TREND OF AFFAIRS.

"What has become of the government we had seven years ago? What is the trend of our national affairs? The gov-ernment is centered in one man. As long as that man is capable, bonest and patriote all may be well, but suppose he was not and the same amount of power was given into his hands. What would be the result?

power was given into his hands. What would be the result? "Personally, I have no notion what the utimate outcome of this dispute will be. I have been looking over heaps of correspondence since I have been at hence, but am not ready at this time to take it up." Vice President Roosevelt July 13, 1900, in which the reason for the transfer of the Storrers from Madria to Vienna was made clear. Mrs. Storrer had re-quested the transfer because of the health of her son, who was suffering from a pulmonary complaint and could not visit her on account of the climate of Madrid. In the letter Vice President Roosevelt states that he would urge the transfer particularly because of this fact.

Weber County Auditor Sends Communication to the Commissioners.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Dec. 10 .- The county commissloners this morning, among other business transacted, heard a communication from the county auditor, wherein he refused to audit the claims of Commissioners Wilson and Stanford for expenses during the month of October; also for the claim of Joseph Stanford for $80 as overseer of the poor. A communication was also read from County Attorney Hulaniski, wherein he claimed that the claims against the county were legal, but that the itemization of the expenses claims might be improved in keeping with the sugestions of the county auditor.

Commissioner Wilson expressed his willingness to make his claim more ex-plicit. But he stated that he had submitted for years his claim in very much the same way. Former Commissioner Stanford refused to re-itemize his claims, stating that for six years he had submitted his claims in a similar manner and that they had always been audited and paid; that this was proba-bly the last time he would have occa-sion to present a bill to Weber county for his services, that the county attorney had placed his signature to the and under no circumstances would he and under no circumstances would be re-itemize the bill of $15, and give his services to the county rather than re-itemize the bill. It is believed that unless the commissioners take some action on this matter at a future meeting, the claim will never be paid. Concerning his claim of $80 as overseer of the poor, after reading communiseer of the poor, after rearing commut-cations from the count attorney and At-torney General Breeden, Mr. Stanford claimed the county had the right to ap-point him to that position, and the auditor should audit the claim as passed by the board. The matter of appointing an auditing committee to audit the books of We-ber county was continued to a future meeting.
