DEMING, N. M., Nov. 9.—Frank Stebbins, a merchant of Palomares, Mexico, four miles below the border, arrived here this morning and brings news that fifty Tomochi Indians yesterday sacked that town. They are one of the scattering bands of Indians who survived the horrible massacre in the engagement with Diaz's soldiers last May. In the raid on Palomares yesterday they fired on the custom house guards, numbering thirteen, killed one of them and his horse, and then rifled the custom house, carrying away twenty-five carbines and pistols, 800 rounds of ammunition and $300 in money. They appropriated provisions and other supplies from the stores. One of the marauding band was killed in the engagement. The Indians distributed printed circulars crying "Down with Diaz." "Vive La Republica." The government has ordered cut troops.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 9.—The unpleasantness existing between Agent Eells of the Puyallup Indian reservation and the citizen Indians today broke out afresh, inasmuch as the Indians claim that he directed the reservation preacher to build a parsonage upon their graveyard site. A meeting of the trustees of the cemetery was called, and Eells notified to remove the parsonage building or the Indians would demolish it. The department of the interior was to be asked for a special inspector immediately to secure justice for the Indians, but it was decided that they were able to take care of themselves. The Indians have postponed action until Saturday.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The mystery surrounding the tragic death of Mrs. Hannah Toole and her daughter Margaret at their home in South Boston last night, after partaking of a bottle of porter, has an added horror tonight. The death of the father occurred tonight. Four of the family were present at the bedside of the dying man. These were Joseph, John, Patrick and Annie. Stephen, Michael and Minnie were confined at the station, charged with the murder of their mother and Margaret. The father passed away never knowing that his wife and daughter had gone before. He had been confined to his bed at home for months, suffering from an incurable malady.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 10.—A crank called at the office of M. T. Herrick, secretary and treasurer of security for savings, this afternoon with a dynamite bomb in his hand and a revolver in the other, demanding $50,000. The fellow then jumped through the window and escaped.

The robbers then jumped from the train and made for the woods, followed by several pistol shots from the revolvers of the messengers and conductor but without effect. No clue.

PARIS, Ky., Nov. 11.—Last night eight strangers rode into North Middletown. It is supposed their intention was to rob the bank. They shot at every person on the street and mortally wounded Curt Morris, an old negro. One citizen opened fire on the desperadoes who answered with a volley from their pistols. The desperadoes left, but returned an hour later and were charged upon by the citizens and driven out of town. Three of the robbers were badly wounded but were carried off by the others.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Three shipwrecked mariners from the Spanish bark Juanmurza have arrived here. Their vessel was wrecked in a hurricane on October 9. Ten of the crew took to boats, the other two remaining clinging to the mast from which they were rescued by a passing steamer and taken to New Orleans. The boat carrying the other ten was capsized and seven of its occupants were drowned. The other three managed to reach a small boat floating near by and after suffering terribly for three days without food or water they were rescued and brought here.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The result of the election in Massachusetts today can only be described as a huge political landslide. For the first time in three years the state will have a Republican governor, and his plurality is 80,000, at least. BARCELONA, Nov. 8.—A dynamite bomb thrown by some anarchists into the midst of a crowded theater is the latest outrage and disaster in Spain. The Liceo theater, a magnificent building, the largest of its kind in Europe was filled last night with a distinguished audience estimated to number 4000. The opera of William Tell was being given. While the performance was in progress two dynamite bombs were hurled from the top-most gallery into the midst of the stalls. One exploded with a detonation which shook the building to its foundations and scattered death and destruction on every side.

A second bomb fell into the lap of a lady and rolled thence harmlessly to the floor. A scene of confusion and terror followed. The audience rose to their feet in a panic, scarcely realizing what had happened while the building rang with the cries of pain and shrieks of fear and of vengeance. The terror and panic increased as the audience room filled with the smoke and dust from falling plaster and with the broken glass falling on the panic-stricken audience adding to the number wounded. After a moment of paralyzing terror, the fears of other bombs being thrown overcome all reason and the audience made a mad rush for the exits, women and children receiving no consideration in the fierce struggle and were trampled under foot and
