

FINDING OF BODY OF JOHN PAUL JONES

Gen. Horace Porter, Who Has Just Arrived in New York, Tells
The Wonderful Story.

SEARCH LASTED SIX YEARS.

With Houdon's Bust, Exact Measurements and Autopsy, the Identification Was Absolutely Complete.

New York, July 14.—Gen. Horace Porter, retiring ambassador to France, who has arrived here after an absence of eight years abroad, discussing the finding of the body of John Paul Jones as the result of a search lasting six years, said:

"At last the excavations brought to light five leaden coffins. Four had plates identifying the bodies within, and the fifth, of far better construction, had none. By the process of elimination we decided it must contain the body of the distinguished naval hero. When, in the presence of anthropologists and surgeons of note, the coffin was opened, words cannot express our surprise at the remarkable state of preservation the body was found in.

"Clothed in a splendid sheet of linen, the arrangement of the coffin tallied exactly with the historical documents that told of the careful preparation to ship the body to the United States, as was the first idea. There was tin-foil over the hands and face, and the interior of the coffin was filled with hay and straw that the body could not roll in the long and necessarily rough voyage at that time in a sailing vessel. Together with the documents we had the Houdon bust with which to compare the head, and so carefully was this done by the examining surgeons that a mole on the left ear was discovered by one. And also upon examining the bust the same physical mark was found.

"In all the measurements there was not a variance of two millimetres, that is seventy-eight thousandths of an inch. If all of this is remarkable, the autopsy by the eminent Dr. Captain of Paris, is more so. Think of an autopsy being performed on the body of a man who died 113 years before. We knew that John Paul Jones had an attack of bronchitis pneumonia in Russia, a year before he died in France. The autopsy showed the presence of the disease in the left lung, which the French physicians long before had recorded as out of order. The examination further showed, as history stated, that John Paul Jones died of chronic nephritis, and plainly showed the dreadful condition of the patient before his death.

"The naval hero was somewhat of a dandy, you know, and on the body was a fine linen shirt, the bosom of which was laid with ruffles and plaits. His clothing bore the initials 'J. P. J.' Gen. Porter will be for some time the guest of his son, Clarence, in this city.

KANSAS OIL SUIT.

A Manager Tells How He Secured Business in Sunflower State.

Kansas City, July 13.—The giving of rebates as a common practice to secure business was brought out today in the testimony of A. G. Shires of Marietta, O., travelling salesman for the Pennsylvania Refining company of Oil City, Pa., who was a witness in the hearing in the state suit to oust the Standard Oil company, the Republic Oil company and the Waters-Pierce Oil company from the state of Missouri.

Mr. Shires was manager for the Republic Oil company at St. Joseph, Mo., from November, 1901, to May, 1902, and came to Kansas City in June as assistant manager for the Republic Oil company. He found the Standard and the National "the only" companies here, he said. He had charge of the tank business for the Republic, the lubricating oil department, and handled gasoline and kerosene for grocers.

He was, he said, instructed to get after the National's customers. Henry Toole, the manager, Mr. Shires told him to get out of the National's customers, and if necessary pay a rebate of 1 cent a gallon. These rebates were paid in cash to customers. He said he never had tried to get trade from the Standard's customers. The rebates applied only to the National's trade. Mr. Shires said he was told by Mr. Toole to say to customers that the Republic Oil company was an independent concern.

"Did you ever, during your whole experience here," inquired Atty.-Gen. Hadley, "offer any rebate to a customer to get out of the National's trade?" "No, sir, never."

"Where did you get the information regarding rebates to charge for oil?" "From the Standard Oil company always."

"How did you instruct your salesmen here?"

"To say that the Republic Oil company was an independent company, handling Pennsylvania goods; that it had no connection with the Standard Oil company and was out for the business."

Mr. Shires said that when he was manager at St. Joseph for the Republic Oil company he once had the much oil on hand and he wired to Kansas City for instructions. He was ordered, he said, to transfer the oil to the Standard Oil company, and did so. He sometimes used the Standard's name and the Standard.

SIX PHYSICIANS

FOUND THIS CASE OF RHEUMATISM BEYOND THEIR SKILL.

Mr. Jones Tells of the Way by Which He Treated Himself Successfully When Doctors Failed.

