Thirty-Two Bollermakers Simply Quit Without a Moment's Notice.

Special Correspondence.

Ogden, Utah, Feb. 29 .- Thirty-two boilermakers and several helpers em-ployed in the Southern Pacific shops in this city, and members of the Na-tional Boilermakers & Shipbuilders' union, went out on a strike at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and as yet have not returned to work and the prospects are that they will not return for sev-eral days or perhaps weeks. The walk out came as a great surprise to the railroad officials, as nothing of the kind had been anticipated, and even the ma-chipists working in the same building did not know the boilermakers were going to strike, so secret had the affair been kept.

day shift worked as usual all day Saturday, not even intimating their intention of going out on a strike. When the whistle blew at 5 o'clock the boilermakers laid down their tools, put on their coats and informed the officials that they were going out on a strike, The night shift falled to appear to go to work and it was then realized by Mas-ter Mechanic Luckett what had hap-

The members of the union in Ogden are very reticent, saying they have nothing to say on the matter at the present time, only that they expect by luesday to have some further informa tion from the head union officials, and they may then be able to tell better long the strike may last. They have gone out to stay unless their demands are satisfied or some compro-mise is reached between the head railand union officials.

Master Mechanic Luckett said that nothing had come before him in an official way. He knew only that the men were not at work. He had heard unofficially that they would demand an increase in wages of about 1% cents an

From ar other source it is learned that the boilermakers have two specific de-mands. One is an increase from 36½ to 384% cents an hour. The other is the abolition of the personal record system. This system consists in each workman placing on file with the company a comete record of himself, with particular reference to the different companies that he has worked for, giving minute data as to wages, positions and the General Strike Throughout the Entire Pacific System of Company.

San Francisco, Feb. 28 .- The boilermakers on the entire Pacific system the Southern Pacific company are on strike as a result of the long standing controversy regarding a general ad-vance in rates all along the line. According to the statements of the ratiroad officials, 500 men quit work. The railroad officials were surprised when they received the official notifica-tion, inasmuch as the negotiations were surprised still pending over the adjustment of the wage rate. The increase sought by the bollermakers is about 10 per cent. President George M. McKeer of the district lodge, who is the head of the Brotherhood of Bollermakers throughout the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific, said that the strike was ordered after a long and fruitless course of negotiations with the railroad company.

P. J. Small, superintendent of motor nower and maintenance of way of the company, discussing the situation, says: "The trouble has been brewing for some time. The Southern Pacific company has been paying the highest wages of any railroad in the United States exthe Santa Fe road, which is paying the same wages as our company on its western branches. It is expected that the balance of the bollermakers ed by the company will go out Monday.'

PROTHERO AFTER REWARD.

Give your humble servant a show,

Pal of Shockley May Put in His Claim For Money Offered.

The legal firm of Stephens & Smith has received a letter from a friend of the family of Percy Prothero, who gave the police the tip as to James M. Shockley being the murderer of car men Gleason and Brighton two months ago, in which he says that if any reward is coming to Prothero it could be used to good advantage in his own family. There is sickness in the family, and poverty is close at hand. This condition may result in a weakening of Prothero's decision to give the money to the families of the murdered men. Just after Shockley's confession, it will be remembered, Prothero signed an agreement, along with the police officers, turning over to the bereaved families all his interest in the $2,200 reward, excepting $200 to get out of town on. That he was sincers in this there was no doubt. But since hear-ing of the straightened circumstances of his father, and of the serious illness of a member of the family, it is possie that he will make claim for a greater share of it. The letter was turned over to Attorney Robert E. Porter, and while he has consulted with Prothero on the subject, he stated today that he had not yet arrived at any decision regarding future action.

Prothero's people live in Wisconsin and are highly respected, according to the friend who has written to Salt Lake concerning the reward.

which the dedicatory prayer was of fered by President Anthon H. Lund. Singing of the anthem "Heavenly Father" by Miss Kate Shill and choir. Apostle George A. Smith addressing the congregation, congratulated the people of the ward on their enterprise n crecting so beautiful and convenient an edifice as the new meetinghouse. He admonished his hearers that the dedi-catory prayer had rendered the build-ing sacred, and that it should be used exclusively for the worship of God. The speaker closed his remarks by asking the young to live in such a way that when their lives were nearly ended they might look back with no regrets for the bast. Brief addresses were made by th members of the stake presidency, the substance of which was that while we hould not be worshipers of buildings, nouses that are dedicated to God should e held in a higher regard than that given to ordinary structures. It was suggested that the likenesses of all the former hishops of the Fifteenth ward be given permanent places on the walls f the meetinghouse. Solo "Jerusalem" by C. V. Rasmus-President Lund remarked that the money invested in the buildings of the ward could not have been spent in a better way. Bishop Ashton commended the labors of all those who had contributed of their money or time towards the purchase of the grounds and the erection of the buildings thereon. benediction was pronounced by Elder David McKenzle.

WHERE IS MRS. JOHN ADAMS?

Mrs. Hannah Adams of Bowers Alerton, Woodlesford, Leeds, Yorkshire, England, writes to Postmaster A. L. Thomas inquiring as to the whereabouts of her sister, Mrs. John Adams who left Sheffield in 1866 for Utah with coccasions, were as large as the first time she did the play in this city, if not larger. It is certainly the best thing in Miss Roberts' repertoire, and shows off her abilities and those of her company to strong advantage. With-out doubt it will be included in the bill on her return from the east, which oc. curs at the end of March. Among oth er plays which she will render on that occasion will be the famous "Giocon. da," which has never yet been rendered in English by anyone except Miss Roberts, Mme. Duse having brought it over to this country from Italy.

At the Theater tonight the well known Shakespearian actor, Chas. B. Hanford, appears in "Richard III."

Lawrence J. Anhalt, representative in advance of the famous "Bostonians" is in the city. The great organization will render "Robin Hood," "The Serenade," and a new opera entitled "The Queen of Laughter" at the Theater in the near future. near future.

The Grand Theater was crowded again last night by a large audience, in attendance on the Held's band concert. The vocal feature was the work of the Imperial quartet, Messrs. Phillips, Christopherson and Squires, who were given three encores. The light opera work of the band was very good, and the "rag time" was much en. joyed by the audience.

Held's Band Orchestras

The six orchestras of Held's band are making a hit in their engagements. Judge Powers' reception, Mrs. Mc-Cune's at home, and many" other at homes where they have played their music has been a feature. Prof. Youngdale of the theater orchestra has full charge of the string section of the orchestra and his ability is unquestioned Exactly what you engage you get, no substitutes.
