SHORTAGE OF ORES AND COAL | MINER WRITES THE OPINION

Chief Justice Bartch Dissents-Evidence Tending to Convict Defendant Was Too Much.

The Supreme court handed down an opinion today in the case of the State of Utah vs Christopher Hilberg, ap pellant, reversing the judgment of the criminal division of the Third district court, A. G. Norrell, judge, with direc-

Hilberg was convicted on September 19, 1899, of improper conduct with a sixteen-year-old girl named Annie Ward, and sentenced to two years in the

Upon the trial Miss Ward was permitted, against the objection of counsel for the defendant, to testify to the first wrongful act as having occurred in April, 1897; about eleven months before the act charged in the information. She was also, under objection permitted to testify to five other acts occurring thereafter during the years '97 and '98. The last act occurred in April, 1898, two months after the time specified in the information. A motion to strike out was denied. This was assigned as error on appeal.

In commenting on the course pursued by the court below in allowing these six distinct acts to go to the jury the Supreme Court says: "No jury should be set to fishing or hunting for a charge which it is called upon to try. Such a course deprived the defendant of a fair trial, and compelled him, without warning, to defend against acts of which he had no notice. Manifestly, he could not be prepared to meet such confusing charges not contained in the information. * * * Only one offense was charged, but the six different offenses were proven * * * when evidence was introduced tending directly to the proof of one act, and for the purpose of securing a conviction upon it, from that moment that paricular act became the act charged No election having been made by the prosecution, the law made the election The testimony showing several acubsequent to April, 1897, the cou olds, was improperly admitted and the efendant was prejudiced thereby Counsel for defendant, in ord show the character of Miss Ward, asked witnesses if they knew what her rep tation for chastity was during the month of February, 1897. Error was also assigned on the refusal of Judge Norrell to instruct the jury that no conviction could be had on the testimony of Miss Ward, for the reason that she showed herself to be an accomplice. The fact that the prosecutrix was under the age of consent the law, the court holds, will not presume she consented, although the evidence showed that she was a consent-Error was also assigned on the reing party. ## THE MEALS ARE ALWAYS GOOD.

"The train is crowded with agreeable surprises, but it is in the dining car that one is most impressed with the out being too utterly dainty, I am ex-ceedingly particular about my meals, and about the way they are served. For breakfast all I want is eggs, rolls, and coffee. In a Burlington dining car I am able to get just what I want, just what I would have at my own table, and for the small sum of fifty cents. The exquisite neatness of the napery makes a good meal taste all the hetter. -Interview with a Denver merchant.
