WESTERN NEWS ITEMS.

The intense heat on the Colorado and Mojave deserts, Cal., as high as high 124 and 128, has dried up many springs depended upon by prospectors, hundreds of whom are now out.

W. A. Johnson, one of the largest growers of beets in the Chino district of California, as well as one of the most successful, is preparing for an early removal to the Pecos valley, New Mexico.

A deplorable accident occurred at Goldfield, Arizona, at 5 o'clock Monday morning. A man named A. P.
Rakton fell with a car to the bottom of a 150 foot shaft in the Mammoth mine and was killed. Two men working in the bottom of the shaft escaped unhurt. Rakton came from Calusa, Cal.

While driving Tuesday at Cheyenne, Wyoming, Charles Neesele was thrown from his buggy. He was apparently but slightly injured but in the evening he felt acute internal pains, and died before medical assistance reached him.
The deceased was 52 years old, and was one of the earliest settlers of Cheyenne.

Thursday Ambrose Dickey of Riverside, Cal., fell in a fit while crossing the Temecula branch of the Santa Fe railroad, one foot lying across one rail and the balance of his body outside the rails. A train from San Jacinto came along and mashed the foot lying on the rail and it had to be amputated at the ankle.

King county, Washington, warrants, dropped from 105 to 95 per cent Friday on account of the free silver agitation.
Eastern investors have sent instructions to local agents to make no more purchases. For more than a year past county securities have been worth 100 cents on the dollar, and today the treasury is in better condition than ever before.

Rawlins, Wyoming, Journal: Railroad business is good. Fifteen hundred cars of stock from Soda Springs, Idaho, are being gathered for eastern shipments, and some few train loads have already gone east. The beef round-up in Carbon county will soon be under headway. Fruit shipments and coal hauling for storage will soon be in operation, and for the next sixty days railroad business will be first-class.

About midnight Monday night a terrible explosion startled the people of San Jose, Cal. An investigation showed that something had blown up in the Evening News office on the second floor of the Columbus building.
The force of the concussion blew a hole in the roof and also one through the floor. What it was that exploded is not known. The whole thing is a mystery. The loss to the machinery and the building is $2,000.

W. M. Bogard of Austin, Cal., fell from a moving train Wednesday evening and was almost instantly killed.
Bogard was subject to heart trouble, and it is thought he was really dead before he fell. The fall, however, crushed his skull, so that death, if caused by the fall, must have been almost instantaneous. The deceased was employed by the Southern Pacific company.

Omaha Stock Journal: The low price for hogs and grease has forced the rendering companies to reduce their prices for dead hogs, and the scale now is 10 per pound for hogs weighing over 100 lbs, while hogs under that weight are of no value. At Chicago they say they are taking all the dead hogs and paying nothing for them. Dead cattle sell for about what their hides are worth, as grease and tallow sell so low that the expense of rendering more than eats up the profits.

Frankie Broderick, a dissolute woman, Monday afternoon fully identified the burglar killed by Detective Bradish on Saturday night at Los Angeles, California, as "Scotty" Burne. The woman said she had known "Scotty" since youth, the two having attended school together at Chico, Cal. The burglar's right name, she said, was Charles McPherson, and at the time of his death he was 35 years of age. At one time he lived in Salt Lake City, and was well known in police circles.

Pocatello, Idaho, Tribune: The first of the week Wallin & Co. and Clinkenbeard, the bicycle dealers, hired three or four boys to rake the loose stones off the streets so that bicycles might be ridden with some comfort.
Chief of Police Ellis took this as an insult to his chief, Mayor Kasiska, and chased the boys off the streets. The next day, however, Kasiska had a
