C. Orthello Brown Was Too Smooth
For the Alleged Railroad Man.

MONEY-LENDER PUT POLICE ON.

Result Was That After Loan Was Negotiated, Officer Herrick Placed Man Under Arrest.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Utah, Feb. 4.—Officer Herrick, Chief Browning and Detective Pender yesterday arrested two men giving their names as Carl Lillis and J. Kinsey, the former for forgery, and the latter for being implicated in the crime. The story runs thus: Kinsey, who runs the Waffle lunch counter in this city, has a slight acquaintance with C. Orthello Brown, who loans money. Yesterday he approached Brown and stated to him that he had a friend named Davis, employed as a conductor on the Lucin belt-off, who desired to borrow $100. Brown agreed to loan him the money provided he could furnish the necessary security and it was decided that they should meet at Kinsey's restaurant in the afternoon and negotiate the loan. Meanwhile Brown, who was somewhat suspicious of the pair, made inquiries concerning the alleged conductor and learned that no such party was employed by the Southern Pacific. He accordingly concluded that it was a scheme to rob him of his cash and notified the police department. Officer Herrick was detailed on the case and was instructed to go to the restaurant at the appointed hour and watch the game. He went, ordered a meal and awaited developments. Presently Brown and Davis appeared on the scene and entered into negotiations. The latter swore that his name was Davis and that he was a conductor on the Southern Pacific, and offered his note for 30 days, at the end of which time he would pay the money back with interest. The note was drawn up and signed, and Brown returned a check for $100. At this stage of the game Officer Herrick stepped up and placed Davis under arrest. When looked at the police station he gave the name of Carl Lillis, hence the charge against him of forgery. Kinsey was arrested some time later and will have to answer as an accomplice.

TRAIN WRECKER'S WORK.

Special Officer McIntyre of the Union depot reported to the police this morning that some culprit had placed a coupling pin in a frog just outside the depot yards, evidently for the purpose of wrecking a train. The pin, however, was struck by a switch engine going at a slow rate of speed and thus the damage intended was avoided. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the deed.

BROKE INTO A POOL ROOM.

This morning James Harcomb, John Furlong and John Heywood, three well known young men of this city, were arrested on complaint of D. Clark, proprietor of a pool room, who charges that last evening they broke into his place of business and succeeded in destroying a good part of his property. They will have a hearing tonight.

ASSAULT CHARGED.

Peter Vandergaert today swore to a complaint charging Michael Quinn, a section foreman for the Oregon Short Line, with assault and battery. It is alleged that this morning Quinn assaulted Vandergaert in a brutal manner.

DEATH OF MRS. NEUTEBOOM.

Mrs. Johanna Wilhelmina Brincker Neuteboom, wife of Evert Neuteboom, an employee of the Utah Cattle Company, died today of heart failure, after an illness of but a few hours. The deceased was born in Rotterdam, Holland, June 21, 1868, was baptized into the Church April 27, 1883, by Elder Benjamin Jensen and continued by her husband, who was then laboring as a missionary in that land. She came to Ogden in 1895 and was married Jan. 28, 1896, in the Logan Temple. She leaves a husband and two children, aged respectively seven years and nine months. Mrs. Neuteboom was a well known and highly respected resident of Ogden and her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends. The funeral will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. from the Fifth ward meetinghouse. The remains may be viewed at the family residence, 219 Madison avenue, between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. on the day of the funeral.

THE COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Trustees Meet and Discuss the Proposed Consolidation.

The school trustees of districts 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36 met with the county commissioners and County Superintendent of Schools Ashton today, and discussed the proposed consolidation of all the school districts of the county. At first nearly all the trustees were opposed to the plan, but when the meeting adjourned, all of them except those of Farmers and West Mill Creek districts favored the proposed scheme. All of the trustees favored the consolidation of all the districts north of the south line of Murray, into one district. At Crescent last night a mass meeting was held and a proposition was discussed and a vote taken which resulted in favor of consolidating all of the districts in Jordan stake into one district.

LATE LOCALS.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $331,202.02 as against $393,166.02 for the same day last year.

The various national guard indoor baseball teams are playing twice a week now in the armory.

If You Have These Symptoms Send For My Book.

If you want to feel better,
If you want more strength,
If you lack ambition,
If you can't do things like you used to,
If you lack confidence in yourself,
If your nerve-your courage-is leaving you,
If you lack vim, vigor, vitality,
If something is eating away your constitution, write to me for the book you need.

