March 1, 1886 Monday THE LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION SCHEME.

THE Legislative Commission scheme is the ne plus ultra of Utah anti-"Mormons." Anything short of the politifor prey in this Territory. They want larly the latter. They want to reverse for their own greed the doctrine that majorities rule, and invest a very small minority with full power over the pea-

This scheme does not seem to obtain a great deal of favor in Congress. Other measures have been introduced embodying the views of religious fanaties and political cranks who are tain. They will not affect "Mormoncrazy on the subject of "Mormonism." public sontiment has become so religion. All it will do in the other thing that really does not affect them. | want, and therefore desire to prevent any regard left for constitutional re- tory.

In order to remove their objections, very plausible endeavors are had to make it appear that the Legislative Commission scheme is proper because it has the force of precedent. It is urged that the Territory of Louisians, the Territory of Florida, and the Territory north-west of the Ohio, were governed at first on this principle and that what was proper then cannot be impreper now. The extraordinary powers of Congress in relation to the of Congress in relation to the Territories, as construed by the Supreme Court of the United States, are also set forth to make it appear that the national authorities need stick at nothing in setting up just such a government as they choose in Utah.

All this may do very well for persons ignorant of the question, and who do not understand the motives that actuate the villains who advocate the destruction of every relic of republicanism in a Territory of the United States. We affirm, and challenge proof to the contrary, that there is not any precedent whatever for the revolution which ever for the revolution which is plotted under the name of a the Government of the United States has been organized was anything of the kind attempted before. Here is a local government established by the votes of the people within it, under a Constitution formulated by Congress Constitution formulated by Congress Mr. Sharp moved, that as there were some important amendments, to be Legislative Commission. Never since operation for thirty-six years. Its population has grown in numbers, wealth, influence, and experience in self-government all the time, having been hindered only by such stumblingblocks as have been placed in their way by Federal officials and other adventurers who have come among them.

If any change in their political condition is necessary, it is a step forward to Statehood. That is the legitimate movement. That is according to precedent. All the examples are in that direction. There is not one instance to the contrary. An organized Territory of the Union was never yet disorganized and turned over to the mercies of a Legislative Commission in whose appointment the commonwealth had no vote. Such a thing is totally without parallel in American history.

All the instances cited in which anything like a Legislative Commission was established, were in cases of unorganized and very small and scattered communities. They were not in a condition to assume the responsibilities of local government. The appointment of legislative bodies to enact or rather adapt laws suitable to an inchoate commonwealth, was but a temporary expedient. And in every case it was abolished as soon as there were citizens enough to elect their own Legislative Assembly. Provisions for the assumption of this right as fsoon; as the population became sufficient, were attached to the regulations for the preliminary government The right of the people to choose their own local legislators was acknowledged even in the appointment of their first law-makers, and that right once put into exercise has never yet been taken away from any Territory of the Ameri-

That taxation without representation is oppression and a violation of the rights of man, is an axiom that cannot be disputed. in American politics. It is because of its universal concession that in all the semimonarchial organizations formed outside of the States and called Territotories, the right of the people to elect their Legislative Assemblies has been recognized in every Organic Act. A Legislative Commission will be a practical denial of this universal right, and a violation of every principle belonging to a republican form of government. This is understood by every statesman; hence the reluctance to its inauguration, notwithstanding the general willingness to do something severe in the case of the "Mormons."
The claim of precedent for a Legislative Commission for Utah, then, which we have so frequently seen in reports of Auti-"Mormon" sermons and speeches and in articles written for the public papers, is totally without foundation. And the only excuse that can be offered for it in truth is, that it would be the quickest way of giving up the wealthlest and most prosperous and corderly Territory in the Union into the hands of political adventurers, who would steal themselves rich and the unfortusate people blind, before the shameless invasion of common rights and the wicked violation.

A NEW ANTI-"MORMON" BILL.

