INTERESTING LETTER FROM NEW ZEALAND.

To the Y. M. M. I. A. of Elsinore:

My companion (Wm. Gardner, of Pine Valley), and I have just returned from a trip south, where we attended at a native village called "Taonoke," distant from here 175 miles. We were natives and Maori people. We had a splendid time, and I enjoyed my trip very much. Much valuable instruction was given and received, and everything passed off very nicely. Many of the native members delivered some pointed sermons on the principles of the Gospel, and others bore their testimony to the truth. The statistics report showed the mission to be in a healthy and prosperous condition, and the prospects for the future look encouraging. The

CONFERENCE

of this mission was, at the end of last year, 1,676, over 800 of whom were natives, and more than 500 have been baptized during the year.

Perhaps a few words of description concerning this mission, its location and appearance from those generally seen at home. The conference was held as before mentioned place called "Taonoke," situated on the North Island near Napier, in the District of Hawke's Bay, and only 10 miles from the sea (on the east coast of the Island.) "Otene Melihana," who was the first Maori baptized in this district and the owner of "Taonoke," had built a large fine "whare" in Maori architecture, and the natives of the district and Maoris had been gathering for a whole week for meeting, some of them bringing their own produce, such as corn, fruit, potatoes and food of all kinds in domination of the Maori King, not without the approval of the British Government, the English government. They entertained a toward the government, and all who people have until lately been forbidden to do, they were now permitted to do. Indeed, it would not have been safe for a white man to go so. Country to not believe in Christ, but have a "haubau." They believe in some formidable spirit which they call the

The native Saints in the district of the Maori King, were anxious to have great confidence in my learning their language, and they petitioned me to reside on the coast. I was surprised to find that they were so full of insight with them and began to work, but he thought my labors would be better if I were to open the door of the Gospel to the natives in the King Country, so accordingly I left the coast and went to the old field.

After leaving the native Saints gave me a horse, so we took turns riding and walking on our return trip. One of pond note (55), and they all expressed their regret that I could not stay with them.

On our return we visited many Maori villages, preaching in nearly every place we traversed.

LAKE TAUPŌ.

The largest lake in New Zealand. On the banks of this lake are many native settlements, and the scenery here, in places, is very beautiful. The volcanic nature can afford. At the extreme west end of the lake is a volcano called "Tombora," and the place around the lake are numerous hot springs, the waters of which are said to be wonderful to behold. But it would require too much time and space to describe all these things, and I shall not attempt it in this letter.

On my trip I saw different types of people, and in all a new and novel manner, although most of them were very poor. We went for days, and I saw many things that I had never seen before. I am getting quite used to such fare, and now I rather like it, and consider it very good. I am getting used to it enough of it to satisfy my appetite.

My trip occupied 47 days, during which I traveled nearly 1000 miles. I carried a small proportion of it by rail and on horseback, but mostly on foot. We were in the city of Auckland in March every time but one, which was in a town called Napier, where I held a meeting.

Brother Gardner and I have baptised altogether 38 persons and administered the Lord's Supper to 100 persons and blessed one child.

Many Maoris expressed their desire to be baptized in the future, but as it was the first time they had ever seen a "Mormon" they wished to see one before they were baptized and proper.

The whole I am quite satisfied with what was accomplished in the trip. We had some rough weather and suffered from the cold, but we had a waterproof coat, a thing which is almost indispensable in this wet country.

In about a week we intend starting for the King Country. About ten

Karakariki, 60 miles north from here, I had the honor of an INTERVIEW WITH THE MAORI KING, whose name is Tawhiao. I presented him the principles of the Gospel, and besides asking him a number of questions about his country and people. He told me very kindly and in a respectful manner, after supper with him, and he invited me to go and preach the Gospel in his country. He said that he had been that just then a letter arrived from the president of the mission, requesting that I should go to the King's country. I started immediately for the King's country. But it is not too late yet. I don't think it is likely that I will lose his invitation, and if he has, I shall lose no time in reminding him of it. I am sure that he will be glad to hear that I have eventually come out of it, for the words like that from the king will have untold value.