The book tells how by scientific experiments I traced out the causes that bring on chronic diseases. It tells how I perfected my prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

I feel invariably that where there was a weakness, the inside nerves were weak. Where there was a lack of vitality, that the vital nerve lacked power. Where weak organs were found, I always found weak nerves. Not the nerves connected with the organs, but the vital organs, the inside-the invisible nerves.

This was a revelation. Then my real success began.

Then I combined ingredients that would strengthen, that would vitalize these nerves. That prescription I called a Restorative. It is known to the world over now as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. After that I did not fail to cure one case in each hundred. I cured the most difficult cases. My failures for five years were one in each forty treated. I found cancer incurable. Cancer is for surgery, not medicine.

Then how to get this prescription to sick ones everywhere was my thought. I must announce it in the public press. But, thought I, will you realize the truth of my discovery—the real power of Dr. Shoop's Restorative? Then a way to me—like an inspiration, I will offer it to the sick on trial. Then they will know I am sincere.

I feel like a druggist in each city and village in America. They agreed to co-operate with me. Now by any sick one can be taken on trial. A full month I will let you use it entirely at my risk. Send no money. Just write me for the book you need. When I send it will tell you of a druggist near by who will permit the month's trial. Use the Restorative a month. Then decide. If you say to the druggist, "It did not help me," that will relieve you of any expense whatever. He will tell the cost to me. This is my way of clearing your mind of all doubts as to what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do. No matter how prejudiced you may be, this is a safe security I offer. You cannot resist an offer like this if you are at all sick. If you have weakness, write me. If you can't do things like you used to do, tell me about it. As a physician I write in confidence. As a physician I want you a way to help. Get my book now—today.

Simply a little book on Dyspepsia, which will tell you how to cure the heart, stomach and bowels. Send for it. Dr. Shoop, Box 104, for Men (also called "Book on Rheumatism").

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured with one or two bottles. At druggists.

The funeral of William Gundry, the mining man, was held at 2 p. m. today, from the residence, 24 North Second West street, with interment at Mt. Olivet.

C. E. Cridle, who had his left hand badly cut while manipulating a rip saw at Pocatello, is at St. Mark's hospital receiving attention. The physicians say he will not so much as lose a finger.

There will be a civil service examination in this city, March 2 for the position of mechanical draftsman, with salary at $1,200, and in the ordinance department at large; also, for the position of miscellaneous computer in the United States naval observatory, with salary at $800 to $1,000.

This morning's minimum thermometer was "quite reasonable," and registered no lower than 32 degrees above zero, but in the night the cold came down, with no more of any let-up. Rain is expected in this section tonight, with snow later on, and cold.

Frank Johnson, of 342 east Second Street reported this morning to the police that his chicken coop was robbed last night and three valuable chickens stolen. It is understood that the police have a clue as to the identity of the thieves and their arrest is hourly expected. Several complaints of this kind have been received at police headquarters recently.

This morning Officer Parry arrested a fellow who gave his name as C. Jackson, on the charge of obtaining a meal in a restaurant on Commercial street and refusing to pay for it. Jackson was released from the city jail but a few days ago after serving time for the same offense. He was not intoxicated this morning but thought the easiest way to get a square meal was the method he employed.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

There were several notably delightful affairs yesterday, including the dancing parties given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cutler and Miss Mabel Cutler in the Twentieth ward hall, that by Miss Elidredge at her home, the luncheon given by Mrs. Daggett in honor of Mrs. Beattie of Idaho and others.

Mrs. Le Roi Snow entertained in honor of Miss Mabelle Snow this afternoon.

Tonight the engineer class of the U. of U. will give a ball at the university, the museum and gymnasium to be used for dancing. About 400 invitations have been issued and the affair promises to be a successful one.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gray entertained informally last night in honor of Mrs. Belrin of San Francisco.

A notably interesting event will take place tomorrow night in the Congregational church when a musical recital will be given by Mr. Wallace, assisted by Prof. McClellan and Spencer Clawson, Jr.

The Misses Hanner will entertain the Bridge club tonight.

Mrs. W. A. Golden entertained informally at dinner on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. M. F. Allen.

Mrs. Ed. Parsons will entertain tomorrow at luncheon in honor of Miss Jane McIntyre.

Col. and Mrs. E. P. Holmes will entertain at dinner tonight.

STOCKDALE SAYS WIFE WAS FLIGHTY

Defendant Files Answer to the Divorce Complaint in Third District Court.

ASKS FOR CUSTODY OF CHILD.

Alleges That His Wife Neglects Offspring and is Not Fit Person
To Care For It.