Our telegraph dispatches inform us that Mr. Woodburn, of Nevada, has introduced in the House of Representatives, an anti-"Mormon" bill similar in its provisions to the Idaho test oath bill. It is said to have received the approval of prominent Gentiles of Utah. This is quite likely, if by the "prominent Gentiles" is meant those hungry adventurers who are lusting for place and a chance to steal, in this Territory. The respectable Gentiles of Utah do not favor any such un-American and villainous scheme as that.

The meaning of the bill is that ino member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly called "Mormons," shall vote or hold in the committee on education.

ressed in those terms. All the verbisge of the bid is an unnecessary and roundabout way of gettine at that result. Why should "Mormons" be prevented from voting or holding office, seeing that they form at least 80 per ent. of the voting population? Why, simply because the less than 20per cent. minority want all political power in the Territory, and the religious bigots who hate the "Mormons," and the colitical time-servers who do the beests of the sectarians, want to put down "Mormonism" and imagine that this is the most effectual manner of accomplishing the work. . We recommend our readers to scan the bill, which will be found in the dispatches from Washington, and see if it cal revolution that this would effect has a single redeeming feature, or one will not satisfy the cravings of the that would recommend it to a patriot political cormorants that are watching or any citizen who venerates the institutions of his country. A recess was taken for half an hour, after which a communication from the House was read announcing their concurrence in the Council's amendments to H. F. No. 27, a bill amending the act establishing the Territorial Insane Asylum; also that they had concurred in the Council's amendments to the election bill, and that both measures had been sent to the committee on enrollment. to the committee on enrollment.

Another communication was received informing the Council that the House and adopted the report of the committee on conference in reference to the fish and game law. The House amendments were agreed to and the bill sent to the committee on any climent. to the committee on enrollment. Adjourned at 4:30.

HOUSE, FEB. 27.

The House assembled as usual at 2 c.m. to-day, and disposed of the preliminaries.

Mr. Stratford, chairman of the committee of ways and means, made a report recommending that the Territorial Auditor be authorized to lease suitable rooms for that officer and the Territorial Librarian, for the two years next ensuing. The report was adopted.

next ensuing. The report was adopted.

The House then resumed the special order of the day, to further consider the ponderous bill to provide revenue for the Territory of Utah and the several counties thereof. The discussion on this important measure was participated in by Messrs. West, King, McLaughlin, Hatch, Creer, Stratford, Young, Clarke and Rider.

At 3:10 p. m. a motion to postpone further consideration of the bill to a future time was lost, and the reading and discussion of and amendments to the bill were proceeded with.

the bill were proceeded with.

After an hour and fifteen minutes' debate section 2 of the bill was amended by eliminating objectional features and adding others more acceptable.

Mr. West offered the following amendment at the end of section 2, in relation to loans, etc.: "When money loaned on realty and chattels has been assessed to the mortgagee the assessor shall, if so requested by the mortgagor, deduct from his assessment the amount deduct from his assessment the amount of such mortgage."

After vigorous debate on this amendment, it was lost.

At 3.55 a motion to suspend the rules and consider the regular order of business was lost.

At this juncture messages were received from the Council, and by consent were acted on. The first message referred to Council amendments to it. F. 27, a bill in relation to the insanction; the other was, in reference to asylum; the other was, in reference to the House bill providing for the quali-fications of electors, office-holders, etc. The House concurred in all the amend-

CHICAGO, 1.—The Times prints the following: The war on the St. Paul & Omsha passenger rates is a flash in the pan up to date and does not even deserve the name of a skirmish. Predictions of a terribly hot contest that were rife a day or two ago remain unrealized, and the only tangible expectation to hold on to is the mere dictum of the St. Paul road that it will sell Omaha as cheaply as it finds its rivals making the rate to St. Paul in brokers offices. This means descending the scale at the rate of 50 cents to lievery time a scalper sacrifices his commission to secure a customer. Up to date the action of all the roads has been most impotent so far as securing actual the action of all the roads has been most impotent so far as securing actual results by forced fighting. As compromises seem to be impossible, and open war not contemplated, outsiders are a little at sea as to what the roads are driving at. The Trans-Continental war is equally featureless, although it is being waged with full vigor. Passenrates remain unchanged, with the exception that brokers find an active market. All sorts of figures could be given on freight, as it is a go-asyou please fight in that direction. Missourl River lines are all taking care of their connections in the matter of prorating, notwithstanding the action of last week's Pacific Coast Association, and will continue to share the rate in proportion during the contest.

