

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEETING.

Large Attendance of Interested Teachers and Officers.

STAKE CONFERENCE PLANS.

San Day School Jubilee History—Approved Text Books—Music Class to be Organized.

There was a large attendance, notwithstanding the inclement weather, at the Sunday School Union meeting last evening, Nov. 19, in the Fourteenth ward assembly room. There were present Stake Supt. T. C. Griggs, who presided, and his assistants, W. C. Burton and Joseph Burrows, eight Sunday school missionaries, and the superintendents and representatives from nearly all the schools of the Stake. On the calling of the roll responses were made from all the schools, except Twenty-second ward branch, Brighton, Center, North Point and Pleasant Green.

The first ward school choir opened the exercises by singing, "Hark, listen to the music," solo by Miss Catherine Siddoway; Charles Pike, director, Miss Agnes Taylor, organist.

Prayer was offered by Elder Joseph R. Squires.

A solo, "I Know that My Redeemer Lives," was beautifully rendered by Brother Charles Pike.

Elder Burrows announced that the "Jubilee History of the Latter-day Saints Sunday Schools" was ready for those who had subscribed for and removal of hats commended.

He also called attention to a very pleasing practice inaugurated in a number of schools, that of the ladies removing their hats during the Sunday school service. If the practice became more general it would be highly gratifying.

Elder Burton announced that Elder Alex. G. Adamson, of Pleasant Green, had been added to the Sunday school missionary corps of the Salt Lake Stake. The appointment was sustained by vote of the assembly.

Elders J. A. West and A. J. Davis were sustained as assistants to Elder Levi E. Young, in the direction of the Second Intermediate Department of the Union meetings.

The desire was expressed to have this "Nickel Sunday" contributions sent in as early as possible.

APPROVED TEXT BOOKS.

Supt. Griggs called attention to some of the features of the recent Sunday School convention, held in this city. It was urged that each gathering to have as text books in the schools of the Church the Bible, Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and Pearl of Great Price.

Cottage Sunday schools was another subject treated upon at some length. There was room for one or more in nearly every ward in the Church, to reach those not now connected with the Sunday schools.

SINGING CLASS.

Loyal support was urged for the Sunday school singing class now being organized by Prof. Stephens. This class will meet for enrollment and to begin work next Saturday at 2 o'clock, in the choir hall, on Richards street. Music should be encouraged among the young people, as its tendency was elevating and refining, and the efforts now being made would, if well sustained, very materially enhance the music of the Sunday schools.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR STAKE CONFERENCE.

Attendance of Sunday school workers at the quarterly stake conferences was urged. At the next Stake conference, three weeks hence, it was desired that the theological and normal departments of each school attend the Sunday morning service in the Tabernacle, in a body. Credit should be given in the class register to each student for attendance that day.

The meeting at this juncture divided into the various departments and for forty minutes model lessons and instructions were given in each, under direction of the various instructors.

At the close of the class work, the representatives reassembled for the closing exercises.

The second ward school was requested to furnish the music for the December meeting of the Union.

"Earth with her ten thousand flowers" was sung by the choir, Supt. Niles Rasmussen of the First ward presided over the benediction, and the meeting adjourned for one month.

SALT LAKE COUNTY IS COMPLETED.

Canvassing Board Fives Clerks Two Days to Figure Up.

RESULT TO COME THURSDAY

Not Changed from Earlier Announcement—Vote on the Congressman.

The Salt Lake county canvassing board completed its canvass of election returns last evening about 6 o'clock, then adjourned till Thursday, thus giving the county clerk two days in which to figure up the totals. The board will meet on Thursday to declare the result.

The returns from election judges in the county precincts were in much better shape than in most of the city election districts. The tallies were more carefully made and the totals carried out with greater accuracy. This made the work of the commission easy so far as the county districts were concerned.

The general results in the county, as announced in the "News" on Thursday after election were unchanged. The Republicans elect two commissioners, Jas. H. Anderson and Henry Barker, and the Democrats one, Mr. J. Horns. Anderson and Barker both have a majority over Mr. Horns, and M. S. Woolley, who was the next closest candidate, follows Mr. Horns in the total. Then comes H. N. Stanger, as Democrat, Whitaker, the other defeated candidates, in the order named. Of the other officers, the Republicans elect county clerk, attorney, surveyor and assessor, and the Democrats one commissioner, county treasurer, sheriff, auditor and recorder. Of the county officers, the Republicans get six and the Democrats five.

