The Indians each year interest on the bank for their support. I cited in illustration of what would be the practical workings of this suggestion, the case of the Crow, Cheyenne, and Arapahoe and Ute. The increase of my report did not prevent a full discussion of the advantages that would result from the adoption of any such plan. The material prosperity of the nation. When it is attempted to make a reservation, the first difficulty is as once encountered in that reservation. The various reservations have been made with within more than approximate limits.
It will, therefore, not be possible to show the exact workings of the method proposed, but only a general summary covering the cases of the larger reservations. The following are the interesting statistics for the smaller reservations. The Crow reservation in Montana, which is the largest of the smaller reservations, is situated in the northern part of the State and contains about 1,000,000 acres. It is inhabited by about 10,000 Indians.
The Cheyenne reservation in Wyoming contains about 1,000,000 acres and is inhabited by about 10,000 Indians.
The Arapahoe reservation in Colorado contains about 1,000,000 acres and is

The project of the marriage of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria with the daughter of the Crown Prince Frederick William has been revived. Prince Bismarck, who formerly refused to sanction the marriage, has since the Bulgarian victories and the establishment of an entente with Prince Alexander, withdrawn his opposition.

The daughter of Baron von Goxen has committed suicide while in prison through grief at the death of her father.

The newspapers throughout Germany review the events of the past year in a pessimistic light and conclude by asserting that Prince Bismarck's statesmanship has prevented a European war.

The dispute between Germany and Portugal, regarding the territorial rights in Southern Africa, has been settled. Germany asserts that the limits of her territory extend from the Congo River to the Atlantic Ocean.
Portugal, however, maintains that the limits of her territory extend from the Congo River to the Indian Ocean.

The British troops reported to have been defeated by the Boers at Mafeking.
