THE EGYPTIAN DIFFICULTY. EGYPT is figuring prominently once more in the affairs of the world. Once the seat of learning and of power, the land of the Pharoahs in fulfilment of the Divine Word has become one of the besest of the kingdoms, and is the prey at once of the Christian and the Moslem. Yet it is always interesting as the land where the ancient priesthood studied and taught the science of the stars, and built those wondrous structures that stand as a witness for the Lord of Hosts to the end of time; where Joseph the good ruled in wisdom, and Moses the meet dwelt in the courts of the king; where Israel suffered bondage and were redeemed by the power of Jehovah; and where munimied royalty has been preserved for ages to link the former with the latter days.

To-day Egypt, once the sphere o the splendor of the Pharachs, is a mere Turkish dependency. The Khedive who stands at the head of its affairs is a subordinate of the Sultan. A portion of the revenue derived from taxation has to be handed over to the Turkish monarch. But the satrap who lords it over the denizens of modern Egypt, affects the pomp and splendor of an oriental sovereign with broad domains and immense treasures. This extravagance, added to the tribute paid to the Ottoman Empire, has brought the country under bondage to the "Christian" as well as the Turk. Money has been raised in large sums on Egyptian bonds, which are held chiefly by English capitalists, and to secure payment of the interest, a Board of Control, made up of representatives METHODIST POLITICAL RESCfrom England and France have obtained the management of the Egyptian finances, dividing the revenue so as to set apart the necessary amount for interest upon these bonds, a stiplated sum for the expenses of the Khedive and his household, and the rest for the general expenses of the government. Thus while the Sublime Porte exerclses a sort of suzerainty over the dominions of the Khedive, England and France hold a financial sovereighty which is of far more vital im-The native Egyptians figure sim-

It is against this condition of affairs that Arabi Bey is in rebellion. He is a man of the people, who has raised himself to a high military position by his bravery and ability, receiving promotion from the Khedive above that of any other native and in violation of precedent. Others, however, through his influence, have since been elevated to Important commands in the army. This has given him the power in milltary affairs which he has used to coerce the Khedive into the dismissal of ministers obnoxious to the populace, and into concessions which endangered the existence of the Board of Control and the interests of the bondholders.

The cry was raised "Arabi must go," and pending negotiations in Europe for the sattlement of the not to comprehend a good, sound, Egyptian question, came the mas. common sense policy, to say nothing sacre of Europeans, which hastened on the crisis. Arabi repudiated the authority alike of the Khedive and the Sultan, raised the war cry of "Egypt for the Egyptians," repaired, gunned and manned the forts at Alexandria, Then came the ultimatum of Admiral Seymour, representing Great Britain. France standing back in silence, the ignoring of the Admiral's commands, the bombardment of the city and the inevitable trium; h, so far, of British prowers. It is conceded, however, that the Egyptians fought with a stubbornness and bravery that could but be admired.

But the end is not yet. Although the power of England to suppress the rebellion and entirely suljugate the country is not disputed, yet the Chief who is now leading the Egyptian forces will in all probability give his assailants a great deal of trouble. The results are all the contract of the results are deal of trouble. The results are all though the contract of trouble. The regular army of Egypt was some time ago restricted by the Sultan to 18,000 men. But by an increase of tribute, permission was given for an increase to 30,000. The Egyptian soldiery, when they have been employed in late years, have not acquired any great reputation as fighting men. But under the in-fluence of leaders who are full of enthusiasm, and possessed with the idea of battling for liberty, patriotism may develop qualities in them

Recruits can no doubt be raised by Arabi on his march into the interiligious incitements forces may be brought into the field which will ligious incitements forces may be brought into the field which will tax the invader's powers to the utmost. And the sun of Egypt sends down his rays with no gentle warmth upon European heads. The land of the pyramids will prove a fatal camping ground for English troops. But to meet this difficulty, England can, if necessary, adopt the suggestion of Beaconsfield in another emergency, and ship native soldlers from India who are related to the suggestion of the company were reported another emergency, and ship native soldlers from India who are related to the company were reported to the company and the company to the company and the company to the company and the company to the company soldlers from India, who are well trained both in the tactics of modern warfare and to endure march ing under the heat of a tropical sun.

