THAT DEMONSTRATION.

Its Magnitude and Magnificence.

NEW YORK, 12.—The Times says: With over 60,000 men in line, parading before 300,000 spectators, and with a display of enthusiasm that seemed almost immeasurable, the demonstration of last night was on all sides conceded not only a great success, but the most remarkable and noteworthy of its kind which the city ever witnessed. The procession itself was not only remarkable for the number of persons, and all men at that, who took an active part in it, but for the character of those who chose in this way to show their ardent regard for republican principles. Among the men who took part in the procession, and who honored themselves no less than the cause they espoused by their presence, were members of very many foremost firms of bankers, brokers, produce merchants, dry goods and carpet merchants and others whose names are among the best known in various commercial callings. The procession itself was full of interesting features. The marching was very much better than is usually seen in turnouts of civilians. The uniforms of the men were tastefully and sufficiently varied to avoid the approach of sameness, which is so often the case in a demonstration of this kind. The music was exceptionally good, every first-class band of the city and neighborhood appearing in line. There was a sufficient number of very bright calcium lights in the procession to furnish a glare which is regarded as inseparable from affairs of this kind. Frequent discharges of fireworks also assisted in making the scenes more pleasant and varied to the eye, and the hearty cheering of the paraders was something worth listening to. The crowds of spectators were enormous.

The Times comments thus: The Tammany parliament had its uses in showing the kind of men and boys who are supposed to desire a change in the National administration. Last night the republican parade was very impressive. The demonstration on the part of those who think no change necessary, to an impartial or doubting voter no contrast could be much more instructive than between the straggling lines of the hard featured democrat processionists and the compact, well ordered ranks of 60,000 intelligent, law abiding citizens, who made so imposing a display last night, of their unalterable devotion to republican principles. Tammany exhibited the New York kind of popular sovereignty which is represented by the corner loafer and rowdy. The republicans showed the sovereign people who are the custodians of our morality, our education, our commerce. The least reflective observer might infer the nature of the change which would attend the substitution of the Tammany rag-tag and bob-tail, for men who were so well represented in the parade of yesterday. It is many days since New York has seen anything better calculated to show how broad and deep are the foundations of the great republican party. Never in all the history of the party has it given on the eve of a close and exciting election, and in the very citadel of democracy, evidence so convincing of an approaching triumph.

Contradicting Nimmo's Figures.

NEW YORK, 12.—The World says: The following communication is especially interesting, in that it meets some of the objections to paying the inter-oceanic canal, set forth by Chief Nimmo, of the Bureau of Statistics, in his recent treatise on the subject, and will effectually set at rest all future objections of that kind:

United States Hydrographic Office, Bureau of Navigation, Washington, Sept. 22.

Rear Admiral Daniel Ammen, U. S. N.,

Sir — In accordance with your verbal request I have caused to be copied from the records of this office information which you desire in reference to the variable winds which prevail in the vicinity of Panama and on the coast of Nicaragua, respectively. From a total of 2,353 observations in the bay of Panama, and of 1,758 observations on the coast of Nicaragua in the vicinity of Brite, and in each case covering roughly, about the same extent of ocean, it appears that calms and variable winds at the former locality amount to 11 per cent. of the whole number of observations, while at the latter they amounted to five per cent. In order to reach a region of trade winds, sailing vessels from Panama, bound to India, Japan and California, or the northwest coast, in coming out of the bay and afterwards making the necessary distance, will be obliged to make about 800 miles through variable winds and vexatious calms before finding themselves in as good a position to make their westing as vessels leaving the coast of Nicaragua.

Very respectfully,
J. B. P. DEBROFFT,
Captain U. S. N. Hydrographic.
To Bureau of Navigation.

Chinese Commission.

A Shanghai dispatch says: On the 10th the United States Immigration Commission had its first conference with the representatives of the Chinese government, Fao Asun and Lee Hung Taso. These gentlemen, who are plenipotentiaries on the part of China, are said to be friendly to the object of the commission, and it is now believed that the business of the session will be rapidly dispatched.

A Saint's Affection.

"Deseret, or a Saint's Affection," an American opera, was produced for the first time last night, at Haverly's, Fourteenth Street, and at once achieved a decided success. The audience, which filled the house, became quite enthusiastic and demanded repetitions of many numbers.

Hayes' Journeyings.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—A Port Townsend dispatch says: The Presidential party to-day left Seattle and visited Port Blakley and Port Gamble, where they were enthusiastically received. They thence proceeded to Port Townsend. About four miles from the Port a steamboat came alongside with the committee of reception on board. The boat landed at about 5 o'clock. Salutes were fired from a battery and fully 1,500 people were assembled on deck, and as the steamer came alongside, repeated cheers were given for the President, Secretary Ramsey, General Sherman and General Howard. The party were driven upon their arrival to the hotel, where an address of welcome and brief responses were made by the President, Secretary Ramsey and General Sherman.

