: "Columbia, Nov. 28. Henry Havemeyer, New York: Majority of board have been secured. Cost is $80,000, to be sent as follows: One parcel of $65,000, one of $10,000 and one of $5,000, all to be $500 or $1,000 bills; notes to be deposited as parties accept and given up upon the vote of the Land of Hampton (i.e. State of South Carolina) being given to Tilden's friends. The three packets should be sent without inscription and to-night, unless you should receive a telegram from me countermanding. Shall try to secure everything by the plan of deposit. Friends of Chamberlain and 'Bavaria' are here in force, and I fear their money and careful watching and intimidation of the board. For God's sake let it go if you can. Be safe in Florida or 'Africa.' Do this at once and have cash ready to reach Baltimore Sunday night. Telegraph decidedly whether it will be done, signed "W." Weed said that he could not tell what parts of this translation were correct and what were not. From his recollection of the events as they occurred, he thought the translation was substantially correct, though his memory was that the sum named was $60,000 instead of $86,000; he thought that one sentence should read, "For God's sake let it go if you can be safe in Florida or Africa," without any period at the word "can." His idea was that the thing should not be done if it could be avoided. He was wholly unable to collect the meaning of any particular word in the cipher, as the meaning was purely arbitrary.

Chairman—Look at telegram No. 29. It reads: "Have court hold on to electoral votes until fixed or failure. May be little delay." Is that your?

Witness—It purports to be mine, but by no means conveys the idea I had intended.

Chairman—Here is another from Columbia, dated November 21st. It is addressed to the Everett House and reads: "Pope answered you last night; send for it Barnums; we think Bath court will close to-morrow and put Maple's majority in the house and probably acquire Cuba electors. (Signed) Spain."

Q.—Do you recollect having received this telegram. A.—I never received any such communication; besides I have no idea whatever who Pope is.

Q.—Are any of our dispatches signed "Mead?" A.—Yes, sir; there is one containing 40 words. Witness then took a file of telegrams, and by the direction of the chairman placed an envelope over each one he had sent.

Chairman.—Look at No. 17, dated Columbia, November 16th. The translation reads: Henry Havemeyer—Am confident that Florida is the State where the greatest exertion should be made. Have your man with full power; chances are not one in 20 here, but I am working for that one. Chamberlain, Kellogg and Stearns are in close communication and in concert. The authority I telegraphed for this morning all to be conditional on success."

Witness—I have to repeat what I have already said. I cannot recognize these dispatches as being the proper translation or interpretation of the literal meaning.

Q.—Who is this man Solomon with whom you propose to treat as to the purchase of the canvassing board. A.—He was a large grocer there and has a great deal of influence there.

Q.—By whom were you introduced to him? A.—I cannot now remember. It was generally known who I was, and I suppose he must have addressed me without waiting for a formal introduction. I was not long there until I found that Dunn and Solomon were in close conference. I saw by Solomon that he was anxious that the act should be consummated, as the others were pressing him hard.

Q.—What do you mean, money or offices? A.—My impression is that he meant both. The manner in which he proposed to receive the money satisfied me that he meant business. His remarks as near as I can remember, were that the money should not be paid over until the goods were delivered.

Springer—Can you give your time of arrival at Baltimore? A.—I cannot remember just now.

Q.—Did you think they meant business when they proposed to sell out? A.—I certainly did.

In the course of further examination the witness said the democrats in South Carolina were poor and needed money for printing, procuring witnesses, etc., in legal proceedings. They asked him to get the national committee to help them, and he made an unsuccessful effort in that direction.

A number of telegrams were read, many of which the witness had no recollection of and the cipher words in some he could not explain.

Witness to chairman—The proposition as to the buying out of the returning board who submitted to Mr. Havemeyer, and at first I was led to believe that the money would be sent to me. However, outside of one person, I do not think I mentioned the matter to a single soul.

To Mr. Reed—A few days before the election I came on to New York and received a telegram, from whom I cannot state, requesting me to go to South Carolina. I called into the Everett House and there I got my cipher.

Q.—Who gave it to you? A.—I really forget, but my impression is that it was Pelton.

Q.—Pelton was the secretary of the national democratic committee, was he not? A.—He was.

Q.—Then you got it from him? A.—I suppose so, but cannot say positively. As to the correctness of the Tribune ciphers, I cannot give an answer, for the reason that I have not read them.

Mr. Reed—Did you suppose Mr. Pelton could raise the $30,000 required? A.—I did. I know that the executive committee of the national democratic party would have given the money if asked for. I subsequently met Pelton in Baltimore, when he told me the money could not be raised. Tilden brought me to order in very forcible terms for having attempted to make a trade with the canvassing board, and repeated his positive abhorrence of any such scheme.

Q.—Pelton went to Canada, did he not? A.—He did, but it was long before the publication of the dispatches and he went there under medical advice, having suffered considerably from excitement and incidental troubles attending the election.

Q.—Why did you change your name? A.—Because I was afraid the Western Union Telegraph Company would tamper with our messages. They know me to be a politician, hence the precaution taken.

Stinger—Had you any communication on this subject with Mr. Tilden before the election, either directly or indirectly, up to the time the South Carolina canvassing board met? or did you have any after? A.—Yes. I met him at the Everett House. He took me to task. I cannot give to you his exact words, but he took me to task about the proposition, and stated that he never authorized any such proceeding, and that while he lived he never would become President under such circumstances.

Ravages of the Plague in Southern Russia.

There is much discussion on the produce exchange and in financial circles as to the effect likely to be produced on the business interests of the country by the ravages of the plague in southern Russia. The establishment of a military cordon around the infected district, and measures being taken by other European powers for the prevention and spread of the disease are spoken of as laying embargo on the export of Russian grain and other products. The dread of the plague in the infected districts is also thought likely to prevent the sowing of seed for future crops. These elements of the situation have been thoroughly canvassed, and as far as yet observed, the opinion on 'change seemed general that from these troubles will spring an extraordinary European demand for the cereals of the United States, and a consequent rise in prices, and a brisk and profitable business in their transportation from the west to the seaboard and to Europe.

Henry's Carbolic Salve

ranks at the head of all Salves, Ointments and other Healing Compounds, and has achieved a greater reputation and has a larger sale than any other similar preparation. The most have been cured with wonderous rapidity by the use of Carbolic Salve, and it is prescribed now almost universally by Physicians throughout the country in their practice.

Testimonials from the most respectable sources, medical and otherwise, are constantly accumulating on our hands, demonstrating the sovereign efficacy of and that the cures which it effects are as prompt as they are complete. The two following excerpts are all we deem it necessary to insert.

Geo. B. Lincoln, Pres't of the Board of Health, N. Y., writes: Your Carbolic Salve is an excellent article, and I thank you for. This is another evidence of the great value of the discovery of carbolic acid."

D. H. Locke (Patroleum V. Nasby), of New York, states that he had "on the forefinger of his right hand one of those pleasant pets, a 'run-round,' the finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable.

A friend dressed it with Carbolic Salve, and in twenty minutes the pain had so much subsided as to allow a fair night's rest.

is used extensively in Hospitals, and is found to be not only a thorough worker and effectual but also the most wonderful and speedy healing remedy ever known. Sold by all Druggists.