Our district, of which Bro. Gardner was the pastor, is a very large one, and large, embracing the northern half of this island, and there are only two of us to take care of it. I am going to the King's Country to attend visiting the extreme northern tongue of the island, and to ascertain the general condition of the Maoris, and whether they will receive the Gospel. I think it will be useful to ascertain among the Maoris it is absolutely essential to be

MASTER OF THEIR LANGUAGE.

It is hard here to obtain interpreters and to be understood. I have often obtained one, for when the words and sentences have to be strained through the ears of an interpreter, the meaning and understanding of the listener, the real essence is generally lost. This is why I am anxious to learn the Maori, enough to know it to be a fact.

I am making wonderful progress in the Maori language, and I can speak as marvelous in my own eyes. But in the meanwhile I do not forget to give God the glory, and to thank him for all that he has and is doing for me.

native ways. Conference, during the last week of April, was a long time, and I would not think of such a thing as attempting to preach a sermon in Maori. I was, however, able to make a return trip, in some instances where the people were gathered for a hearing. The words which I needed to come to come right on my tongue, and the natives could understand me very well, and among them only a few months. Though but four weeks ago when listening to the natives, I could not understand a very few words, now the ears of my understanding have been opened, and I can understand nearly all of their ordinary talk.

My countryman, George Gardner, has also made good progress, and we have every reason to be greatly encouraged.

BRANCH OF THE HOUSE OF ISRAEL,

are an interesting race indeed, and among whom a great work is sure to be done. There are many things in their customs and habits which are in accord with the customs of the ancient Israel, as for instance cutting their flesh and their hair, and wearing their bodies, as a mark of mourning over the dead (see Leviticus 19:28). There are many other things too numerous to mention. But there is another thing in favor of the supposition, which is that they were descended from the House of Israel, except without questioning what others would be more likely to reject, namely, the divine authenticity of the Book of Mormon.

They are an intelligent people, and an often led to wonder how they could have been so long in the state of barbarism as that of eating one another, which used to be a common custom.

They are exceedingly hospitable also, and are willing to impart of their substance as long as they can help. But they are

and have many foolish traditions which they do not easily forsake. They are very much attached to their idols, of which is in consequence of not properly appreciating or understanding the true value of the things which they have. These are things which it will require time, and patience together with the

The Maoris are now beginning to see the folly and uselessness of the different wars they are waging among themselves, and are fast falling away from them. They see that they have been deceived by the missionaries, and that those who have through strategy stolen their land from them. Especially are they coming to see that the wars are the consequence of their own just as void of foundation as the wars of the creeds of the different religions. They think having no more wars.

CREEDS OF THEIR OWN

It will cost them less money and less blood, if they will turn to the Christian ministers dearly for their false religion. As I said, this has caused them to lose their land, and to be the cause of the sequence of this some among them have arisen, calling themselves prophets, and are drawing away the people after them.

New Zealand in general is not a country that is covered with mountains, like Utah, although in many places there is natural scenery as beautiful as nature can possibly afford.

THE COUNTRY

In general is rough and hilly, and very difficult to travel. It is dotted with forests of gigantic timber and will watered with abundance of springs, creeks, rivers, and lakes.

I have never yet been maltreated or persecuted, and only once have I been threatened, and that was by a man called Waiapu, who wanted to incite the community to drown me in the bay called Waiapu. As the war passed through the town where this pious Christian kept a boat and a house, I was told that he had said that I was a "Mormon" so a gathering around. I entered the store and talked with "Mormonism" until 10 o'clock, at night. The store was full of people, and when they left most of them shook me on the cheek and said, "Good night."

Your humble brother and fellow servant in the cause of truth,

CHARLES ANDERSON.
