

DESPONDENT GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Sylvia Vail, Daughter of Former Fire Chief, Drinks Laudanum at Saltair.

DISCOVERED IN A BATHROOM.

E. J. Milne, Assistant Coach at University, Finds the Young Woman And His Efforts Save Her Life.

While in a despondent mood Sylvia Vail, the 18-year-old daughter of Charles T. Vail, former chief of the fire department, last night attempted to commit suicide by swallowing the contents of a two ounce vial of laudanum.

The poison was taken in one of the bathrooms at Saltair, and but for the prompt action of E. J. Milne, assistant coach of the University of Utah, who discovered the prostrate and almost unconscious form of the young woman, death would have resulted.

Miss Vail is employed as cashier at the Princess skating rink at Saltair, and although it was noticed by her friends and associates during the past few days that she seemed to be unhappy and given to brooding, she gave no hint of her intention to end her life. At the end of her day's work yesterday, at 6 o'clock, without a word to anyone she had gone to one of the bathrooms, and after locking the door, drank the laudanum.

Shortly after that, while passing the bathroom, Mr. Milne was attracted by someone moaning, and immediately began to investigate. Finding the sounds coming from the bathroom he first tried the door, and unable to open it, broke it in. Miss Vail was lying on the floor still and apparently dead. Mr. Milne promptly began the work of resuscitation and after much effort succeeded in freeing the young woman's system from the poison.

Later in the evening Miss Vail, in company with friends, Miss Russell, and Mr. Milne was able to return to the city, going to the home of Mrs. Leona Lastrus.

ROLLER RUNS WILD IN CROWDED STREET

Many Narrow Escapes When Pat Moran's Steam Racing Machine Plunges Through Crowds.

Little Lucile, 200 to 1 won. Driver—J. R. Player.
Nervy Nat, 3 to 1, second. Driver—Len Lewis.
Gracie Darling, 2 to 5 show. third. Driver—Charles Pitts.

Probably the most spectacular and thrilling speed contest ever witnessed in the State of Utah was that pulled off at 12:25 p. m. today under the auspices of the A. C. club, between three of Pat Moran's demon roller racing machines. The prize was $250.000 and a keg of beer, the latter guaranteed, and with such prizes hung up it is but natural that the greatest excitement existed between the dare-devil drivers of the speed annihilating steam machines.

The sensational race was witnessed by at least 10,000 persons or less and the greatest excitement prevailed from the time Gov. Spry fired the starting gun—12-inch gun—from the noble U. S. S. battleship Utah. There were no fatalities but many narrow escapes. At the quarter Nervy Nat was leading by a roller with Grace Darling a close second and Little Lucile a bad third. At the half the positions changed with Grace Darling leading, followed by Nervy Nat and Little Lucile third, but in the stretch the big sensation of the day came when the Player machine was seen to rear its front roller and dash fully ten feet in the marvelous time of 10 to 12.5. With another burst of speed the little racer plunged between the other two, tearing up several yards of pavement much to the joy of Pat Moran, one of the official timers, and rushing to the finish line a winner by two lengths. Time, 2 hours 43 minutes 2-5 seconds.

After the race, an effort was made on the part of some of the officials to disqualify the winning machine on the ground that it had been used. This was clearly disproved, however, and the officials who tried to work the miserable job fled, led by Malcolm McAllister.

Lucile is bound to go down in history as one of the most remarkable speed contests ever held in the intermountain region. A check for the $250.000 was handed Mr. Player and Jake Moritz has promised the keg of beer as soon as the City council gets through with the liquor licenses.

NOTED EDITOR A VISITOR.

Adolph S. Ochs Making Tour of the West With His Family.

Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, is due to arrive in Salt Lake this afternoon, on his way to the Yellowstone National park. Mr. Ochs is making a tour of the western portion of the country accompanied by his family, and after visiting the park will in all likelihood continue on to Seattle. Mr. Ochs climbed up to his present position from the ranks. He was born in Cincinnati March 12, 1858, and received a common school education at Knoxville, Tenn. In 1880-79 he was a carrier and newsboy at Knoxville, and later removed to Providence, Rhode Island.

He moved back to Knoxville, where he became a druggist's apprentice. In 1872 he learned the printing trade and in 1873 he became publisher of the Chattanooga Times, of which he is still proprietor. In 1880 he became proprietor and principal owner of the New York Times.

