The amount appears in the appropriation law: "Insane Asylum $51,697.48." This is an odd sum and raises an inquiry as to the reason for it. The answer is to be found in the report of the Board of Directors to the Legislature. From this we take the following:

through the courtesy of the Secretary of the institution. The more Governor Murray's mes-sages on this subject are investigated the plainer do their weakness, un-fairness and invidiousness become ap-parent. Three objections were urged against the appropriation for the Uni-versity made by the people's officers elected to direct the disposal of the people's revenue. First, that the Chancellor and Regents were not nominated by the Governor. Second, that a portion of the amount appropri-ated was for the payment of a debt contracted without direct authority of State troops was stationed in the vault. This amount-$6,340.93, added to the estimates for completing the building, make up the sum that appears in the appropriation bill-$51,697.48. Now it will be observed that the Governor says not a word in opposition to this appropriation. And yet the officers of that nstitution were not nominated by the Governor, and a part of the appropriation was to cover a debt contracted without authority of law.

Understand, we are not finding any fault with the Asylum, its officers, their report or the appropriation. We are merely placing the two institutions. side by side and showing the difference in the Governor's action toward each of them in reference to the appropriations, when the same principles were involved in both. He has nothing to say about Section

Seven of the Organic Act in reference to the officers of the Insaue Asylum. And yet they are Territorial officers if the Chancellor and Regents of the Deseret University are Territorial officers. The Legislature appointed the Insane Asylum officers in a manner different from the Governor's interpretation of the Organic Act and of Section 1857 of the Revised Statutes of the United Therefore, according to his States. logic, he should have objected to the appropriation for the Asylum on the ground that "its organization is illegal." The same principle applies in either case, and if the University organization is "illegal" because its officers were not appointed in accordance with Section 1857 of the Revised Statutes, then the organization of the Insane Ayslum is 'iliegal" for exactly the same reason. Again, if the Governor would not endorse the appropriation for the University because a portion of it was "set aside to pay debts of the University" not contracted "by any warrant or authority of law;" on the same grounds he should not have endorse the appropriation for the Insane Asycause, as we have proved, it was open to exactly the same objec tion. The debts in both instances were contracted for building purposes, with the expectation that the Legiglature, under the circumstances explained, would endorse the action of the officers and aid them with the necessary appropriations, to which that body romptly responded in both cases. But the Governor, while endorsing' one without a murmur, made the other the subject of three special me es, and it failed at last to receive any pecuniary support whatever. Why all this difference and discrimf-

Simply, kind reader, benation? cause the Governor is himself one of the officers of the Insane Asylum, and can swallow Section Seven of the Organic Act, and Section, 1857 of the Revised Statutes, at once, without a tremor, when they are sugar-ed over with a little brief authority and a trifle of per diem and mileared See Itams in the Insane to property in Amherst county, and the low lands were all submerged.
