Bill No. 84, by Stookey limits the rate of fare on street railways to 5 cents for any distance within the corporate limits or within three miles outside of the corporate limits of any city of the first or second class. Ballway comfirst or second class. Railway com-panles may charge 5 cents for each additional three miles beyond the radius above mentioned. The bill also pro-vides for transfers, except on parallel lines. Penaity for violation is a fine of from $5 to $50.

TWO BILLS PASSED.

During the session two bills passed the house-H. B. No. 2 by Luther, pro-viding for the payment of per diem and mileage to persons summoned as jur-ors; and H. B. 56 by Kinney, providing for the method of leasing railway equipment and rolling stock. Both were slightly amended before passage, and each provided discussion, some of it of Slightly amended before passage, and Cach provoked discussion, some of it of a mirth-making character. An effort to place H. B. No. 74 on its final passage failed, Edward objected to such hasty consideration, in view of the fact that the bill had been intro-duced but the day before. The measure allows componentions to elect directors

SMOOT HEARINGS.

(The following argument in the case against Senator Smoot came too late for our last issue, so is continued today that our readers may have it entire.] At the afternoon session, Mr. Van Cott discussing the inconsistency of the men who prepared the protest against Senator Smoot, said that E. B. Critch. low was in the convention that named the candidates for the Legislature which elected Smoot, and that Critchlow drew the protest against Smoot and has fought him since.

Justification for the "Mormon" Church engaging in business was offered by Mr. Van Cott by a citation of the case of Trinity church in New York as one that owns a vast amount of property. As reasons why Mr. Smoot should retain his seat, Mr. Van Cott gave the following towns in Chan will have to meet some time in the near future when its growth exceeds the capacity of its water sup-ply, and for that reason serious op-position to it is not considered far-sighted or compatible with good public policy, by many legislators. That Smoot could not have secured the Legislature without the ald of the Gentile voters; that he opposed the Evans bill, which was vetoed by the governor; that he encouraged the state superintendent in driving religion classes out of the public schools, and that he was not a polygamist. He then made the declaration that if Mr. Smoot should be unseated, it would solidify the "Mormons' more than ev-

Mr. Worthington followed for Sena-tor Smoot, discussing particularly the question of the endowment ceremonies and the oaths taken. He combatted the charge that there was an oath taken charge that there was an oath taken ter's rights, for which reason a lone rancher can sit in state in the mouth of a canyon and laugh at a hundred evidencing disloyalty to the government and protested against the rule form which denied to witnesses the provi-lege of stating that they had not taken thousand people in the city below, no matter how great their need for a wa-ter supply. Mr. Worthington concluded for the day, with the statement that the "Mormon" Church had received but one rev-elation in 23 years, and that was the one to stop polygamy. The closing ar-gument for the protestants will be made by Judge Tayler, instead of John the bins by straing but the paragraph referring to water. In support of his motion he claimed this bill was taking the right of eminent domain into an entirey new field, holding the position that it invaded personal rights. He ba G. Senator Gardner of Spanish Fork was strong in his love for the old home-stead. He spoke of the hard work of the settlers of Utah in building their homes, that would be devastated should the law pass. He claimed the city of Salt Lake could and should get water without devastating these homes and Sonator Lawrence invited him to submit any scheme to Salt Lake that would be feasable and directed his at tention to the long fight to solve the Senator McKay spoke at length go-ing into the history of Utah's early settlement, starting with the pioneer who drove up to a spring of water, or to the headwaters of a creek, and set-tled there to build his home. Then below other settlers come, and a city grows up. It has no water and comes to the settler above asking him to sell that its interests may be prospered. Will be sell and go elsewhere with his pockets full of money or will be have a right to cling on and refuse water to his brothers below? McKay thought not, and announced his intention of voting for the measure,

The Fourth and Last Volume Being Delivered.

IT CONTAINS 344 SKETCHES.

It is Given Without Charge to All Who Paid for the Three Freceding Volumes.