Members of the Legislature in the county are classified as twelve Republicans and one Democrat. The three State Senators are Republicans, and one of the ten Representatives is a Democrat. Their names are: Republicans, Hoyt Sherman, G. N. Lawrence, S. H. Love, State Senators; Archibald Stuart, O. H. Hewlett, J. T. Axton, B. X. Smith, A. L. Hamilton, W. G. Van Horns, W. N. Williams, G. W. Morris and Wm. McMillan, Representatives. Democrat, R. S. Wells, Representative.

Of the national and State officers, Judge King for Congress, and N. T. Porter, for superintendent of public instruction, Democrats received the highest votes in the county for those offices, but their gain in this regard is overcome by losses in other posts.

CONGRESSMAN SUTHERLAND.

The completion of the canvass in Salt Lake county leaves no question as to who is elected Utah's Representative in Congress. By a vote of this county, George Sutherland receives a sufficient plurality to overcome any possible vote in San Juan county, where Judge King probably will not have more than 100 votes majority to meet Mr. Sutherland's 200 majority in the rest of the State.

This, on a total vote of over 22,000, is running pretty close, but there have been many close figures in this election. Here the vote on twenty-five of the twenty-seven counties in the State, leaving only the small county of San Juan to be heard from:

LIVE-STOCK MEETING.

Will Hold a Cattle Show During the Convention Next January.

The committee on arrangements on the National Stock Growers' convention met last evening in the Progress block and spent three hours in the discussion of the various problems that confronted them. Among other things that came under their notice was the projected livestock show which it is proposed to be held in conjunction with the convention next January. After considerable debate it was decided that an exhibit of range stock would not be feasible in this city; consequently, the show will be limited to stall stock, such cattle as can be handled and not develop violent hysteria during the process.

After considerable talking the following sub-committees were appointed to look into the matters of detail connected with the coming convention: Advertising and Printing—B. F. Nevels, P. B. Choate, J. P. Hatch, Stages—C. J. Tuttle, Jesse M. Smith, B. B. Heywood.

Convention Quarters—Julian C. Houtz, J. D. Wood, Charles Rathbun, Hotel Rialto and Accommodations—F. B. Choate, J. A. Reeves, J. C. Houtz, Music—John W. White, B. F. Saunders, S. W. Sears.

A. B. Hudnall, Thomas J. Nipper and B. B. Heywood were named as additional members of the livestock exhibition committee. Mr. Hudnall being selected chairman of the committee. The finance committee will meet in the headquarters in the Progress block at 8 o'clock this evening.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches do not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, coming out freely by the mouth, the tracheal tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptic scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Gaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these has been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are a pleasant tasting lozenge, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remedies Catarrh of the nose, throat, and lungs, and is equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers, and powders for months at a time with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure."

Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from it that I continued to use them until I was entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

John Sparks, the well known cattleman, came from the east today, says Saturday's Ogden Standard. He reports that on Sunday morning there will arrive at Ogden a large number of imported and resident white-faced Herefords, some of which he has shipped from England, and some which he purchased at the big Kansas City sale. They are a lot of heifers and bulls, and the latter for the most part are of the best quality.

A press dispatch from Fresno, Cal., says: "According to a decision on the part of the United States District Judge Wellborn in the case of Lee Rasmussen, it is held that the act of June 30, 1895, authorizing the secretary of the interior to make regulations for the protection of forest reserves, is unconstitutional, because, in effect, it delegates to Congress legislative power to an administrative officer. The decision, it is claimed, practically throws open to the sheepmen all the forest lands which they are still liable in civil suits for damages for trespass. United States Attorney Flint will appeal."

Montana Stock Growers' Journal: Without much doubt the past week has been the banner week for sales in Montana of short horn and feeder cattle. The market in Custer, Dawson, Yellowstone and Fergus counties has been a very active one, and reports from the more western towns in this State show very large sales. On Tuesday, T. C. Pover & Co. of Helena sold 3,000 sheep to Woodmansee & Co. for delivery in Idaho.

The movement of range cattle to market this fall is much smaller than a year ago. The cattle have not been in such good condition, owing to the long dry season.

Lamb feeders in Colorado will make a record this winter on the number of lambs fed for market, says the Denver Stockman. In the season of 1898-99 there were about 600,000 lambs fed in the State. Last winter the total was 700,000. Estimated by the best posted feeders and sheepmen place the total for this season at 750,000 and they say that the real figures are more likely to exceed than fall below this number. If the lambs can be sold on a basis of 4 cents per pound in Chicago the feeders will make a fair profit on their winter's work. A price of $5.50 per 100 pounds would just about let them out with a fair price for their hay. Anything above $5 would be clear profit, except in a few cases where inexperienced feeders have not secured the proper gain.

