County Treasurer Dale has made a call for all county interest bearing warrants, issued after January 1st, of 1900, and under register number 46,772, to be presented for redemption. The paper called in represents about $10,000, and as the county has the funds on hand it desires to pay off the warrants and thus stop the interest.

City Treasurer Morris has telegraphed to New York, for the semi-annual interest due on bonds of the No. 6 series. The money should have been

It is expected that Mayor Thompson will soon close up this deal, which has been pending for a long time between the city and the resort company. The acquisition of this property will in future materially increase the city's flow of water in Parley's stream.

The funeral of Mrs. Eugene Yeomans, who died Tuesday night of pneumonia, was held from the home of Mrs. J. J. Trennan, 723 east Third South street, this morning. She was 34 years of age and leaves a husband and seven children.

William Gibbs, a stone mason, laid his left leg amputated just above the knee, yesterday at the Holy Cross hospital, by Drs. Beer and Benedict. Twelve years ago Gibbs had his leg severely bruised above the knee, and has suffered ever since, and at times very intensely. A short time ago gangrene set in, which made the amputation imperative. The unfortunate man was doing well today.

Dunn's Review speaks of Salt Lake business conditions as follows: "Jobbing trade generally continues rather quiet, though fair for the season. Dry goods, clothing and shoes show a little better, but groceries, hardware and liquors show a fair movement. Rainy weather and bad roads have had a somewhat retarding effect on business, and retail trade is only fair. Collections are rather slow, and money is in fairly good demand."

Superintendent of Waterworks Hines yesterday said with reference to the distance of the proposed water main extension to Parker addition, that he had never measured the distance prior to Tuesday last, and consequently never made any statement upon that subject, but since the matter came up in the Council Tuesday night, and he had been quoted as having stated the distance, he had made measurements and says the city engineer is right in his figures. Mr. Hines says he was asked what would be the cost of six-inch water pipe, and replied, about $1 per foot, and he is at a loss to know how he came to be quoted by some of the councilmen in the debate over this question at its last meeting.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Naylor was summoned to Fort Douglas to arrest a drunken man. Upon arriving there he found the fellow to be none other than William Bryne, who hails from Sandy, and who had a severe case of "Jim jams." Later it was learned that the "drunk" was the same fellow that called at the police station Monday night and reported that a gang of robbers were in hot pursuit of him. The city's peace officers diagnosed his case as being one of "snakes," and threw him into jail, where he sobered up during the night. Later he was released and made his way to the fort, where he was placed in the guard house until the sheriff went up and brought him down to the county jail, where he will remain until his protracted spree wears off.

THE VESTIBULE BILL.

Superintendent Cameron of the Rapid Transit "Shows" the Committee.

Superintendent Cameron of the Rapid Transit line had a special legislative car running out the car barn on Seventh South this morning. The bill to compel street car companies to vestibule all their cars is to be considered at a joint meeting of the House railroad and municipal corporations committee tonight, and Mr. Cameron wished to demonstrate some of the difficulties in the way of vestibuling "bobtail" cars to members of those committees. Representatives Smith, Van Horn and Holzner took advantage of the opportunity of investigating the matter, and along with a representative of the "News" made the trip.

Mr. Cameron showed the representatives two cars which were in course of reconstruction in order to make them available for vestibules. He had the body of an old short car in the barn to prove the difficulties in the way of vestibuling the short cars. He showed that the only way to vestibule this style of car was to extend the truck and shorten the platform, and even then the center of gravity was so near the ends that the cars could not be prevented rocking heavily. With the light rails now in use and the improved streets the only practical method of vestibuling, said Mr. Cameron, was to rebuild two of the short cars into one, put it on double trucks and have the body done with the two which were being remodeled in the barn.

"Suppose this vestibule law passes and you are compelled to vestibule all your cars, what do you do?" asked Mr. Van Horn.

"That would be hard to state without figuring out, but it would cost the company somewhere between $8,000 and $10,000," replied Mr. Cameron.

NOTORIOUS VAIL DIVORCE CASE.

Testimony Was Concluded Before Judge Hall at Noon Today.

THE ARGUMENTS TONIGHT.

One of the Worst Cases in the History of the Utah Courts—Shameful Allegations—Mixed Denials.

