LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

DRAMATIC.—The interest in the splendid playing of Mr. J. K. Emmet does not abate a particle, but, on the contrary keeps increasing. No actor has ever created a greater theatrical sensation here than has this talented gentleman. The audience last night was even larger than that of Wednesday evening, and it was equally appreciative and delighted. To-night Mr. Emmet will take his farewell benefit, on which occasion there will, of course, be a crowded house.

BROUGHT TO TOWN.—Yesterday afternoon a young man, twenty years of age, named Andrew Peterson, was brought in from little Cottonwood Kanyon where, on Tuesday last, he had met with a very severe accident. He had been engaged for some time in cutting and sliding timber, and it was while thus engaged that the accident occurred. The most serious of his injuries are in his head. It is feared that the skull is severely fractured and doubts are entertained as to his ultimate recovery. He has been placed in the old City Hall, where every necessary care, medical and otherwise, is being bestowed upon him. The unfortunate man is from Bear Lake Valley, where his parents are at present residing.

Since the above was in type we have learned that the young man is much better to-day, that the injury to the skull was not as severe as at first anticipated, and that he is unlikely to recover. He was able to answer some questions put to him this morning, being the first time he has spoken of the occurrence of the accident.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.—Per Deseret Telegraph:

SCIPIO, May 11.

The co-operative store of this place on the 10th inst., declared a dividend of fifty-seven per cent for the last six months. Storekeepers are appealing in large quantities in and about our fields.

"FRITZ."—We had seen highly laudatory paragraphs on the performance of "Fritz, our cousin German" in several of our contemporaries before the arrival in this city of Mr. Emmet; and after seeing him, we are convinced that no notice of the condition of this piece, however laudatory it might be, could do justice to an artist like Mr. Emmet. His advent here has taken the theatre-goers of this city by storm, and we believe that no actor for several years past has created an interest and excitement in this city equal to that caused by Mr. Emmet in "Fritz." As an actor we are satisfied he has few equals, and the same may be said of him as a player on the mouth harmonicon; both evince genius of a high order; and these, added to his genial, pleasant and gentlemanly manners ensure him a welcome everywhere. We have no doubt that our citizens will show their appreciation by giving him a splendid attendance at his benedt to-night; we hope this will be so, for we do not expect to see the equal of Emmet in our midst again for a long time. The feeling of regret, so far as we have heard, is general that this is the closing night of his engagement; and satisfaction would be heartfelt and genuine if the management could induce him to lengthen his stay one night more. If this arrangement can be effected we believe it will receive such an endorsement by the public to-morrow evening, that the pecuniary results would be gratifying to both artist and management.

OPENS TO-MORROW.—We are informed by Professor Barfoot, that the Museum department of the Deseret Museum and Menagerie, will be open, at the new premises, to-morrow morning. Remember the place: South Temple St., west of the Council House and opposite the Temple block.

MAY-WALKING.—The cool weather on the first of May having prevented the pupils of the University from going May-walking then, they, taking advantage of the present fine spell, have been enjoying themselves in that way to-day.

OBSEQUIES.—A very large concourse of relatives and friends assembled this afternoon at the residence of Brother William Jennings, to pay the last tribute of respect to and attend the funeral services of his deceased wife, Sister Jane Jennings. Among those present were Presidents Brigham Young and D. H. Wells, and Elders John Taylor and George Q. Cannon. The Tabernacle choir was in attendance, and opened the services by singing, when prayer was offered by Elder John Taylor. Singing again by the choir, was followed by an address from President B. Young, full of principle, rich instruction, and consolation to the bereaved. During his remarks he briefly showed, from the gospel of Jesus Christ, that the object of our mortal life is to prepare for immortality hereafter, and the glory that would be participated in and enjoyed by those who honor their being, their Creator and His commands and requirements during their earthly sojourn.

Elder George Q. Cannon followed in a short and consolatory address, when the choir sang and the services terminated with prayer by President Wells.

The scene, as all such are, was solemn and painful, for however great the consolations derived from faith in the gospel the loss of a beloved wife and tender mother is ever the occasion of the most poignant grief. If, however, the sympathy of numerous friends and the hopes inspired by faith in latter-day revelation can afford consolation, we are assured the family of the deceased had the benedt of the same on the distressing occasion.

The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large number of carriages, filled with leading citizens.

GRASSHOPPERS IN IRON COUNTY.—Our correspondent at Parowan, W. C. McGregor, under date of the 8th inst., sends the following:

"The grasshoppers are extremely bad here this Spring, and threaten to take everything. A public meeting was called in the evening of the 4th inst., and a unanimous vote was taken to turn out en masse next morning, which was done. We are fighting them by burning, trenching, digging holes and burying them, etc. The chickens have been taken out, in force, all over the fields. One plan, which many favor, is to take birch brush, and weave the butt ends through the forward end of a drag or frame, of some weight, made for the purpose, weave in the brush six or eight inches thick, and drag over the wheat as we would a mammoth broom lying on its side, with a weight on top. This will kill a great many hoppers while they are young, and does not seem to hurt the young grain. Some of the people are almost discouraged; for as soon as one batch is destroyed another is hatched out. There are many more hoppers here now than there were in '69, when they took all our crops, but then we did not know how to fight them as we do now. The counsel is to keep fighting them and not give up, and we hope, by continued exertions, to save at least a part of our crops."

METHOD OF CONDUCTING CO-OPERATION IN SPRING CITY.—Brother George Brough, of Spring City, Sanpete Co., has sent us the following, under date of the 5th inst.:

"Six months ago the stockholders of the Co-operative Mercantile Institution of this place adopted the following method to secure the trade from the citizens, and encourage all to trade at home: To give to the consumer one half of the net dividend, which was conducted on the following plan: Each citizen or family furnished themselves with a small book; value five or ten cents, and, when they traded, the amount purchased was entered in these books. At the end of the six months all the books were called in, footed up and the total ascertained. Stock was taken and, yesterday, a dividend was declared of 21 2-10 per cent. on capital stock, for six months, and 7 per cent. bonus to the consumer. The result is an increase of forty cents on each $1.00 of capital stock invested, which is very satisfactory to all."

Special Notices.

THE AMERICAN

SUBMERGE PUMP

BEING an Agent for the sale of this most valuable article, having seen them tried in different deep wells, and finding them give universal satisfaction, I offer them to the public as the best means of raising water for ordinary use, irrigating, washing carriages, extinguishing fires, or any other use for which a force pump may be applied. From the tests I have had, I am led to believe no other can be raised with any other pump now offered to the public with the same power. As some objections have been made to these pumps for deep wells, I have tested them in one 850 feet deep, from which I raised twelve gallons per minute. They are positively non-freezing, and will not get out of order. If references are wanted or instructions in relation to them, call at my place on Emigration Street, one block east from State R'oad.