Utah is the queen of the western States in the number of sheep owned by residents of that commonwealth. About twenty million dollars of Utah money is invested in this industry.

Beef and mutton are taking a back seat for the present, while ducks and chickens come to the front as provender. The poultry man does not care to feed too many birds through a long winter, but after the Thanksgiving turkey prices reduce the cash in consumers pockets, the flesh-eating public will fall back on the standard ox, sheep and hog.

Every time a cattleman concludes that the sheep have given him trouble, the range he was his head and remarks that the sheep are soon going to override the whole country. They breed like cats, he insists, and there is no show for any other kind while they are on earth. Statistics do not indicate any serious danger from an overproduction of sheep in this country, says a livestock exchange. Fat sheep now command in England the highest prices of several years for mutton in many years. Prime wethers have recently brought 15 cents per pound in London and in Liverpool on the same day the price rose to 21 cents. Sheepmen of Colorado figure that their alfalfa when fed to lambs nets them from $5 to $7 per ton, and one acre will produce four to six tons. Statistics recently compiled show that there are 13 sheep on every acre of arable land in Scotland. England boasts 680 sheep to every 1,000 acres. Against these figures American statistics look small, as no State carries more than 25 sheep to 1,000 acres.

FIRST STEPS ARE TAKEN.

Temporary Organization of the Chamber of Commerce is Effected.

Local business men met at the Kenyon hotel last evening for the purpose of establishing a chamber of commerce, and they did it despite the fact that some of those present did not think there were enough representative business men in attendance to warrant decisive action towards organization. But there were letters from about fifty prominent men in the city, whose promise to support any action taken by those at the meeting was a sufficient guarantee of the success of the enterprise.

Those who attended the meeting were J. W. Houston, A. R. Derge, Samuel H. Hill, A. J. Davis, George McCulloch, C. R. Kern, James G. McDonald, D. Alexander, J. M. Christensen, Fred A. Stode, E. W. Senior, G. H. Asper and W. W. Bryner, recently from Colorado, and the principal promoter of the movement. After some discussion Mr. Houston, who acted as chairman, was elected temporary president of the organization and Mr. Bryan, secretary. Messrs. Williams, McDonald and Davis in connection with the president and secretary were chosen to prepare articles of incorporation and to make provision for a permanent organization. The meeting was then adjourned until next Monday night, at the same place, when the report of the committee will be heard.

HONORS FOR C. E. DALLIN.

A Utah Genius Whose Work is in Demand in Vienna.

The people of Utah often have had occasion to rejoice over the honors that have come to their sons and daughters from abroad. One of Utah's gifted sons, whose achievements have received prominent recognition, is C. E. Dallin, a home product, but whose far-reaching genius encompasses the globe. Not only have the people of Boston purchased Mr. Dallin's statue which he has on exhibition in Paris, but the authorities of the city of Vienna, Austria, one of the greatest art centers of the world, have offered to purchase one of his statues to grace one of the parks in that city.

His native State does not have to be content with merely recording the honors he receives for in her own confines are some of the noblest work of his hand. The memory of the noble land of Pioneers is perpetuated by his genius, and a splendid type of the original Republic stands in the city and county building, a monument to his rare artistic gifts.

Settlers Going to Mexico. Further Additions to the Mormon Colony at Batopilas, Sonora.

L. S. Hulsh passed through Salt Lake City last evening, on the O. S. L. railroad, bound for Mexico, with a company of people numbering fifty men, women and children. The names of the heads of families with him are: Alexander Jansson, of Emery county, Emanuel Thomas, of Goshen, James W. Hulsh, of Spring Lake, J. P. Christensen and son, of Ephraim, Sanpete Co., John Carling, of Orderville, D. H. Snarr, of Salt Lake City, and Elder Isaac Aldridge, of Emery county, Utah. All these except one family are going to the new colony Batopilas, in Sonora, Mexico.

This is the second company Mr. Hulsh has taken to Mexico. He informed the "News" further that five families left Woodruff, Arizona, a short time ago for the same colony, and that quite a number of families have left Utah since the 1st of September for the new place. Mr. Hulsh is in charge of the new colony, and is now moving his family to the place, where he expects to make his future home.