Six physicians, all of them good, one of them a specialist, had done their best for Mr. Jones at different times during these years, and still he suffered fearfully from the tortures of rheumatism.

He had felt occasional twinges first in January, 1901, and in February of that year he was compelled to give up and to take to his bed for a stage of two weeks. From that time on for a period of more than three years, until the fall of 1904, he was a constant sufferer.

Of his condition during this time, Mr. Jones says: "My rheumatism started in my right thigh, but in time it spread throughout my body. I lost the use of my left arm entirely and nearly lost the use of my right one. My feet were badly affected, especially the bottoms of the heels. When my right side was affected there was swelling, but the left side felt swell when the disease settled there. The internal organs didn't seem to be involved at all. The trouble was all in the muscles and the nerves."

Among the few who still encouraged Mr. Jones to think that a cure might be found in spite of many disappointments he had suffered was a friend who had reason for great confidence in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and acting on her advice he bought a box of them in September, 1904. The story of what followed is brief but nothing could be more satisfactory, for a perfect cure was at last found.

"When I was on the third box," says Mr. Jones, "I could realize a chance for the better. I felt sure then that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were the cure for my case. For I kept on and now I am entirely well, and everybody is asking what I took. I wasted a great deal of money on useless treatment, but the little I spent for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was invested right."

Mr. William Jones lives at Oxford, Mich., and is well known through Oakland and Lander counties. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effect wonderful cures in rheumatism, because they work directly on the blood, which is the seat of the disease. As soon as that is cleaned and enriched with blood and nerve tonic, they are sold by every druggist. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 235 N. 2nd St., New York, has a valuable booklet on "Diseases of the Blood," to any one who writes for it.

At examination, District Attorney Healey will be aided by officers of the secret service.

QUIET AT FRONT

But Japanese Are Still Moving In Korea.

Ridgely, Manchuria, July 13.—Quiet continues along the front, but the Japanese are still moving in Korea. The Russian trains move as far as Chang-tai, information from the Japanese lines indicates that the rank and file are exceedingly anxious for peace. To counteract this feeling Field Marshal Oyama is issuing glowing appeals to the patriotism of his army.

The Chinese say that decaying corpses buried in shallow graves in frozen ground after the battle of Mukden, have created a terrible condition. Plague and cholera are said to have appeared among the Japanese.

He was removed to a private hospital and his recovery seems assured.

After shooting McCarty, Sheriff Thomas arrested his tramps and one of these has been identified as C. D. Castle, another of the convicts. A third man is declared to be an escaped convict from the Oregon penitentiary, whose name has not been learned.

McCarty and Castle will be brought to Tacoma this afternoon.

Of the eight convicts who escaped on the Fourth of July, but one, George Wads, who was the leader, remains at liberty.

Tore Up Switch. Pittsburg, Pa., July 13.—Under attack of a heavy rainstorm a force of Pennsylvania railroad employees tore out the connection between the West side belt line, recently acquired by the Western Pennsylvania and the Pan Handle tracks in the West End.

MONEYPHOBIA

Much Discontent with Code of Commercial Morals.

Providence, N. Y., July 13.—At the annual convention of the New York State Bankers' association here today, former Asst.-Atty.-Gen. James M. Beck of New York spoke on "Moneyphobia."

Mr. Beck said the signs of the times indicate a growing feeling of social discontent which finds its chief expression in indiscriminate attacks on the money market. The recent commencement season, he said, unmistakably indicated that educated youth are disheartened by the phenomena of business in their moral aspects. "Their delinquencies toward society," he said, "are not confined to the ignorant, the vicious, the malicious. The recent commencement season, he said, unmistakably indicated that educated youth are disheartened by the phenomena of business in their moral aspects."

Mr. Beck continued: "Among the conspicuous critics of the times the present discontent is due to a personal dislike for the money market. Abuses of trusts have run riot. They are not, as I believe, due to the fact that men are essentially dishonest, but to the fact that in part to the intoxication that inevitably marked the most rapid and extraordinary period of commercial expansion, the world has ever known and also to the artificial character of our commercial machinery."

"The complex machinery of social affairs has caused a certain diffusion and therefore weakening of moral responsibility. The corporation with the legal fiction that it is a moral personality, has been a factor in the development of this evil."