The fourth and last volume of the great work by Orson F. Whitney, entitled "The History of Utah," which has been in course of preparation nearly 15 years, is now being furnished to subscribers. The Deseret News acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a copy from the proprietors of the work, the Geo. Q. Cannon association of this city; as is generally known, everyone who has purchased the three preceding volumes is entitled to the fourth without charge. The fourth volume of this comprehensive work, probably the largest literary task ever engaged in by any Utah writer, is given up to blographical sketches of the leading citizens of the state. It contains 344 sketches and 129 illustra-tions. A special feature is the ar-rangement in groups for the convenience of study, and the continuation, as far as possible, through this volume, of the general narrative which goes before in Vols. 1, 2 and 3. The George Q. Cannon association, proprietors of the History of Utah, ob-tained the work from the History com-pany which was minimum. pany, which was originally organized to turn it out, and it is for them that Bishop Whitney has been laboring so long. He completed his task several years ago, but the death of President Geo, Q. Cannon and other causes de-layed its completion, and the author rewrote the entire volume, bringing the rewrote the entire volume, bringing the old biographies up to date and adding many new ones. The book comes from the "News" presses and bindery, and is bound in handsome, solid form, in full morocco gold embossed, the same as the three preceding volumes. The four volumes are indicensable to are full moroceo gold embossed, the same as the three preceding volumes. The four volumes are indispensable to any complete library, and hundreds of Utan citizens who have not yet obtained them will story degine to do so, now that the work is (sushed. "The History begins with the early "Mormon" annals, preceding the com-ing of the Pioneers to the west, and reaches down to the period of the "man-ifesto," the Issuance of which is men-tioned and its results summarized. The third volume, therefore closes with 1890, the year in which the "manifesto" was issued. The first volume, containing 735 pages, was completed in February, 1892; the second volume, 861 pages, in Jan-uary, 1803; and the third volume, 755 pages, in January, 1898. In the five years intervening between the two lat-ter periods, the work with interrupted for a long time, and a year and a half was spent by the author in Logan as a professor in the B. Y. college. While there he put the finishing touches on the manuscript of vol. 3, and read the proofs while the book was being print-ed in Salt Lake. After finishing vol. 3, Bishop Whitney made a special con-tract with Messrs. Geo. Q. Cannon & Sons for the writing of vol. 4, a book of biographical sketches which they had promised as a gift to all paid up subscribers for the original set of three. It is a matter of congratulation both set of three ibers for the original It is a matter of congratulation both to the owners of the History, the Geo. Q. Cannon and Sons association, and to its writer, Bishop Whitney, that the four volumes have at length been com-pleted. We understand that steps will be taken to have a new carvass made for the entire set, as since the first carvass was made, I years ago, many new people have come to Utah who will wish to become possessors of a work so indispensable to every first-class uters.

POLICE AND FIRE BILL.

Stewart's bill relating to the appointment of boards of police and fire com-missions in cities of over 12,000 inhabitants, provides that each board, shall consist of four members, two members of different political faith to be appointed by the mayor. A two-year term of office is specified. Any member may be removed by the mayor, providing that two-thirds of all the council members agree. No councilman shall be eligible for appointment to the board. Meetings must be held at least once a board. month The board shall assume all powers relating to police, prison and fre departments. The board is given authority to create a fire department consisting of the board, itself, a chief engineer, assistant engineer and such other officers and members as may be deemed necessary. The police depart-ment shall consist of the board, a thief of police, a cantain and such other efficers and members as are deemed necessary.

OTHER BILLS.

H. B. No. 79 by J. A. Anderson, by request, amends the law creating the state board of health. It provides that not more than four of the seven mem-bers appointed by the seven members appointed by the governor shall be of the same political party; their terms are reduced from seven to four Years; the secretary shall serve for four years instead of indefinitely as at seen, and his salary is reduced from $2,000 to $1,500 per year. "The report of the secretary of the land board, just received by me, shows that there are in the possession of the board at present, bonds, mortgages, etc., to the amount of over $1,000,000. Most of this property consists of nego-liable securities. Each member of the board is responsible for this property of the state, but I am informed that, by order of the board, the governor has been appointed direct custodian has been appointed direct custodian of this property. In view of the fact that the governor is not under bonds to the state, and is not required by law to be the custodian of these securities, this appears to me to be a very unbusiness-like way of conducting the affairs of the state, and I do not wish to assume the responsibility of being made the custodian of these securities.

"The secretary of the land hoard has in his possession at various times con-Elderable sums of money, including the payments made to the state on land purchases, interest, rental, etc., which money belongs to the state. In ad-dition to this, he is custodian of sums of money made up of the deposit of 25 cents per acre made by each applicant for land, pending the patenting of such and to the state. This is held by the secretary of the land board until the matter of patenting his been deter-mined, and then the money is paid over to the state or returned to the applicant if the state fails to get a netent. At the close of 1904 the amount patent. At the close of 1904 the amount of this fund reported by the secretary was $60,385,43. "It will be apparent to you that as the bond of the secretary of the land board is only $10,000, the intrusting to him of so large a sum is inconsistent. I respectfully suggest that it would be proper for the law to be amended im-mediately, so as to make one person, preferably the secretary, responsible for all properties in the custody of the board, including cash, bonds, etc., and to make his salary high enough and his bond sufficient to cover his responsibilities.

state board of land commissioners has met and rescinded the order making the governor the custodian of the bonds, stocks, etc., and authorized the delivery of all of them to the secretary of the board. Yours respectfully, "JOHN C. CUTLER, "Governor."

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutal-Ity if Chas, F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a featful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at Z, C. M. I. Drug Dept.

MAY LEASE WARM SPRINGS

City Council Favorably Impressed With Max Brothers' Proposition.

The committee on public grounds of the city council met yesterday with Mayor Morris and discussed the propositions received for leasing the Warm Springs roperty. Max R. Brothers, clerk of the property. Max R. Brothers, clerk of the board of health, submitted a proposi-tion to pay the city $230 per month for the property, the lease to run 10 years. He proposes to expand $10,000 in the next three years in improving the place and agrees to surrender possession of the property at any time the city finds a bet-ter lease, provided that the city pays him for the improvements made up to the time he surrenders his lease. Another proposition was received from W. M. Wantiand and the associates who offer to pay $200 per month for a 25-year lease and to expend $125,000 he improve-ments. The committee decided that it would not be wise to lease the property for longer than to years and a report will be drawn up accepting Mr. Brothers' proposition. Should a botter proposition, mittee will withhold its report for another week and investigate the new proposition.
