THEATRICAL.—Last night our theatre-goers were treated for the first time to a presentation of the far-famed play, "Under the Gaslight." There is much credit due to Manager Calne for the very superior style in which it was produced. The new scenes by Mr. Mathews were beautiful with all the appearance of reality, the Hudson River looking down New York Harbor and the Tombs especially deserving notice. The mechanical effects by Mr. Peter Reid were very fine, of course the lighting and the thundering train of cars following the engine "power" being the principal. The properties by Messrs. Millard and Baker were also excellent. The first and third scenes of the third act were replete with fun, buoyancy and actuality. The crowding and recrossing of the ferry-boat, with its illuminated cabin windows, while the fun of Bermudas and his companions was being executed on the river, and the plowing of Ryan were worked out and were very well-looking and it had not been for a little hitch or two in crossing, the illusion would have been perfect. Of the railroad scene we need say nothing, only that it surpassed expectation. The playing was good. Manager Calne's Laura was touching and natural, of the other characters we will have to speak again, for they deserve it. The performance was most unqualifiedly a success, and we cannot do better than invite the public to go and see the play on Thursday night. There was a crowded house last night. The expense of getting up "Under the Gaslight" must have been considerable.

NO CHANGE.—There was no perceptible change in the State of President Kimball's health to-day from that of yesterday.

STRAW BRAIDING.—Now is the time when straw hats are in demand, and a very proper time to direct attention to the necessity of securing the straw, and having the little ones made extensively to order. General A. P. Rockwood brought this morning, into our office, rye six feet high. He was appointed twelve years ago to grow rye straw for manufacturing purposes. He has conscientiously done so from that time until the present, and has raised sufficient to supply the demand. He informs us that there are but three days in the season in which rye can be cut to advantage for manufacturing purposes, and those days are when the grain is passing from the water to the milk. If cut before this, the straw shrinks and is too limber; if cut after the time specified, it is too harsh and stiff. General Rockwood has planted a small quantity this season, and General George D. Grant has several acres of rye. No doubt in many parts of the Territory rye is grown; and those who wish to obtain straw for this branch of manufacture should make arrangements immediately to procure it, in the neighborhoods where it may be growing, before it becomes unfit for fine work; and all interested in straw braiding should give their attention to this point now.

It is so easy to acquire the art of braiding, that children and the ignorant to do it, and to take pleasure in it if they are not kept at it too closely, when they are very young; and their little fingers can deftly weave out and in the shining straw that is to make the hats and bonnets for their parents and themselves. We have ladies in this city who learned to braid straw when so young that they can hardly remember the time they could not do it. By all means let us have the little fingers so employed at times when it would be a relaxation to them from study and play, and there will be profit to ourselves and to them in our so doing.

A CASE.—Last week, William Thompson was brought before Alderman Clinton, charged with selling a gun to an Indian, but as Dimick Huntington, the Indian interpreter, was not in the city, the Alderman allowed Thompson to go about his business until the interpreter would return, when the matter could be inquired into. Thompson soon after got out a writ of habeas corpus, signed by Judge Drake, which was served upon the Doctor, who was somewhat astonished thereat, seeing that the gentleman was not actually in custody nor under bonds. Thompson having said he was under arrest, Judge Drake dismissed him; and so the case had to be re-commenced. Another affidavit was made, and the matter was inquired into this morning, when it was proved that he did sell the gun to the Indian, for which he was fined by Dr. Clinton, fine and costs amounting to $75.

STARTED.—Elders George Teasdale, Lewis Grant, Haden W. Church and Joseph Boughton, with some other Elders, appointed on missions, started East to-day, with the teams going to the terminus for the immigrants. We wish the brethren all the peace, prosperity and multiplied blessings needful to sustain them while absent from their homes, friends and families in these valleys.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As Bro. James G. Pyper and his wife and infant daughter, were on their way from Fairview, Sanpete Co. to Nephi City, with a part of a load of hay, on the 11th inst., when about one mile above the forks of the creek, in the canyon, the horses, through some unaccountable management, ran off a deep ravine, and precipitated Bro. Pyper, his wife and their little child, into a ravine near the bridge, which was 12 feet deep. The wagon and the load turning over so encumbered them that they could not extricate themselves, until assisted by Bro. George Thatcher, of Provo, who came by half an hour after the occurrence. The little child was found dead, having been found drowned in the water at the bottom of the ravine. The mother was badly injured. Brother Pyper escaped with but little injury. Every person who knows the fearful and dangerous place where the accident happened, can not but know that they were saved only by a miraculous power.

HE WANTS HELP.—The editor of the Gold Hill News is troubled in spirit because his stock of prophesy is not equal to the occasion, his feelings being so overworked with doses of certain Democratic pabulum. Here is what he says: "Like the amiable young man whose Christian rearing incapacitated him for doing justice to the subject, when his load of sand was found spilled along a steep ascent up which he had labored, we confess ourself utterly unable to do such occasions as these. A young man who is entirely familiar with the profane authors, who is a good, steady, single-handed sweeper, and who is willing to devote his undivided time and attention to that department of literature, can obtain a good situation and confine his attention to the political articles in our Democratic exchanges. N. B.—The matter will be laborious."

SALT LAKE PRODUCE.—The Helena, (N. T.) Gazette of the 12th says: "Six wagons loaded with salt eggs, dried peaches, etc., arrived from Salt Lake yesterday. Trains from there are few and far between, compared with those of three years ago, when for months our streets were crowded with teams from that section, bringing flour principally, but now nothing but the lesser products of Utah will pay transportation here, and they do not afford much of a margin over cost of freight."

GOING TO NEVADA.—A going-to and no mistake! Because they couldn't get the desired volcano to emulate Mount Loa, nothing will do but have another earthquake. Here is how the Enterprise of the 6th records the latest one: "At 7 o'clock yesterday morning we were treated to a pretty smart shock of an earthquake. It was immediately heavy to cause shaking of houses, windows, etc., to rattle as a lively rain to shake up and muddy air at the saloons and out other such pranks, but not heavy enough to wake any but light sleepers. We presume we shall have one worth mentioning one of these days. They are very nice to have and are very good for them, as a change from hay and peas. There is no doubt that the earthquake is exciting about them and they are always of general interest—while they are under headway, especially."

Keep them around your place, neighbor, we're not fond of being shaken much.

DIED.—In Crockett, Morgan county, April 28, 1888, James Ephraim, son of Ephraim and Fanny Swahn, aged 3 years and 22 days.

Through the blessing of God, this is the first death that has occurred in Crockett settlement, of over one hundred inhabitants, during a residence of five years. There are no doctors employed there.—[Com.]
