

GIRL CAPTURED BY A BOLD VILLAIN

Miss Amy Parr Had an Exciting
Ride on Monday Night.

WAS GAGGED BY THE BRUTE

Driven in a Huggy to Fourteenth
South and Escaped to Some Hystanders.

A daring though unsuccessful attempt at kidnapping was made last Monday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, the victim being Miss Amy Parr who resides on Seventh East between Twelfth and Thirteenth South streets. At the time stated Miss Parr was returning to her home unattended, but not fearing in the least for her safety. She was within about two blocks from her home when suddenly some man drove up by her side in a vehicle and before she could realize her danger, seized her in his arms and held her from crying for help. Despite her desperate struggle for freedom, the unknown dragged her into the vehicle and drove rapidly westward until the street was reached. The villain then drove south until he reached Fourteenth South. At this point Miss Parr gathered up all her strength and made one mighty effort to free herself from the man's grasp. Her effort was successful and jumping from the buggy she ran screaming toward a couple of young people who were standing on the sidewalk.

The young people, who's name is Pearson, took the fainting girl into the house where restoratives were applied. The second who attempted her abduction whistled up his horse and drove for dear life down the road. Miss Parr was returned to her home safely.

A SAD LIFE'S STORY.

It is Related to the Chief of Police by a Young Woman.

Alma Baxley, a twenty-year old girl who looks as though she had passed through the vicissitudes of two score years, called on Chief of Police Hilton today and begged for assistance. The unfortunate woman's life is indeed a sad one. She told the chief that her home, or what was once her home, is in Dallas, Tex. At the age of seventeen years she became infatuated with some fellow who accomplished her ruin and left her the country. The knowledge of her shame compelled her to leave her home, and after becoming a mother, she came here where she claims she tried to live down the past. She secured good employment, and for a time all went well. Finally someone who knew her past set the gossip's tongues wagging and Alma lost her situation. She then became reckless and fell lower than ever. She has no place to go, has no money and is almost friendless. In despair she applied to the chief for help. That official will endeavor to have the girl taken to the Rescue Home.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

On Wednesday, March 14th, 1900, Mrs. Lavina Pendleton, widow of the late Benjamin F. Pendleton, departed this life, after a long residence in this city, where she was well known and respected. The deceased lady was born Nov. 17th, 1829, in Steuben county, New York, where with her parents she endured the hardships incidental to the place at that time. In 1853 she moved to Illinois, where with her husband she again participated in the trials peculiar to pioneer life. There they embraced the Gospel and shared in the sufferings of Nauvoo and the persecutions against the Church. They went to Council Bluffs in 1846, and crossed the plains for Utah in 1848. Here again she was engaged in pioneer labors, and when her husband was called to help settle St. George, she also endured many of the difficulties of that work. Her husband was well known as a skilled blacksmith and machinist, who made most of the tools with which he worked, and manufactured the first cotton gin at St. George, where he died. Mrs. Pendleton was a resident of the Ninth ward in this city for about fifty-one years, with the exception of the time she spent in Dixie. She was loved and respected by all but four of whom are living, and she had twenty-seven grandchildren and twenty-three great-grandchildren. She departed in peace surrounded by a number of her dear friends. The news of her demise will be received in sorrow by a large number of the people of Utah. Funeral Sunday, 12 noon, at Ninth ward meeting house.

THOMAS TAYLOR DEAD.

Body of Layton Citizen Discovered by His Son.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS"]
Layton, March 15.—Thomas Taylor, who has resided in the home of J. W. Morgan, of this place, for the last five or six years, was found dead this morning by his little son. Taylor is a carpenter and plasterer by trade and is reckoned a good workman, but he sometimes indulged his appetite for liquor too freely.
On Tuesday last, it being his birthday, Taylor decided he would celebrate the occasion in the usual manner and therefore repaired to the local saloon where he began his spree. This morning about 5:30 o'clock he roused himself, and started home, with the remark that he was going to work. He did not arrive home, however, and at 7:30 o'clock this morning his son discovered his body lying in a field near Morgan's house. Life was extinct and the only thing the boy could do was to call for assistance to remove the body.
Taylor has a sister in Salt Lake, also one in Ogden. He was raised in Utah, and was a man about 67 years of age.
The coroner's jury will hold an inquest this evening. It is generally believed that Taylor is a victim of heart disease aggravated by the protracted spell of drinking which precipitated his death.

SECOND REUNION.

Seventies Have an Enjoyable Party in the Seventh Ward.

The members of the Twenty-third quorum of Seventy, comprising the Seventies residing in the Fourth, Seventh and Farmers wards, held their second reunion last evening, March 14, in the Seventh ward assembly hall. The hall was well filled with the Seventies of those wards, together with their families, and other invited guests, including Elders Seymour B. Young and Rulon S. Wells of the First Council of Seventies, and the Bishopric of the three wards named. An interesting program was carried out, including vocal and instrumental music, recitations, speeches, etc. There were also songs in the Tahitian and Maori languages by returned missionaries, and remarks by Elder Young and Wells. Refreshments were served during the evening and some time spent in social chat and in viewing the curios on exhibition on the stand, which had been gathered by missionaries in various parts of the world.

