America, under the direction of Presi-dent B. Cluff of our college. Among other things he is collecting specimens of the flora and fauna of that country for the college, but the most important work is to be the second second second second second tracks and the second work is to seek among the ruins in Guatemala and Central America for proofs of the truth of the Book of Mormon. It is the contention of those of 'Mormon' faith that the aborigine of the western hemisphere were of He-braic extraction, and if this can be proved from the hieroglyphics on the walls of the ruined temples in Central and South America the truth of the bible of Joseph Smith will be estab-lished beyond a doubt. "As you are no doubt aware, the plates from which the Book of Mormon transcribed were found at Cuwas morrah, the ancient name of a place in what is now New York state. The characters which were written on the plates and the subject matter all bespoke their Hebraic origin. If it can now be established that the ancient dwellers on this western continent were offshoots of the Hebrews much will be done to establish the authenticity of the book

WILL BE GONE THREE YEARS.

Professor Cluff and his party will be gone three years and before he returns he will explore the Magdalen river in America and penetrate to South hitherto almost unknown region in that country. At present the party is in Panama and the first consignment of the specimens collected has recently been received at the college. It is ex-pected that Professor Wolfe, who is in command of a detachment of the expedition, will return home in a short time with large collections of imprints of the hieroglyphics on the walls of the ruined temples in Central America. In Guatemala Professor Wolfe cut a path into the dense forest and discovered some ruined temples of the aborigines, which were then seen for the first time by white men. The walls were covered with curious hieroglyphics, which were similar in appearance to those of the ancient Egyptians, Im prints of these writings were taken and these will be brought back with Pro-fessor Wolfe. They are too precious to be sent by freight.

SEEKING THE TRUTH. "These imprints will be submitted to the best authority in the world for translation, and it is thought some in-teresting facts may be brought to light. The work of translation will neces-sarily be slow and tedious, but it appears to be a rich field for investiga tion. The scientific value of the work being done cannot be overestimated, and it is confidently expected that startling facts will be unearthed. Professor Cluff writes that he met with warm receptions from all the Ameri-can consuls whom he visited, and that, so far, the trip has been a pleasant one Since he left on the expedition the work of directing the affairs of the college has developed upon me "There is one good thing about our school which will appeal at once to practical mind. When a young man is graduated, he not only has his degree, but also a trade which he has learned at the college. This applies to all branches of the work except the business college.

A Chinese plant's milky juce, known commercially as Pontianak gum, is mixed with ramle fiber for a new arti ficial rubber. The fiber is first freed from oily and volatile matters, then is crushed with the gummy juce be-tween slightly heated cylinders. The resulting mass is baked in an oven for four hours, and is then worked in a mixing mill to destroy the fibrous structure, an oxidizing substance, such as potassium permanganate, being in troduced in the last stage. A softening material, like balata gum, may be add-ed if desired. The mixture is cooled for 40 hours, and is finally cooked by steam at a pressure of 50 pounds per square inch for three houre. The cooled proinch for three hours. The cooled pro-duct is claimed to have all the proper-ties of india rubber. A good quality of flexible rubber is obtained from 80 per cent of gum, 15 of fiber, and 5 of sul-phur; a better quality resulting from a mixture of 72 per cent of gum, 10 of fiber, 10 of balata, and 8 of sulphur. For a flexible hard rubber a formula is, 75 per cent of gum, 20 of fiber and 5 of sulphur.

The solar eclipse of May, 1900, cast partial shadow, or penumbra, over belt about 5,000 miles wide, and the shadow moved at the rate of somewhat more than 2,000 miles an hour H. Helm Clayton has made a summary of the observations, showing that the umbra, or small total shadow, was followed at a distance of 500 miles by a cold area, in which the fall of tem-perature was over 8 degrees. A cyclone -that is, a great rotating wind storm and not a violent tornado-was quickly developed, moved with the eclipse, and was rapidly dissipated. The anti-cyclonic area extended for 1,500 miles from the umbra, beyond which the cyclonic ring had a width of 1,000 miles. This is a true cold-air cyclone; and it has suggested that a like atmospheri disturbance must be produced by the shadow of night, with a hot-air cyclon by the heat of the day,-explaining the double diurnal varations of barometric

ALBERT SPENST DROWNED. Wedding Bells-Sixty Days for Bike Stealing-Another Factory.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Aug. 2 .- Albert Spenst, aged, 58, a highly respected resident of the Fourth ward, this city, was drowned while in a fit at about 6:30 this evening. His wife asked him to go out and get some wood, and not returning as soon as he should have done, Mrs. Spenst became alarmed, as he has been subject to fits for forty years, and went out to look for him. She traced him beyond the wood pile to the lower lot, and approaching a ditch that runs along the edge of the premises, was horror stricken to see her husband lying, face down, in the bottom of the ditch. Walter Everton, who was passing, heard her shricks and entered the lot. He extricated the man from the ditch and went for a doctor, who went to the scene at once, but too late to render any assistance, for the man was dead. The deceased was born in Eichwerder, Cermany, May 22, 1843, embraced the Gospel and emigrated to Utah with his family in June, 1884, re-siding in Logan until his death. He was a faithful Latter-day Saint, lived as near his duty as he knew how. He leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter to mourn his death. He was a kind husband and a good father, and barring his infirmity, was a useful citizen. A coroner's jury is being impaneled to investigate the matter as this report closes. WEDDING BELLS.

Electric baths have been used by Dr. Armitage, an English physician, in the treatment of chronic lead poisoning, and in 40 severe cases 37 were bene fitted, some completely cured. The rapid improvement is attributed to the change of the lead salts in the body into new and insoluble compounds. The apparatus used consisted of a large porcelain bath-tub,-carefully insulated and provided with a large car-bon positive electrode, and a battery of 120 large Leclanche cells, connected in threes. The treatment began with the use of 84 to 120 cells, but at the close The treatment began with only 24 to 60 were needed. Injury of early fruit by frost is thought by M. Bellot des Minieres to be a result of rapid heating by the sun of the plants made sensitive by cold. He has tested his theory by building fires in vineyards at sunrise after frosty nights, and claims that in every case the slowly dissipated blanket of smoke so protected the vines from sudden change of temperature that they were not harmed by the cold.