CUTS OF ALL KINDS AND DEGREES are being made out of Chicago terri-tory and shippers are masters of the situation. From private advices it is learned that the fighting is raging hot-ter at San Francisco than at any other point, and that both in passenger and treight traffic demoralization reigns HATIVITIES.

Guilty.-The case of the People vs. Hannah Brightmore, for violating a Grantsville City ordinance, was tried in the Third District Court to-day. The jury returned a verdict of guilty against the defendant, and a fine of $50 and costs was imposed, making a total of over $120.

Cases Continued. - In the Third District Court to-day, the charges against Henry Grow and Charles Livngston were continued for the term, at the suggestion of the District At-torney, the reason assigned in the first named case being that an important witness could not be found.

Train Robber Escaped.—On Saturday evening John Smith, the train robber, succeeded in making his escape from two penitentiary guards when near the old paper mill. Smith robbed a Utah & Northern train in 1883, and was sentenced at Ogden, Saturday, to nine years in the penitentiary. When he was being taken to prison Saturdayinight, about 9 o'clock, he jumped from the wagon, and in the dark cluded his guards. He had handcuffs on at the time, but will probably succeed in freeing himself. A reward of $150 is offered for his return, dead or alive.

INCREASING THEIR BUSINESS. STRONG BRANCH HOUSE REACHING OUT FOR MORE FIELDS TO CON-QUER .-- ITS GREAT SUCCESS.

The Studebaker Brothers' Manufacturing Company, of whose Central Branch House J. B. Glass, of this city is manager, has been engaged the last seven or eight years in doing business in all this intermountain country. This house has assucies in all the larger towns or settlements throughout Utah, Western Wyoming and Idaho. Their sales of the manufactures of the well known Studebaker Brothers' Manufacturing Company have grown to immense proportions, and their name has become a familiar word with everybody who uses wagons, carriages and sleighs. Possessing extra facilities for the introduction and sale of agricultural machinery and implements, they have lately determined upon increasing their business. Their faith in the growth, prosperity and outcome of Diah and the adjoining Territories, with their great facilities for conducting such business, has caused them to make this new departure. This enlargement is not a new idea, but has been the subject of much thought and correspondence on the part of Mr. Glass for over one year, and who to consummate the matter, spent several weeks in the East this winter. During that trip he visited all the leading manufactories of the class of goods they wished to represent, and made selections of what they deem the best for the wants of the people.

Utah readers know that the manufacturing firms named have the reputation of making the best implements and machinery in the market.

While the central house in this city will have complete control of all the territory named and be much of a depository for supplying the agencies throughout the district operated, shipments will be made direct in carload lots to the various agencies, thus enabling them to sell goods at the very lowest rates. By this direct shipping, and the great facilities the Studebakers possess through ready means and great commercial operations, this will be enabled to handle their goods at most favorable prices.

Their present building will be retained as a carriage depository, and large additions will be made for the storage of the new lines of goods, including parts for repairs and supplies of various kinds for all machines and manufactures represented by them of various kinds for all machines and manufactures represented by them.

Their agents throughout the Territory are familiar with the prople and their wants, and experienced men will be employed for each of the several departments. Hereafter they will make a specialty of carriage trimmings, ducking and extra parts.

Mr. C. S. Benson, who has been an expert machine man with the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company, Chicago, the past seven years, has reached Sait Lake and will remain several months with the Studebaker Brothors'. Manufacturing Co. to fully establish this branch house of the McCormick Co. He will soon make a tour among the agencies under the Studebaker Central Branch House to give instructions and place everything in good shape.