ELKS AT OGDEN.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, July 1.—Local railroad officials are making preparations for the handling of 15 to 20 special trains, bearing Elks enroute to Los Angeles, between the 6th and 10th of July. It is estimated that at least 10,000 Elks will pass through Ogden during the next 10 days. The local order will have committees at the depot to show every possible attention to the travelers.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The American Steel and Fuel company filed its articles of incorporation this morning with the county clerk. It has a capital stock of $10,000,000, divided into shares of $5 each. Of this amount 10,000 shares have been subscribed and the remainder set aside as treasury stock. The company will open headquarters in Salt Lake. It owns 14 mining claims in Wasatch county which it intends to develop. The officers are: B. T. Bauer, president; A. A. Sweet, first vice president; M. Moore, second vice president; G. S. Payne, secretary, and H. P. Clark, treasurer.

Articles of incorporation of the Barney Canyon Mining company of Salt Lake were filed this morning in the office of the county clerk. The capital stock amounts to $100,000, divided into shares of 10 cents each. The company owns 17 mining claims in the West Mountain district. The incorporators are: Frank W. Klett, George Ewing, Valentine Williams, N. Perry Browne and M. C. Goddy. These men will act as directors until the election of officers.

The Emigration Canyon Improvement company of this city: capitalization, 10,000, divided into 100 shares of $100 each, all of which have been subscribed. The officers are: Jacob F. Gates, vice president; George J. Cannon, secretary and treasurer; Charles D. Harding and Heber J. Grant, additional directors. Other incorporators are: W. Young and Horace G. Whitney.

The Knutsford Addition company of Salt Lake was incorporated this morning when articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office. The capital stock is $25,000, divided into shares of 25 cents each. The company owns a south one-third of Knutsford Place and will plat it into building lots. D. C. McEntyre is president and treasurer and F. J. Chamberlain is secretary.

SYLVESTER Q. CANNON HOME FROM HOLLAND

Reports Good Progress Making in Netherlands Mission, Where He Has Been for Two Years.

Sylvester Q. Cannon returned home last evening after an absence of two years in Europe, during which time he presided over the Netherlands mission. He was accompanied by his wife, and the only child of whom was born in Holland. All the family report having had an enjoyable time. The return trip was made without anything serious to mention. The purpose of the system is that the detectives will be able to find the problem by making what you would call the slow-moving vehicles, such as drays and wagons, keep to the extreme right of the street, or close to the curb. That leaves the center of the street free for the more rapid vehicles and automobiles, and the entire detective force in the east that I would like to see that some provision made here.

Another idea that impressed me is that of the social system in New York. Every morning at 8:30 all the prisoners taken in during the day before and night, are brought into a room and lined up on an elevated platform. Then the entire detective force, each man wearing a mask so that his features are entirely hidden inspects the row of prisoners, while one of the captains questions them. The purpose of this system is that the detectives may become acquainted with the prisoners, without the latter ever being able to recognize the detective. We will probably introduce this idea here, and the entire detective force would introduce it the daily drill of the men. In Detroit each relief is drilled before going on duty, and the results in the general appearance of the command, and the drill as being almost necessary. The only trouble here is that we are handicapped by lack of a drillroom or ground.

In response to a question regarding the handling of the social evil, and particularly the class of people known as "street-walkers," Chief Barlow said that aside from New York, the other cities he had visited all maintained a "restricted district," where such women were confined under police regulations, and that in most of the cities "street-walking" was suppressed by the constant arrest of that class of women.

CHIEF BARLOW IS BACK WITH IDEAS

Police Department May See Some New Methods Brought Out Soon.

MEN MAY BE GIVEN DRILL

General Appearance of Force in Detroit Convinces Him of Its Value.

After an absence of three weeks, during which he visited half a dozen of the largest eastern cities and attended the annual convention of the National Association of Chiefs of Police at Buffalo, N. Y., Chief of Police S. M. Barlow returned to his desk at headquarters this morning.

Chief Barlow expressed himself as having had a thoroughly enjoyable trip, as well as one of great profit, coming in as good as the visiting chiefs and the opportunity of inspecting the various systems of the eastern cities.

During his trip Chief Barlow visited Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, New York, and Columbus, and was afforded the opportunity to inspect the police systems in each of the cities. In speaking of his trip Chief Barlow said to a Deseret News reporter:

"I had a very pleasant trip, and one of both profit and pleasure. By an inspection of the systems in vogue in the different cities I visited, as well as coming in contact with the chiefs of police at the convention, I gained many ideas, some of them which I think can be introduced to advantage here."