W. H. Stockdale today filed an answer to the divorce complaint filed against him by Amelia R. Stockdale in which he denies that he used abusive language toward her or failed to furnish her with proper medicine or care when she was ill. He alleges that he furnished her with all the medicine prescribed by the attending physician and further that he furnished a nurse for her. He denies that his wife left their home through fear of him but that she was of such a "flighty" disposition that she would suddenly leave him without notice or cause and go to the home of her parents or elsewhere and stay for weeks at a time.

Defendant admits that upon just provocation he called his wife's brother a "cur" and a "puppy dog." He alleges that his wife took the child and went to the home of her brother to nurse him and has refused to return to him. He claims that plaintiff is not a fit person to have the care of their child for the reason that she neglects him and has often come home from work and found the child dirty and he would have to wash and clean him. He therefore asks that the plaintiff take nothing by her action, and that a suitable person be appointed to have the custody of the child so that it may have proper care and attention.

JOHN BARLEY CORN ACCUSED.

Stella Stephens filed suit for divorce in the district court today against George Stephens, a "floodora" on the ground of habitual drunkenness. They were married on June 20, 1888. It is alleged that after their marriage defendant became addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors and became so abusive that plaintiff was compelled to leave him. Defendant promised to quit drinking, and induced his wife to return to him, but in the year 1902 he again commenced the use of liquor and plaintiff left him. She asks that she be granted a reasonable sum for alimony, and also attorney's fees.

GIVEN NINE MONTHS.

Negro Who Heaped Coals of Fire on Head Given Nine Months.

C. H. Brown, a colored man, was arraigned before Judge Morse in the criminal division of the district court this morning on the charge of arson and entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to the county jail for nine months in the state prison. Brown, on Jan. 29, set fire to some bedding at the home of Frank W. Ross, 375 State street, and attempted to burn the house down.

Committed to Reform School.

Fred Kinnity, a boy 14 years of age, was committed to the state industrial school today by Judge Morse on the charge of incorrigibility.

SUPREME COURT.

Two Opinions Handed Down, One Affirms, Other Reverses Judgment.

The supreme court today affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of Houffner v. City, appellant, vs. D. C. Lee, C. F. Hogan, William Winegar, Wallace Muir, J. C. Wood and G. W. Roberts. The action was brought in Davis county to recover the sum of $25, which plaintiff expended in building a flume over an irrigation ditch belonging to defendants, which crossed Fourth West street in Bonanza. A city ordinance was passed compelling parties to build a flume over the ditch within the ordinance and plaintiff proceeded to build a flume and then undertook to collect the cost of the same.

Defendants' counsel, on the complaint on the ground that it did not state facts constituting a cause of action. The demurrer was sustained and the complaint dismissed. Plaintiff then appealed to the supreme court, which today affirmed the judgment. The opinion was written by Chief Justice Baskin and concurred in by Justices Barch and McArthur. The opinion holds that there is nothing in the city ordinance which gives the city power to recover in such a case.

JUDGMENT REVERSED.

The judgment of the lower court in the case of Dor v. Dor, appellant, vs. the Huntington Canal and Agricultural association was today reversed by the supreme court with instructions to reinstate the complaint and proceed with the case. The action was brought in Emery county to recover $200 as damages for failure to furnish plaintiff with the amount of water to which he claimed he was entitled. The defendant claimed that it levied an assessment on its stock for the purpose of constructing a reservoir, and that plaintiff failed to pay the assessment on his stock. Judgment was rendered for defendant and an appeal was taken by plaintiff. The supreme court, which has reversed the judgment, held that the defendant's action was not a condition of the plaintiff's right to water, and that it was not a condition of the plaintiff's right to water.

