SERIOUS STRIKE IN CHICAGO.

BALLOT-BOX STUFFERS SENTENCED.

THE IRON STRIKERS.

The South American Report.

The Commission appointed by the President to visit the South American countries in the interest of the commerce of the United States, has reported under date of April 25th, to the Department of State, the result of its observations while at Lima, Peru. In the communication to the Secretary of State accompanying the report, the commission say: "The political situation in Peru is not such as to make the mission, like that upon which we have the honor to come, either satisfactory or conclusive, but we are gratified to be able to report a cordial reception from the provisional government and the people, notwithstanding the fact that they feel somewhat agrieved at the failure of the United States to exercise its good offices for their benefit during the recent war with Chili. This delicate subject was not alluded to officially during our visit, but in private conversations. The complications of three and four years ago were spoken of in such a manner as to leave the impression that our government, in their opinion, did Peru more harm than good. However, there is still a more friendly sentiment which has been stimulated by the attitude of Minister Phelps and a desire to secure a more intimate international and commercial relation between the two countries. The people privately talk of annexation to the United States. The newspapers openly advocate a protectorate over Peru by our Government as the best mode of securing internal peace, and there have been many other suggestions advanced in the same spirit. Our commerce with this country has dwindled down to almost nothing. This is accounted for by the enormous decrease in the purchasing power of Peru, and by the fact that the steamship company, which enjoys a monopoly on the west coast of South America, uses its influence and regulates its freight tariffs, so as to direct the trade to England. It is the opinion of every merchant in Peru and of the members of the government that these conditions cannot be changed, until there is direct communication by steam between ports of this country and those of the United States. It is said to be cheaper to ship goods from New York, by way of Liverpool and Hamburg, around the Horn to Callao, than by way of the Isthmus, while a passenger pays $175 in American gold for transportation from New York to Valparaiso.

We were formally presented to the President, April 20th. Next day we had an official conference. It showed that while the government of this republic is not in a position, politically or financially, to make any concessions at present to encourage trade, its sentiments are exceedingly friendly, and its wish is to give us the benefits now enjoyed by England. The permanency of the present government is probable, but not assured. Caceres has control of the southern provinces of the republic, and is marching toward Lima with an army of seven or eight thousand men. President Iglesias is prepared to defend the city, but has neither the means nor the men to make an effective campaign. He dare not move his army from the capital for fear of a revolution there, and is thus compelled to see the interior provinces, one by one, subjected to the authority of Caceres.

Iglesias has no money, and is resorting to extraordinary measures, to secure enough to keep the army in fighting shape. He is regarded as an honest man, but under the influence of Chili, and therefore unpopular. But the people who oppose him, do not want Caceres, the mountaineer president, to rule the country. Between the two, they prefer Iglesias. There is a third party, headed by General Pierola, formerly dictator of Peru, which is said to be composed of the best element of the Republic—the business men and those who own property—whose purpose is to secure both the abdication of Iglesias and the retirement of Caceros, by making concession to the friends and supporters of each. So far, their peace negotiations have not met with success, and now there are indications of a movement to accomplish by a coup d'etat, what diplomacy has failed to do.

Caceres will not retire in favor of Iglesias. It is thought he might be willing to yield to Pierola, and when he and his army of Indians have approached near enough to Lima to make such a movement effective, it is said the Pierola party will give Iglesias an opportunity to choose between Pierola and Caceros, and then terms can be made with both the government party and the revolutionists for peace with Pierola as dictator, until a constitutional President can be elected. Until this peace comes, it is useless to talk of commerce with Peru. The country is now stripped of everything that is valuable. Conscripts for two armies have left the farms untillable; the people are producing nothing; trade is practically suspended, and the people who a few years ago were in affluent circumstances are now living upon what they can borrow of the pawnbrokers. Importing merchants say that they cannot buy goods without sending the cash with the order, and the distrust is so general that credit is obsolete. The government has incurred an enormous debt, and its principal source of revenue, the guano islands, have been seized by Chili. But with a few years of peace and industry, prosperity would return to Peru, for her natural resources are abundant. In an interview between the commission and the President and the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Peru, the latter said: "This government is disposed to give all possible facilities for increased trade, but I think another line of steamers would be very desirable. A line should be called an American line, but we would take shares in it to be offered to citizens of Peru, so as to allow them and the government an interest, and make it really an American-Peruvian line. The coasting trade is the privilege of each country, but it has been, for different reasons, allowed to be taken up by foreign traders. But this line should, if possible, sail under the flags of the different nations and countries on the entire coast. This country would give immediately the right of the coasting trade to steamers and could finally give an exclusive right. With regard to the question of a reciprocity treaty, the President of Peru thought it would have to be deliberated before a definite answer could be given.

Strike in Chicago.

CHICAGO, 1.—The street car strike, which began in the west division of the city yesterday, developed into a rather serious phase to-day. The company attempted to send out some cars early this morning, but the strikers and their sympathizers compelled the cars to return to the barn. At noon three cars were sent out on Madison street, all carrying a large force of police. On the trip down town no interference was attempted. On the return trip, however, the cars were met by a mob four or five thousand at Jefferson street. They followed the cars with hoots and yells to Union street and from there to Halsted street, the scene was of the most riotous description. The crowd hurled beer barrels, bricks, stones and all sorts of missiles at the cars, smashing the windows and nearly wrecking them. Several arrests were made, but the police were almost powerless to handle the mob. At Union street all sorts of obstructions were placed on the track. There several of the ringleaders of the mob were arrested, and a shot was fired at one of the supposed leaders. Missiles were thrown from the buildings at the cars. The cars proceeded slowly, with the great and demonstrative crowd following and uttering threats. Proceeding further west an enormous crowd of threatening men assembled near Ann Street, and the air was filled with stones as the cars tried to make their way through. The policemen were hit and injured and the cars badly wrecked, resulting in their finally being thrown off the track and overturned near the sidewalk line. The authorities are now massing their entire reserve force along Madison street and are making a number of arrests. The police have been patient, and with the exception of the one shot fired near the corner of Union street, revolvers have not been used.