"I am free to confess, however, that with the exception of perhaps Detroit, the police department here is better than those of the other cities I visited. In Detroit the police have the city regulated almost to a nicety. It is a clean, neat, and well-kept city, free from obstructions, the saloons are well handled, and in fact everything is well regulated."

STREET TRAFFIC CONTROL.

"One question I found though that they all have to deal with, and one which confronts us here is the matter of street traffic. In most of the cities they are finding an effective solution of the problem by making what you would call the slow-moving vehicles, such as drays and wagons, keep to the extreme right of the street, or close to the curb. That leaves the center of the street free for the more rapid vehicles and automobiles, and the entire detective force in the east that I would like to see that some provision made here."

Another idea that impressed me is that of the social system in New York. Every morning at 8:30 all the prisoners taken in during the day before and night, are brought into a room and lined up on an elevated platform. Then the entire detective force, each man wearing a mask so that his features are entirely hidden inspects the row of prisoners, while one of the captains questions them. The purpose of this system is that the detectives may become acquainted with the prisoners, without the latter ever being able to recognize the detective. We will probably introduce this idea here, and the entire detective force would introduce it the daily drill of the men. In Detroit each relief is drilled before going on duty, and the results in the general appearance of the command, and the drill as being almost necessary. The only trouble here is that we are handicapped by lack of a drillroom or ground."

In response to a question regarding the handling of the social evil, and particularly the class of people known as "street-walkers," Chief Barlow said that aside from New York, the other cities he had visited all maintained a "restricted district," where such women were confined under police regulations, and that in most of the cities "street-walking" was suppressed by the constant arrest of that class of women.

SALOON REGULATION.

"There is one thing in which we are far ahead of any other city that I visited," Chief Barlow continued, "and that is the regulation of the saloons. Take Chicago, for instance, last Sunday the saloons were wide open, and I understand it is the same in practically all the other cities on Sundays."

"All the eastern cities have larger forces than we have. Columbus, Ohio, for instance, has a population of 150,000 has a force of 240 men, while Salt Lake, with 100,000 inhabitants, only has an entire department of 80. Still I think our department will compare with any of them, and the efficiency of our men is not equalled anywhere."

"The convention at Buffalo, attended by about 300 chiefs from all over the country, was a very successful event, and through the interchange of ideas was of benefit to every one present. In New York I visited the Tombs and was shown throughout the entire department, with the working of all its branches explained."

After crossing and recrossing the continent Chief Barlow met with his first accident almost at his own home, and then it occurred in an automobile bearing through a bridge. Chief Barlow was met at Ogden by Mrs. Barlow and their three children, and Mrs. Ezra Thompson, who had driven in the latter's automobile for the purpose of bringing Chief Barlow to Salt Lake. While crossing a small bridge in the roadway a few miles outside of Ogden, the bridge's timbers gave way under the weight of the auto, and the machine dropped through. Fortunately none of the occupants of the car was hurt in any manner, but it required two hours' work before the machine was pulled up into the roadway and the journey to Salt Lake resumed.

NO SETTLEMENT REACHED.

There is no change in the plumbers' strike today. No proposition looking to the settlement of the trouble has come from the men, and the masters are still doing their best to meet the demands and get along without their men, claiming that the demand to pay $6 is more than they can stand.

CANYON HOMES NEAR THE CITY

Emigration Canyon With Electric Line Connections to Be Utilized.

COMPANY IS NOW FORMED.

Owens Wide Strip of Land Three Miles In Extent With Fine Mountain Water.

For the purpose of improving a portion of Emigration canyon and making it a desirable place for summer homes, a new company, known as the Emigration Improvement company, has been formed with a capital of $10,000. B. F. Grant is president of the company, J. F. Gates, vice president, and George J. Cannon, secretary and treasurer. These with Heber J. Grant and Charles D. Harding complete the directorate. Other incorporators are: H. G. Whitney and Richard W. Young.

The company owns 200 feet of land in Emigration canyon on each side of the railroad track for a distance of about three miles, beginning at a point about half a mile below Little mountain and extending up the canyon. The company also owns Maple canyon, which it proposes to make into an ideal place for summer homes. In addition to being beautifully located, there are plenty of pine mountain which is easily obtained, and might with small cost be piped to every home built there. It is proposed to sell lots in this canyon to those wanting summer homes, and the lots will be made very large, about 100x200, to provide all the comforts of space for families. The temperature is very cool and pleasant all summer, and the attractive feature is the fact that it is so easily accessible. An electric car service is being run from Mt. Olivet to the door making about 45 or 50 minutes service from the heart of the city.