The trouble has only begun. Arabi is not yet conquered, and when the country is subdued, delicate questions will arise as to its possession and government, and unless wise heads and not too gready hearts are engaged in the settle-ment of these knotty questions, complications may arise which will bring all Europe into dispates that cannot be settled except by force of arms. INTERESTING NATURALIZA-TION DECISION.

A DECISION recently made by the Supreme Court of Illinois in a cas of disputed citizenship, is perhaps novel but is no doubt correct-John P. Kellar was indicted in the Federal Court at Springfield for having voted, when not entitled to vote, at an election for representative in Congress held in 1880 in the township of East Lincoln, Logan County. The facts of the case as they appeared on the trial were these: Kellar's parents were subjects of Prussia, where his father died in 1865, at which time the son was only seven years of age. His mother came to the United States, bringing the boy with her, and in 1868 she marrie! Michael Gaschka, who was a naturalized citizen of the United States.

The prosecution took the ground that Kellar had no right to vote without complying with Section 2167 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which provides that an alien arriving in this country under age, living here three years be fore attaining his majority, may, after five years residence, obtain his naturalization papers without making a declaration of intentions.

The Court decided that the section had no application to the case; but that Kellar's mother upon marriage with Gaschka became, ipso facto, a citizen of the United States as fully as if she had been herself naturalized, and that the son being a minor and dwelling in this country when his mother married became, by virtue of her marriage with a naturalized citizen, himself a citizen. The defendant was honorably discharged and a precedent established which should be generally understood. Not only is an alien woman naturalized by marriage to a citizen, but if she has minor children, they also become citizens by that union.

LUTIONS.

The following were among the resolutions adopted at the recent Methodist Conference in this city:

Resolved, That we fear that simply disfranchising those who are living in polygamy and teaching dialoyalty in this Territory is not likely to accomplish the end sought. In order to defeat recent legislation polygamists who held office of late have resigned their positions and their places have been filled by nonpolygamists who are the creatures flooded the country. The water in places is knee deep making the the behests of their polygamous ground too soft for the movement destruction of polygamy.

Edmunds bill will not accomplish the end proposed, and if present legislation fails we confidently look to Congress for further legislation that will accomplish the speedy destruction of polygamy.

Resolved, That we believe the polygamous legislature of this Territory should be abolished and a permanent commission of not less than nine citizens of Utah be appointed by the President of the United States and confirmed by the Senate, and that this commission should and that this commission should govern this Territory until Utah is Americanized and the laws of the United States made supreme.

The following named persons were present and took part in the Conference when the above were adopted Bishop J. F. Hurst, Dr. C. H. Fowler, G. M. Pierce, A. W. Adkinson, J. P. Merris, G. E. Jayne, I., A. Rudisill, E. Smith, D. T. Hedges, T. W. Lincoln, Theophilus B. Hilton, W. G. Burton, W. J. Bonham, Mrs. N. A. Morris and Miss Mary Wheelock.

We publish the foregoing for the information of some who seem of religious principles. And we ask them whether they wish these everend villifiers and defainers these political evangelists, these enemies of freedom, who are seek-ing to disfranchise the fathers and mothers, to desolate the Territory, to pillage plunder and lay waste to be the teachers and guardians of the little children. Is it really necessary to ask such questions of people claiming to be Latter-day Saints.

Two Egyptian regiments have been told off to defend Damielta and Rosetta. The Egyptian authori-ties join in a very half-hearted way in the eff rts to restore order and punish criminals. They seem anxious that the English should bear all the odium of such measures. Among the officers the men composing the entourage of the Khedive are regarded with great suspicion, and it may eventually be necessary to arrest several of them for treason able communication with Arabi. The Khedive's position is a very dif-ficult one, but it would be far better than it is were he to adopt a more decided and straightforward course. It is feared here that the news of the coming of the commission from Cairo will open the door to fresh talk of diplomacy, intrigue and procrastination.