At 2:15 p.m. three cars were badly wrecked. Under a heavy guard the police were finally taken to the company's barn on Western avenue and the riotous demonstrations have for a time ceased, although great crowds of excited men still throng Madison street. What the street car company now contemplates doing, or whether it will make any further efforts to move its cars, appears to be uncertain. No further trouble is expected except in the event of another attempt to start the cars.

Ballot Stuffers Sentenced.

CHICAGO, L.—The jury in the Mackin perjury case, returned into court this afternoon, having been out exactly an hour, with a verdict of "guilty." The punishment fixed was five years imprisonment in the penitentiary. As the last words of the verdict were pronounced Mackin slightly paled and clasped his hands together, as if in a spasm of pain, but this lasted but a moment and he chatted smilingly with his brother. The jury was unanimous from the start as to Mackin's guilt and there was very little discussion over the term of imprisonment. The delay in reaching a verdict—an hour exactly—came from the fact that the jury sent for and read over a part of the evidence. The prisoner was at once taken to jail, where he remarked to a reporter, who had inquired how he felt about the verdict: "Well, you know me boy; there are great changes in many men's wives, but we ain't through yet. I'll fight it to the end. the last bridge isn't crossed yet."

Counterfeit Tickets.

BOSTON, 1.—For some time past the Metropolitan Street Railway officials have been aware that counterfeit tickets were being turned in by their conductors. Detectives were put to work, and, as a result of their investigations, four conductors, named Louis Conners, Hiram H. Dinsmore, Richard Jones and Walter B. Perkins, were today arrested upon a charge of selling bogus tickets.

At Connors house was found a large quantity of these tickets, and upon all the men were found a considerable number. Twenty thousand of them were printed to be sold upon the road.

Caruso's Murderers Sentenced.

CHICAGO, 1.—Filippo Caruso's murderers have been awarded the death penalty. The jury to-night decided that Azari, Gilardi and Silvestri were the perpetrators of the crime, while Bova and Mercurio, their alleged coconspirators, were pronounced not guilty. They were convicted of the murder of an Italian for $300, whose body they placed in a trunk and shipped to Pittsburg.

No Cut Rates.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, 1.—The Government has officially notified the Mexican Central Railroad that it must comply strictly with the terms of its concessions and the provisions of the general railway regulations, forbidding inequalities in freight rates and that special through rates from the United States, cutting under the Mexican freight tariff, cannot be permitted. The Government also warns the railroad company that it shall investigate cases of alleged freight cutting, and if proven, the legally fixed penalty will be enforced. It is generally understood here, that Manager Robinson, of the Mexican Central road, has resigned, and that Mr. Albion G. Bradstreet, formerly chief engineer of the Tehuantepec Railroad and of the Eastern Maine Central roads, is named as his successor. He is favorably known here and has had a legal training and an extensive acquaintance with the Government.

Storm in Colorado.

DENVER, 1.—A heavy rain storm, near Forks Creek on the Colorado Central road, last night, caused a rapid heavy rise in Clear Creek, resulting in considerable damage to the road, carrying away two small wooden bridges and washing away the road bed in several places. Both bridges have been replaced and trains are running to Georgetown this afternoon. The Blackhawk branch of the same road also suffered considerably. The report that two Chinamen were drowned is unconfirmed.

A private message received late tonight from Blackhawk says the damage of last night's storm in that vicinity is greater than at first supposed. The public sampling works, and a mill below town, have been greatly damaged. The McFarland foundry was nearly washed away. At one time the water was three feet deep in the streets. Trains on this branch have not been running for two or three days. No loss of life reported anywhere.

The Iron Mills.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, 1.—Last night notices of a general reduction were posted up in the iron mills at Newburgh, signed by General Manager Chisholm, of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company. The notice stated that the reduction would go into effect today. It is understood that 10 per cent. is the amount of the reduction. During the night the men expressed much indignation, and after a consultation the mill employes gave notice at 4 o'clock that unless the reduction was declared void they would strike. No arrangements could be made at that early hour and after working the last "heating" all these men left the mills. Their course proved an incentive to the Nail, New Rod, Hoop, Puddle, Bar, Blooming and Butt mills, and the Siemens Martin steel works shut down and the workmen departed for their homes in a body. The only departments which continued in operation where the Besemer steel works, wire and brick rod mill. Later the boiler works and yard brakemen struck. Manager Chisholm held a consultation with the brakemen at 3 a. m., and promised to restore the drop in their wages. They then returned to work at 9.30. The Besemer Steel Works men decided to follow suit, and the works were shut down. Fully 2,500 men were idle at this time. The rail mill men were told at about 10 o'clock if they would return to work their wages would not be reduced. Their success was received by cheers from the men still out. The boilermakers, who also received a notice of reduction, struck at about 9 o'clock. With the exception of the rail and blooming mills, no concessions have been made, and all the other departments of the mill are closed.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use. Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jas. E. Moling, Hilliard, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled.

J. I. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Home," Tiffin, Ohio, writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am sure, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happiest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes: "Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia. After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs. V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes: "Last spring my daughter was attacked by membraneous croup, or diphtheria. The doctor prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which cured her of the diphtheria. Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."