A pleasing feature of the affair was the presentation of a tribute in memory of Mrs. Alice Lambert Pearl, who has been called to the other world since the last reunion of the quorum. The tribute consisted of a photograph of the deceased in celluloid, encircled with a wreath of flowers, together with sentiments for her husband, John G. Pearl, and one for the mother, Mrs. Geo. C. Lambert. Elder Geo. Bowles presided at the presentation. The program was carried out, including vocal and instrumental music, recitations, speeches, etc. There were also songs in the Tahitian and Maori languages by returned missionaries, and remarks by Elder Young and Wells. Refreshments were served during the evening and some time spent in social chat and in viewing the curios on exhibition on the stand, which had been gathered by missionaries in various parts of the world.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Pudd'nhead Wilson company closed its Salt Lake engagement last night to a very fair audience. The company now proceeds to the West.

This morning the advance sale for Denman Thompson at the Theater opened and the indications are that a great engagement will be played.

The sale for the entire Grau Opera company's season began at the Grand today. The main demand of course was for seats for "Wang" for the opening next Monday night, but there is a lively call for other nights during the week.

"Better the Feet Slip Than the Tongue."

There is one slip Nature never forgives. It is the carelessness of ignoring the signal that the body is in danger of wreck. It may be that the kidneys or the stomach or the head gives the warning sign. But remember, the blood feeds every organ of the body. Make no slip, but first tune up the system through the blood, and health will surely follow. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best preparation man has devised to make pure, life-giving blood.

General Debility—"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for general debility with marvelous effect. My blood is pure and I feel better and stronger." Frederick Reeb, 98 Hickman St., Albany, N. Y.

Disordered Stomach—"Now-a-days I can eat anything I wish because Hood's Sarsaparilla keeps my stomach in order. It is the best tonic medicine." H. Stone, Sherborn, Mass.

HEWLETT BROS. CO.

Cashman of Chicago begins tomorrow at the Theater box office at 10 a. m. This entertainment promises to be one of the most successful of its kind that has ever been held in this city. The object to be benefited is so grand, namely, the care of little orphan children, that it is a pleasure and a privilege to be able to assist. With the example of Mrs. Kearns' noble generosity in providing a home for the little ones, there is no one who would not feel proud to help in such a work.

DEMOLISHED HIS WAGON.

Fred Wilson, the East Temple street butcher, experienced a loss yesterday in his delivery wagon being demolished through a runaway. The runaway was caused by the horse taking fright from a large spray of water thrown directly in front of him by an employee of the city who was engaged in flushing the street. The horse was tied to a post at the time and breaking loose ran up the street colliding with the fence surrounding the Pioneer monument. Several pickets were also broken in the collision. Mr. Wilson declares that the city must pay for the damages done to his vehicle.

JUDGE TIMMONY'S COURT.

A. Nelson, who it will be remembered, joined the "Blue Church" several months ago and subsequently gave the sign of distress to Judge Timmony, strayed back on the innocent again today. Nelson was accused of drunkenness and pleaded guilty with nary a sign.

"I thought you had left the town," remarked his honor.

"Nope," said Nelson.

"Well, it will be $3 this time. I am afraid you are not a very good member of the church."

Sam Bartlett was drunk, too, at least that is what he was charged with.

"Yes, I was a little," said Sam. He was assessed $3.

"I was not drunk at all," said Bill Campbell. For some unaccountable reason his honor declined to accept the statement as being true and Officer Smith was sworn in today.

"How about it, Mr. Smith?" asked Diehl.

"He was drunk," replied the officer. "Three dollars," said the judge.

WHAT IT WILL COST.

Hon. John Henry Smith announced this afternoon that arrangements had been made with the railroad companies for a round trip rate to Houston, Texas, of $50.25 for the Trans-Mississippi Congress, which convenes at that place on April 17.

TRANSCRESSIONS TO BE LOOKED UP

Judge Lacombe Instructs Receiver
Grant of the Third Avenue.

WANTS AN INVESTIGATION

Of All Public Dealings of the Company and All Persons Connected With It.

A New York dispatch this afternoon says: Judge Lacombe of the United States circuit court today sent to Hugh J. Grant, federal receiver for the Third Avenue railroad, a memorandum containing instructions as to his duty with reference to prosecutions of persons who have mismanaged or defrauded the company.

Judge Lacombe says: "If in the past history of the Third Avenue corporation of any one connected with it there have been transgressions against the laws of this State, they should, of course, be ferreted out and punished, and the fullest and freest opportunity should be given to the prosecuting officers and grand jury to examine into the records of all past transactions. Moreover, it is a fundamental principle of criminal proceedings that they should be expeditious. Therefore this court will most willingly postpone such investigations into the books and papers as may be necessary for the discharge of its receiver's functions until those authorities shall have finished with them."