The divorce case of the Vails occupied the attention of Judge Hall's court the greater part of today again. Mr. Vail was on the stand for several hours and put through a rigid cross-examination by plaintiff's counsel. He, however, stuck to his first story. With reference to his being familiar with Mrs. Sherman, he said he had only casually met her, while he was boarding at her mother's house. He stoutly denied ever having kissed this woman, or put his arm around her waist. He said he had no affection for her, and had not seen her more than twice since 1895. He stated that he met Mrs. Sherman, and her brother, accidentally while going to Kayville on horseback, which accounted for his riding with her, denied tampering Mrs. Vail by showing her Mrs. Sherman's photograph.

Mrs. Vail was put on the stand again this morning and testified in rebuttal. She denied having illicit relations with "Billy" Wilson or any other man. Plaintiff further denied all of the matters heretofore testified to by Mr. Vail and other witnesses, reflecting upon her character. Said she had written but one letter to a gentleman friend since her marriage, and that was with her husband's consent. It was to a friend who used to board at her mother's place, and she had known him for a long time. This party wrote to her first, not knowing she was married. She claimed she was never under the influence of liquor but had at times taken as much as two glasses of beer, but never drank whisky.

Mrs. Vail said her husband obtained drugs for her to procure an abortion and insisted upon her taking the medicine; and at Mr. Vail's insistence she took drugs which resulted in two abortions. She said her husband did not want a family because they were not settled.

The deposition of W. H. Wilson, referred to by witnesses as "Billy," was then read. The answers in the deposition were in the main favorable to the defense, the case will be heard by Judge Hall at 7:30 tonight.

Transferred.

Judge Hall today made an order transferring the case of John Johnson vs. Emma Johnson et al., from the equity division to be tried before Judge Stewart.

Dissolution Asked For.

The Montana Summer Resort company, a corporation, today filed an application in the equity division of the district court, praying for an order of dissolution of the company, and distributing the property belonging to the corporation to the stockholders, which consists of $10,000 in cash.

The petition states that this action was decided upon at a mass meeting of the stockholders held on February 23, 1901, in this city.

The concern was organized some few years ago to operate a pleasure resort in Parley's canyon, but just recently the city purchased all of its property in the canyon named, including the water rights, for $10,000, which virtually leaves the company without an excuse for further existence. The hearing on the application was set for April 5, 1901.

BISHOPRIC IS BANQUETED.

People of the Third Ward Give an Enjoyable Function.

The banquet given in the Third ward last night, in honor of the new bishopric—Bishop Oliver Hodgson and Counselors Andrew Smith, Jr., and E. M. Weiler, Jr., was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held in the ward. Covers were laid for 250 guests, and E. J. Midgley achieved honors as toastmaster.

The toasts were all responded to very happily. Mrs. Z. Eardley spoke of the conditions of the ward in the past. Counselor Smith talked of the present conditions.

An entertaining dissertation on matrimony and its consequences was given by T. R. Gill.

Orson Hewitt waxed lucid on the theme, "eating to live and living to eat."

A brief speech thanking those present for the honor they had shown him and for their good wishes, was made by Bishop Hodgson.

There was instrumental music by the Regal Mandolin and Guitar club, vocal selections by George Carlton, Frank Bolto, William Carlton, Isabel Ure, James Eardley, T. R. Gill, Agnes and Margaret Coalter, Pearl Carlton and John V. Smith.

There will be a grand ball in the ward hall this evening.

TWO MORE CONVICTS FREE.

How a Badly Operating Law Continues to Turn Prisoners Loose.

The release of the State prison convicts steadily goes on under writs of habeas corpus. This morning Judge Hall ordered the discharge of these two prisoners, Daniel Palmer, sent up for one year, from Emery county, last June, for grand larceny; and J. E. Cornelius convicted of a similar crime in Wayne county, on the 5th day of April last, and received a like sentence.

The writs were granted on petitions setting up the recent ruling of the Supreme court holding informations signed by district attorneys in lieu of the county attorneys to be illegal.

LIVE STOCK INTERESTS.

Greatly Increased in Utah by Recent Heavy Snows.

Live Stock Agent Gregory of the Denver & Rio Grande, has just come from a trip to the southern portions of the State, having visited as far south as tropic Garfield county. Mr. Gregory says that the snows and rains of the past month have the salvation of the south country. He declared that if it had not come fully two-thirds of the live stock of the south would have been taken out of the country. "You can state it," said he, "that the snows have increased the value of every sheep in the south country two dollars per head, and the increase in the value of the cattle would be in a like proportion."

Continuing, he said that the prospect for the coming season's shipments were brighter than for the past few years. This he says holds true all over the south country and the people from south and north, are filled with a new feeling of hope.