Amusements

As there is great difference of opinion about the beauty claims of Mrs. Langtry, so there are opposite views as to her histrionic abilities. Many ladies vote her positively ugly, while others pronounce her figure lovely and her features perfect as to regularity, although they confess that her mouth is rather too large and her lips insufficiently full. As to her acting, some think it too tame and others that it is so natural as to show a high class of dramatic art. As to "The Degenerates," a few critics pronounce it execrable, while many others consider it an exhibition of a side of society that is real if repelling. The records of affairs in high life that needs exposing, to reflect the disgust which it ought to provoke. However, it is not so bad as might be expected from the title. Much is left to the imagination. The situation, gambling, ill-matched marriages for many considerations, hints of further evils and displays of ill-nature and jealousy, abound in the play, but are offset by genuine affection, maternal love, generous impulses and acts, and the final triumph of the good in faultily but not depraved human nature. Mrs. Langtry has in it a part that suits her particular style of performance and gives her opportunity to display her form and dresses. Each of the others has enough to do to show their respective abilities in a small way, but the character of the consumptive wreck, who inherited several millions, half a lung and a broken down constitution from degenerate parents, is the best rendered of all. The chief interest centers on the divorced Mrs. Trevelyan, with an undesirable reputation but with a good heart and a mother's love, who, in spite of her soiled name is made happy at last in the love of a true man, who is to marry her and "settle down." A discordant couple also are finally harmonized and united. What becomes of the Degenerates is left to the guesswork of the audience and why they are made to figure in the play, except to show up the vices of a certain class in the "upper world," it is difficult to discover. The piece is well mounted, the dresses are fine and appropriate, and there are incidents that arouse strong interest and are well portrayed. There was a fair "house" and the music was excellent. It is unlikely that the Jersey Lily will blossom again on the Salt Lake stage.

Against a Big Navy.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Mr. Gorman, in advocating no increase in the navy and a reduction of the army, said the military officers with nothing to do would find a way to get the United States in trouble. It was the talk in high naval circles that we were going about the world with chips on our shoulders seeking to establish with one great commercial rival, Germany, on account of her ingenuity and enterprise in taking the markets of the world.

EIGHT-STORY BUSINESS BLOCK.

Big Office Building to be Erected
By the J. R. Walker Estate
This Spring.

SECOND SOUTH EAST TEMPLE.

Structure on Sight of the Walker
Bank, Possibly the Best Corner
In the City.

There is to be a fine great business structure to go up at the Walker bank corner, in place of the unpretentious structures that have stood as landmarks there for so many years. The site, 50 feet on East Temple street, and 165 on Second South street, is to be graced by another year with an eight story brick and stone $300,000 building, such as the town has been looking for these many decades. Architect J. C. Craig, who made such a fine success of the Emery-Holmes apartment house at Eagle Gate, has submitted plans to the management of the estate of J. R. Walker, which owns the corner, and excepting perhaps a few modifications, it is understood that the plans prepared by Mr. Craig will be accepted. The style of the building is rather of the French renaissance, and will be modern in every particular. Provision is made for handsome banking rooms on East Temple street, with commodious entrances on both streets, and on the different floors there will be room for about 60 office apartments. There are to be several elevators, and the interior work will be of the very best.

Business in the present structures will be disturbed but slightly, as there is no excavating to speak of, and the present walls will be supported by transverse steel beams, while being enclosed by the new walls. Work begins in the spring at an early date as is convenient.

It continues to be currently believed in building circles that the long pending deal between Senator Clarke and M. J. Walker relative to the drug store corner across from the bank, will be closed up at an early date, and the price per foot mentioned is $2,700, which, however, may be "subject to change."

Eight story buildings on these two corners will be materially changed for the better, and the future of the street assured.

Fair Commissioner Arrives.

New York, Feb. 4.—Theodore Lewald, German commissioner to the St. Louis exposition, arrived today on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, from Bremen.

THE KAISER WILHELM DER GROSSE HAD A TEMP. T. OUS TRIP.

New York, Feb. 4.—A wireless telegraph dispatch from Nantucket light-house says that Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which will dock this morning at 43 hours late, experienced a most tempestuous voyage across the Atlantic but all on board were reported well. Soon after the departure from Cherbourg the vessel ran into a heavy southeaster. This soon shifted to the west and raised a head sea through which the steamship ploughed heavily. Throughout Thursday and Friday the gale continued, with now and then a half squall rapping hard on deck. On Friday night the barometer portended some still worse weather and at 2 o'clock the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was shrieking overhead. Struggling against it at reduced speed the ship made only 2 1/2 knots.

The gale broke on Saturday noon, but left behind a glut of rain. It was a wild scene, but so deep was the plunges that most of the passengers were content to remain in their state-rooms.

It was, however, but a brief respite which the weather gave, and Sunday found the Kaiser struggling with another furious gale. This finally blew itself out and then came another which, toward midnight, developed into a cyclone. A port ventilator went with a crash, the stout iron cylinder being literally twisted from its fastenings and hurled to the deck with a crash. The storm of five other ventilators was snapped off, some sailing overboard, others bounding and crashing about the decks.

The bow of the vessel was swung straight into the wind, and there the lay for three hours, great seas breaking over her bow and her whole length hidden in the storms of spray. Capt. Cuppers remained on the bridge constantly until the storm passed. No person was injured and no great alarm was felt among the passengers.