A Sad Story.

The revenue cutter Corwin, brings news that at St. Lawrence Island out of 700 inhabitants 500 were found dead from starvation. Traders had introduced liquor among them causing them to neglect laying in their usual supply of provisions. The officers of the Corwin express the opinion that the Jeannette wintered on the Siberian shore, and is now there west of North Cape. The Corwin could not get far enough west to verify this belief on account of ice.

Election Day in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, 12.—Election day opened cloudy and chilly, but cleared off into a beautiful day. A circuit of polling places shows that the voting has been active since, so that already over half, and in some places three-fourths, of the ballots are already in the boxes. The republicans claim that the fine weather works to their advantage, but the democrats do not concede this. Both parties are doing their utmost, and the vote is likely to be larger than ever before. There has been no trouble, and the best of feeling seems to prevail. The democrats claim to have evidence that two illegal votes have been cast by republicans in one precinct.

Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, 12.—In the Supreme Court to-day the following business was transacted: No. 290, Alfred Cohn and Harry Gibbons appellants vs. the United States; appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the district of California; on motion of Assistant Attorney General Smith, docketed and dismissed.

Theatre Burned.

CHICAGO, 12.—The beautiful West Side theatre, the Academy of Music, was gutted by fire this forenoon. Five firemen on the roof during the fire fell through with it, and one received fatal injuries; $20,000 were spent redeeming this theatre during the summer vacation.

The Election in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, 12.—The election is passing off very quietly. No indications of disturbance from any quarter. Business is generally suspended, and a very full vote will be polled. Only two or three arrests have been made by the police.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, 13.—It is reported that gold to the amount of £600,000 was taken from the Bank of France yesterday, chiefly for America and Germany.

News has been officially received this afternoon that the Sultan has consented to an amicable concession of Dulcigno.

The Sultan last night signed an irade, in which he orders the surrender of Dulcigno.

The Egyptian Commission established at Assivot says: The suppression of the slave trade is a perfect farce.

Thyemys, 12.—King Thebaw, rendered arrogant by the easy suppression of the rebellion, under Prince Nyoungokeia, has been preparing to make war on the British. Over 10,000 Burmese troops have arrived at the frontier, and they daily expect to be reinforced by 10,000 more. A message is also expected from the King demanding indemnity from the British for losses of Burmese subjects from Nyoungokeia's expedition, or troops will immediately cross the frontier. Two companies of infantry have been ordered up to protect the villages.

Dublin, 12.—The military authorities in the west of Ireland are making extensive preparations in view of apprehended disturbances. Houses are being hired at Quam and Headford, in Galway and at Batly, Mayo, for immediate occupation by military detachments. Troops will also be sent to Currough for Castle Barand, Westport, in Mayo.

Ottawa, Canada, 12.—A pastoral was read in the Catholic churches in this city forbidding parents to send their children to the model school, on pain of deprivation of sacraments. The model school is a government institution preliminary to the normal school.

Correspondence.

A Prophetic Incident.

BEAVER, Oct. 8th, 1880.

Editor Deseret News:

There are many incidents in the life of the Prophet Joseph Smith connected with the private affairs of individuals which, although strong collateral evidences that he was inspired of God, never find their way into his biography. The following occurred some time after the Prophet's return after leading Zion's Camp to Missouri, in 1834. I was in Kirtland at the time near his residence.

It was well known that Elder Lebeus T. Coon, of the company, left Clay County, Missouri, for Kirtland, Ohio, at a stated time, with intent to return direct to his home in the last named town, and the period of his arrival was easy to estimate, in fact I think he had written about when here, though not known to any one. The time arrived and passed, even weeks and, I believe, some months passed, but no tidings of Brother Coon. What could be the matter? Was he murdered by the Missouri mob, or had he sickened and died? Sister Coon felt sure if alive and detained on any account he certainly would write and let her know. She as may naturally be supposed was sorrowful and downcast. Early widowhood with I think an only child, an infant at the breast, was feared. In this state of mind she went to "Brother Joseph" and asked him whether he thought her husband was living or dead. He cast his eyes downward for a moment, then looking at her said in substance, "Brother Coon is not dead, he is sick and has been at the point of death, but is better. He will be here in three weeks." Just three weeks from that day the emaciated husband and young father arrived and corroborated every word the Prophet had said concerning him. If you think the fact worth publishing, which doubtless all who lived in the south part of the town and knew him will remember, it is at your disposal.

Your brother,
DANIEL TYLER.
