THEATRICAL.—The Robbers' was very finely presented last night, the playing, scenery, appointments, and stage action being all that could have been desired. Mr. Waldron played a capital De Moor, and he was excellently supported by Miss Adams, Messrs. McKenzia, Lindsay, Margetta, Graham, etc. At the close of a call from the audience brought Mr. Waldron and Miss Adams to the footlights, who bowed their response to the applause. "On and On" went the music.

To-morrow night the very exciting and emotional drama "The Island King," will be repeated, being its last presentation. This piece gave extreme satisfaction on Tuesday night and was watched throughout with the closest interest; and a very general desire for its repetition has been expressed. It should draw a crowded house. It will be followed with a song by Mr. Hardee, and the comedietta of "The Wild Ward," in which Miss Adams, Messrs. McKenzia, Lindsay, Graham and Matthews appear.

MAY WALKING was not at such a premium to-day as it has been, the Matinee being the great centre of attraction. Still, we saw the 15th Ward school moving towards City Park this morning, preceded by the martial band. The day was pleasant enough to make the walk and kanyon recreation so. At 4 p.m. they returned to the tune of "Highland Laddie."

THE MATINEE was the greatest kind of a success. There was a perfect sky of faces with not one single cloud. Bright faces, happy feelings, joyous moments, blessed, innocent childhood. They could see nothing in "Nick of the Woods" but fun; while the Fair scene was a feast to them. The Theatre was crowded in every part.

SAD ACCIDENT.—From Mr. Reed of Ogden we learn that a little son of Mr. John Staker, who resides about two miles west of Ogden, met with a sad accident a few days since which resulted fatally. Staker Staker was making soap, and had emptied the contents of the kettle into a tub. The little boy was playing near by at the time, and when his mother's attention was directed elsewhere he walked backwards and fell into the tub while its contents were yet hot. He died early the next morning. This occurrence should be a warning to mothers. They can be too careful in putting everything out of their children's reach that could by any possibility injure them.

FROM THE SOUTHERN STATES.—We extract the following from a letter from Mr. J. McClellan, dated Coosy county, Alabama, April 14th:—"The spring seems fairly open, and the apple trees have been in full bloom for ten or twelve days; the people have finished putting in their corn, and are now preparing for cotton planting. All is quiet, but the people, both colored and white, are feverish, and look to the future with much distrust. Secret organizations are said to exist in the neighboring cities, holding their meetings in the grave yards, and appearing in winding attire, and then, these things, with the appearance of grass hoppers in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Kansas, etc., are the leading topics, and although the few can see the Kingdom of God and the rising glory of Zion, yet all can see that distrust of nations at hand, and men's hearts are failing them for fear of the things that are coming on the earth."

QUICK WORK.—On Wednesday a telegram was received by T. F. Tracy, Esq., that a couple of individuals had robbed the mail at the head of Echo, and that they had been arrested by a man who saw them making for the mountains. He telegraphed back to hold them fast. Yesterday morning General Clappitt, Special Mail Agent, accompanied by Officers Heald and Dewey, started west for the Weber, and today they are on the return, with the prisoners in custody.

PASSING THROUGH.—A small party of packers passed through this morning. Sweetwater sound. The roads are now reported much better for traveling, east and west, so that the living stream may be looked to flow with tolerable steadiness towards the South Pass region for a season. We are not particularly timid, nor biased by any feelings of animosity, but judging from some of the specimens we have seen passing through here, we would rather make a little somewhere else than a fortune where such individuals gather in force. Considerably rather.

INDIANS.—The "New North West" and other places, keep considerably agitated about Indians. Papers from the north, west, east and south in almost every number have notices of Indian raids. We clip the following paragraphs from among many:

"The Cheyenne Argus says that on Friday morning the section hands at work between Summit and Antelope stations were attacked by a band of Indians. The men were prepared for them, and shot two dead. The Indians then fell back. The men are well armed, and prepared to meet the foe."

A St. Louis telegram says: "The Third United States cavalry, Major Elliot commanding, left Fort Leavenworth on Friday last for Fort Hays. A general feeling prevails in Kansas that there will be serious Indian trouble in that State this summer, and it is thought that this cavalry has been sent out to meet such a condition of things. Very little resistance is put up on the trail, close to the Indians being carried out in good faith."

The Idaho Statesman has the following:—"In the Idaho Statesman, a few days ago, capturing a number of horses. Troops have been sent post haste in pursuit from Fort Boise."

The Arizona Miner says:—"Indian sign is plenty in the mountains between Lower Lynx creek and Bug Bug. T. W. Rogers, who came up from the Lower Agua Fria yesterday, saw, on the trail, close to Pinyon ranch, the remains of somebody's ox when they had killed and eaten Thursday night."

The Cheyenne Leader of the 21st contains this item:—"Yesterday a number of wood teams belonging to Mr. Larimer were driven from where they were engaged in obtaining wood by a band of Indians. This occurred in the Black Hills about twenty-five miles from this city."

And here is another:—"The Argus has learned from good authority that two ranches were burned at Cottonwood, about twenty-five miles beyond Laramie, and that two settlers were killed by Indians."

Special Notices.

Through unavoidable circumstances the opening of Mrs. Martha T. Cannon's Select School for the instruction of Young Ladies in the English branches, on Monday, April 13th, 1888, had to be delayed. She now purposes to commence her school on Monday next, May 4th, in the West Wing of the 15th Ward School Room.