In addition to Maple canyon, and the extensive strip in the center of Emigration canyon proper, the company owns McCrea canyon, and other property. Although the matter has not been fully decided, a director of the company said that it is probable that those who build summer homes there will be able to have electric light in their homes as well as mountain water. An arrangement with the railroad company operating in the canyon also being considered by which rates may be made to those living there.

TO NAME NEW MEMBER.

Successor to Judge Henderson to be Selected by Mr. Bailey.

It is likely that at the next meeting of the board of education Ledyard Bailey will be called upon to name a successor to the late Judge H. F. Henderson from the Fifth precinct. Following the death of Joseph Oberdorfer, Judge Henderson named Mr. Bailey, and it is now his duty, under the rules of the board, to name a successor to Judge Henderson. Just who the nominee will be is not yet known. In all probability Prof. Byron Cummings, vice president of the board, will be chosen president. The date of the meeting has not been decided upon, and will not be known until the return of Mr. Bailey, who is now out of the city.

COURT NEWS

DAY GETS ONE YEAR.

J. E. Day, 28 years old, was sentenced to one year in the state prison this morning by Judge Lewis on the charge of burglary of the second degree. John Nolan, who was in an accomplice in the crime, was allowed to go on his own recognizance, because he was induced by Day to assist in the burglary. He has been secured employment at the Garfield smelters and will go to the smelter camp this afternoon.

When Day was arraigned this morning he withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty. He waived time for sentence and judgment was passed. Nolan also pleaded guilty and on the recommendation of the district attorney he was released. The men entered a plea of guilty to the charge of burglary on June 4 last and stole several suits of clothes.

TAILOR SUES JUSTICE.

Nephi S. Timpon, a justice of the peace, was made a defendant in a suit for divorce by the late Justice W. N. Lewis, a merchant tailor, who seeks to recover a total of $50.80 and $10 attorney's fees and interest alleged to be due upon notes which he assigned to him for collection.

BLAMES MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Charles B. Rule declares in an answer filed yesterday to his wife's suit for divorce on the ground of neglect and desertion that it was all his mother-in-law's fault. He says that his mother-in-law has alienated his wife's affections from him and induced her to bring the action.

His wife, Mrs. Winifred Rule, brought her action against him 10 days ago. She asserted that he had failed to support her for several months and refused to live with her. They have a child, 1 year old. In denying these charges, Rule says that his wife attempted to provoke him to strike her on Dec. 29 last by trying to strike him

SALES CASE DISMISSED.

The story of Jack Sales' theft of $250 worth of silver harness trimmings from the Salt Lake Livery & Transfer company several months ago, was brought up again in Judge Bowman's court this morning, when the prosecutor asked for a dismissal of the case. Sales is now serving a sentence in the Montana state prison for horse-stealing and attempt to murder.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

J. F. Regby, employed temporarily as a clerk in the Robinson Drug company's store, was found guilty in Judge Bowman's court yesterday of having violated the license ordinance by selling two bottles of beer, and was fined $200. Regby admitted having sold the beer, but in extenuation pleaded that he had only been employed in the drug store two days and had not known whether the store had a license to sell intoxicants or not. Atty. Newton, for the defendant, asked for a stay of execution for three days in which to perfect an appeal to the higher court.

A. J. Gamey pleaded guilty yesterday to the theft of $40 from a room in the Lincoln house, and because he had returned $38 of the amount, his sentence was lessened to 40 days in the city jail.

The charges against J. F. Pugh, the inventor of a drink cure which the police assert is nothing but colored water, but given the catchy name of "Providence," were dismissed in Judge Bowman's court yesterday. Pugh was charged with having violated the license ordinance, but it could not be proven in the absence of the complaining witness that he had sold the stuff or received money for it.

Irving Heron, a clerk in the store of the Brice Drug company, pleaded guilty before Judge Bowman this morning to having sold a drug without the proper label, in violation of the state statute, and was fined $25. Heron was charged with having sold cocaine, and failing to label the bottle as such.

Carl D. Hazley this morning pleaded guilty to the charge of having obtained money under false pretenses, and he will have his hearing July 15. The complaining witness in the case is Leon Johnson, who alleges that Hazley secured from him $50 as a loan and