Three More Hearings.

The Senate committee on inter-state commerce today decided to give three more hearings on the bill to regulate commerce, and then to take up the measure and dispose of it so far as the committee can do so. The first of the hearings will be held Friday night, the 23rd, and the other two will be held on the following successive Fridays.

Will Avoid Cruelty.

The Senate committee on inter-state commerce today decided to ask the Senate to recommit the bill extending the maximum time for the confinement of live stock in transit from twenty-eight to forty hours. This decision was due largely to the representations that the change would result in cruelty to animals undergoing shipment.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Members of the National Editorial association now in San Francisco expect to come on to Salt Lake next week.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Saltair Beach company was held yesterday afternoon. A general discussion of this season's policies was had, but no manager for the beach was elected.

It is quite certain that the Great Northern people are really behind the project of a direct line from Boise to Butte as it would be so much of the distance off of a line to San Francisco or to a connection with the Southern Pacific at Winnemucca.

A freight train was wrecked six miles east of Colton, California, today. Five cars were derailed, eight remaining on the roadbed. Two men were found in the wreck, one named O'Brien had been killed, and another, T. Garner, injured. The men had been riding on the brake beam.

E. M. Flood has been appointed car agent for the western division of the Great Northern with headquarters in Spokane. Mr. Flood has recently been employed in the office of the superintendent of car service at St. Paul. In the past he was chief train dispatcher at Great Falls on the Montana Central.

Eighty tourists came in over the Rio Grande last night from the coast. Raymond and his party had charge of them and they remained over until this evening, when they resumed their journey towards their New England homes. During the day they took in the sights, which included a run to Saltair.

D. B. Hodgson, general manager of the Pacific Central de Guatemala, has arrived at San Francisco. He is to meet Collis P. Huntington here next month relative to an extension of the Guatemala Central railroad from Guatemala City east to the Atlantic coast. Mr. Hodgson is the president and owner of the road, which is now operated from San Jose, a port on the Pacific ocean, east to Guatemala City.

Following the acquisition by the Southern Pacific Railway company of the Carson & Colorado railroad comes the news that President Huntington is negotiating for the purchase of the Virginia & Truckee railroad. The Virginia & Truckee is a broad gauge road running from Reno, Nevada, on the line of the Central Pacific, to Virginia, by way of Carson City, a distance of fifty-two miles. The Virginia & Truckee was built by O. D. Mills and a few associates and is still owned by him.

Beginning with next Tuesday ships will be placed upon the same footing as are ordinary mortals, so far as the railroads are concerned. Whenever a shipper desires to take a trip away from his home, he will "dig down" and "dig up" the price of a passenger and titling him to a ride—that is, if he intends to go by rail. Already some of the poor fellows are preparing for themselves crowns of barbed wire and halos of cylinder rings, while sackcloth has gone up enormously and the grave of the buried "bashed" is being rifled of its ashes.

It has been reported that the negotiations which Collis P. Huntington is said to be carrying on for the purpose

SMALL FIRE.

Prompt Action Probably Prevented an Expensive Conflagration.

Prompt work by the fire department this afternoon prevented what might have been an expensive fire on East Temple street. Some small boys with matches had ignited some empty boxes owned by F. M. Teets and which were piled at the rear of his store on East Temple street. An alarm turned in by an employee of Kolitz candy man brought the department to the spot in a hurry, and they held the loss down to about ten dollars.

THE UTAH SUGAR CO.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Utah Sugar Company will be held in the assembly hall of the U. S. Business College, Templeton Building, Salt Lake City, Utah, on Friday, April 20, 1900, at 5 o'clock p. m. The purpose of said meeting will be the consideration of the annual reports, the election of a board of directors to serve in the ensuing year, and the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it.

of acquiring the Houston, East and West Texas, had reached a point at which a deposit of stock with Blair & Co., had been arranged for. It was even stated that stock was now being deposited with that firm. John B. Dennis, one of the partners of that banking house, which is largely interested in the road, said that he knew nothing of such an arrangement, and that no stock was being deposited with the firm under such an arrangement. Collis P. Huntington is on a tour of inspection in Texas. The Houston, East and West Texas runs from Houston to Logansport, a distance of 132 miles. It connects at Logansport with the Houston & Shreveport railway.

The Union Pacific is now engaged in the work of breaking up an organized gang of brass thieves which has established headquarters in Denver, and which has been operating throughout this western country for several years. About a year ago a man named F. Silverberg was arrested at Laramie for stealing brass. A quantity of the stolen property was found in his possession. Yesterday Silverberg's case came on for trial in the district court. The prisoner was discharged, as the company did not appear against him. It is understood that the company is using Silverberg as a witness in cases involving the theft of about $40,000 worth of brass goods. It is stated that already a number of persons have been convicted as a result of the confessions and testimony of Silverberg. The company is now working up evidence against the leaders of the gang in Denver, and sensational developments are looked for at any time.
