choir east, made a proposition to have a million dollar golden girl cast and sent to the Great French capital next year. It will be remembered that Maud Adams the famous Utah actress was chosen as a model. But Edwards denounced Higbee as a fakir and succeeded in keeping him out of the deal. According to the Denver Post as soon as Governor Thomas can find a salaried job for Edwards, the anti-golden girl member of the commission, he will be asked to vacate the place he now holds. At a conference of the other members of the board with the governor this week the conclusion was reached that if ever the body was to accomplish anything in the way of preparing an ex-hibit for the Paris show, it must work without Mr. Edwards, who by opposing the golden girl fake made himself personally disliked by the other members. On this account the governor, it is stated, has decided to ask for Edwards' resignation, at the same time offering him a public position with a salary attached to it. There is no sal-ary on the Paris board for him. It is learned from the same source that the deposed commissioner will be tendered the place of night captain at the penitentiary, which has been vacant since Captain Gibbons was re-moved by Warden Hoyt following the J. K. Stratton escape some time ago. This place is considered a good swap, as there is little to do, and $100 is the price

Edwards' friends in Denver claim that he has too good a thing where he is and that he will refuse to resign, and will decline the captainship at the "pen" or any other place the governor may offer him unless it is something ery lucrative.

Just now the commissioner is at Cripple Creek working in the interests of United States Commissioner General Peck towards the carrying out of the one million-dollar pyramid idea, advanced by Peck on his visit to Denver last summer. At last accounts Edwards was meeting with much success in the way of collecting gold for the proposition. He is operating as the Col-orado Paris board, though his salary and expenses are being paid by the government commissioner. When it was announced some time ago that Edwards was making progress on Peck's scheme, the other members of the board became jealous and determined that he should not be allowed to get ahead of them if it was possible to prevent it. Commissioner Raney, who recently returned from New York, it is learned, has secured the permission direct from the head of the exposition at Paris for the board to proceed with the collection of an exhibit of the State's States commission may do in the mat-ter. It was agreed that nothing could be done if Edwards was allowed to re-main on the board, so the plan of get-ting bim off, described above, was deided upon.

The board has not abandoned the golden girl idea entirely. The bogus gold and the fake advertising features have been dropped, it is true, but the board is determined to get up some kind of a gold statue, if for nothing else than to help knock Peck's scheme in the head.

BRITISH LOSS AT KIMBERLEY

Pro-Boer Meeting at Dublin-General Buller Cannot Tell Anything About Boer Losses.

Pretoria, Dec. 2, via Lorenzo Marques, Monday, Dec. 4.-Gen. Joubert is indisposed and as arrived at Volkrrust, across the Transvaal border, for medical treatment.

A dispatch from the head laager, where Gen. Schalkburger is in supreme command during the' absence of Gen. Joubert, announces that a council of war was held December 2nd with reference to assaulting Ladysmith. The state attorney has arrived at the camp to advise the Boer commanders. Everything is quiet at Ladysmith.

Dispatches from the west report that there was a heavy artillery fire during the afternoon of December 2nd. All is quiet at Kimberley. Comfortable houses have been erect-garrison up to November 29th. In spite of the rumers of a retrograde movement upon the part of the Boers. the stories just received show that the garrison, although still strong, was suffering from confinement, restricted diet, and the increasing volume of the Boer artillery fire, especially that of additional heavy caliber guns placed in position five thousand yards from western defenses.

The dispatches relate that the Boers had discovered the most vulnerable points of the garrison, and that shell-ing was becoming disagreeably effective. The rations had been reduced and there was a great deal of sickness. Nevertheless, the troops of the garrisc were in every way preparing to meet the assault which it was anticipated the Boers would carry out in a final effort to reduce the city.

The belief was current in Ladysmith that the Boers were preparing for a retrograde movement after another attack. Several bodies of burghers were report ed to have been seen Nevember 28, moving in the direction of the Drakensburg range, while November 29 detachments were observed journeying northward with wagons. Discord between the Transvaalers and Free Staters was also reported. There was no indication, how-ever, that the Boers were preparing to dismantle their gun positions, but that the idea was prevalent in some quarters of Ladysmith that the continued shelling of the place was intended to cover the retirement of the Boer forces towards the Transvaal frontiers. The Pretoria dispatch of Saturday Dec. 2, via Lorenzo Marques, Monday

Advices from Putterskraal, the headquarters of Gen. Gatacre's division, dated Saturday, Dec. 2, say the Boers entered Dordrecht that morning. This it is added, is probably Goebeler's force of 150 men from Stormberg.

The war office has received the fol-lowing from Gen. Buller: "Pletermaritzburg, Tuesday, Dec. 5.— It is very difficult to make any state-ment in regard to the enemy's loss. For instance, at Belmont, eighty-one of their dead were accounted for. The enemy gave fifteen as the number of killed. Information from a trustworthy Boer source shows that at Hildyard's fight, Nov. 23rd, the enemy's loss was 30 killed and 100 wounded. London, Dec. 6.-The amount of space de oted here to President McKinley's message to Congress evidences the widespread interest in the document.
