County Attorney.

This jury will be the second grand jury summoned in this state since statehood, the other being in the year 1896, when the Bacon bank scandal was investigated. The jury consists of seven men, five of whom must vote for an indictment before one can be returned to the court. Their investgations are private, no one being admitted to their sessions except the district at-torney and witnesses only during their examination. The jury will be placed in charge of Dist. Atty, Elchnor and, as he has criminal cases set for trial until April 13, the jury will probably not begin its investigations until after the Clyde Ellison murder case, which is the last case on the criminal calendar

The advisability of relieving the gov. tion with the matter was very forcibly impressed upon the mind of Dr. Parkin by a statement made by President by a statement made by President Roosevelt recently at a dinner in Washington at which the former was present. In a conversation with the president in relation to the scholarships Dr. Parkin said. "Now, Mr. Presi-dent, don't you think it would be ad-visable to place the matter of these appointments in the hands of the gov-ernors of each state?" appointment of two students from this state was discussed at length. Why, even my best friend, Gov. —, if that matter were entrusted to him he would say: 'Now, how can I use this to the best advantage for the next election?' No, sir; this is an academic matter, keep it academie!" Following the advise of President Roosevell, Dr. Parkin has decided that the leading educators shall take charge awarding the scholarships throughout the United States, Canada, South Al-rica and Europe. To that end it is nec-essary that he should meet and consuit with the leading educators of both continents so that a plan may be adopted that will meet the requirements of each particular locality in order that the best results in the selection of a representative student upon whom the scholarship will be conferred may be obtained. He has already consulted the leading educators shall take charge of the examinations and pass upon the of the examinations and pass upon the qualifications of the candidates and thereby a better result will be ob-tained. In no other states in the Union do the enditions prevail that are prevalent furing the wool season in Utah, Wyonung and Idaho. So great has competition been in the past that each year broader concessions have been made the buyers in order to secure the ipments of wool. The woolbuyers have been given mileage books and have gone around the country accominled by a following of eight agents, all eager to get the clip their respective roads,
