

COMMISSIONERS OPEN THE BIDS

Printing for the County, Including Delinquent Tax List, To be Awarded.

BIDS BRING BIG SAVING.

Three Papers File Offers, Highest Being Republican and Lowest The Telegram.

At their meeting yesterday afternoon, the county commissioners opened the bids submitted by the city newspapers for the advertising of the county for the year ending June, 1910. That the suit of County Attorney Lyon against the county commissioners for letting the contract for printing the delinquent tax list to the Republican last fall, without asking bids, had borne fruit was evidenced by yesterday's action. Bids had this year been solicited through a public advertisement by County Auditor Hegenbotham, and after being opened the bids were referred to Commissioner Mackay and the auditor for tabulation. This was necessary owing to the lack of uniformity in the bids received.

The Herald and the Tribune submitted no bids. The Telegram's price was 40 cents an inch per each insertion on general advertising, and for printing the delinquent tax list, 15 cents for each name for the entire 10 insertions. Should there be 10,000 names in the list, this would make the bid of the Telegram $1,500.

The Deseret News bid was three and one-half cents per line for each name, for printing the delinquent tax list, not three and one-half per inch as erroneously stated by some of the papers. On a basis of 10,000 names this bid would amount to $3,500 for the 10 insertions.

The Inter-Mountain Republican submitted a bid of 40 cents per inch per line for general advertising, and for printing the delinquent tax list, 15 cents for each name for the entire 10 insertions. On a basis of 10,000 names this would amount to $3,500.

BIDS FOR OTHER PRINTING.

The bids for stationery were received from the Utah Lithograph company; Kelly & Company, the Skelton Publishing company; the Greater Printing company, and the Tribune-Reporter company. These bids were in schedules and for a variety of styles.

The commissioners under the statute must average the entire bid of each firm and give the whole contract to one firm. This will be done the latter part of the week.

The commissioners approved the bond of the Pauly Jaff Building company for $25,000, which is half the amount that the firm will receive for constructing the jail. The commissioners requested the company to begin immediately with the excavation and rush the building through to completion. The company will start work tomorrow morning.

The site on which the building is to be located is a little too small.

The commissioners met with Mayor Bransford yesterday afternoon and opened negotiations to secure about six feet of ground from the city which has a piece of land adjoining the site. It is probable that the city will grant the county a right of way over the ground for a roadway.

PAYING DETECTIVE SERVICE.

The commissioners allowed a claim of $350 to Detective Shelton, a private detective, who assisted Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp in securing evidence about the stockade, which is now a thing of the past. Sheriff Sharp said that it was necessary to employ some private help because the owners of the stockade had "sluths" watching him and his men all the time and it was difficult to get into the stockade before the signal was given to extinguish the lights. There will be another extra bill of $200 for a special prosecutor in the red light cases. Attorney Philo Farnsworth, who acted in that capacity, reported to the county commissioners yesterday that all the cases had been disposed of. Three were tried and found guilty, and the others, amounting to 56 in number, pleaded guilty and had left the city under suspended sentence.

The commissioners affirmed the appointment of Adam Benson, who was employed as an extra clerk in the county auditor's office.

INTERESTED IN CANYON HOMES

Buyers Looking Over the Ground in Emigration Canyon.

Great interest is being shown in the summer residence property of the Emigration Canyon Improvement company, which is now being offered for sale. Parties of prospective buyers are going up the canyon every evening to look over the lots now being offered in Maple canyon, which runs south from the main canyon just below the transformer plant of the railroad company. The company has platted the whole of this canyon, which has sufficient altitude to insure coolness in the hottest summer, and also plenty of pure water and shade trees. A number of the lots have already been sold. Parties are going to join the crowd should leave Mt. Olivet at 5 p. m. On the return trip they get back to the city about 8 o'clock.

VENOM OF CHILLED LOVE.

Such Caused Trouble Between Joe Gordon and His Former Friends.

If the story of "Mistah" Joe Gordon, colored, is true the charge against him of having disturbed the peace of Mrs. Mary D. Beauchamp, was nothing more than the venom of a love grown cold and malignant. If the story of the scolding of Gordon's affection for the mother of his child, which was nothing more than the venom of a love grown cold and malignant. If the story of the scolding of Gordon's affection for the mother of his child, which was nothing more than the venom of a love grown cold and malignant. If the story of the scolding of Gordon's affection for the mother of his child, which was nothing more than the venom of a love grown cold and malignant.

Gordon's story was that he had gone to the house of Mrs. Beauchamp to secure his razor and borrow an umbrella, and was surprised to find that he was refused admittance. He had walked to the house after a considerable argument and then got an angry surprise when the women began calling him names and then locked him in a room until the arrival of the officer.

The women told a different tale, accusing him of having been drunk, threatening to shoot them, using vile language, and so forth. They also accused him of having been drunk, threatening to shoot them, using vile language, and so forth. They also accused him of having been drunk, threatening to shoot them, using vile language, and so forth.

The decision of the court failed to meet with the approval of the mother, who wanted to see Gordon behind the bars, and she showed her feelings in a violent outburst until quieted by the bailiff.

TWO OPINIONS IN SUPREME COURT

Judge Lewis Directed to Dismiss Appeal in Snell vs Winter.

RICE CASE IS AFFIRMED.

Ruling in a Case Where Bill of Lading Contained Stipulation Permitting Inspection.

In an opinion handed down this morning by the supreme court, Judge T. D. Lewis was directed to dismiss an appeal of the defendant in the case of J. W. Snell against Orson Winter. The appeal was taken from the justice's court at Murray, in which Snell obtained a judgment against Winter. The notice of the appeal was certified to in the justice's court, but Snell held that no notice of appeal was served upon him and asked that Judge Lewis dismiss the appeal. Judge Lewis refused to do this, and then the plaintiff raised the question of jurisdiction and made an application to the supreme court for a writ of prohibition restraining Judge Lewis from proceeding further with the appeal.

It was argued by the plaintiff's attorney that the district court had no jurisdiction in the matter on account of the defect in the appeal. Before the case reached the supreme court, the defendant made an affidavit in the district court which was allowed to supply the defect in the record. The supreme court held, however, that the affidavit was not sufficient and that the defendant did not comply with the statutes in making an appeal. For this reason, the opinion holds that the district court had no jurisdiction in the case. This opinion was written by Justice J. E. Peck and concurred in by his associates.

DECISION IS AFFIRMED.

The supreme court affirmed today the decision of the lower court in favor of the defendant in the case of the Wall Rice Milling company, appellant, against the Continental Supply company, respondent. The suit was brought to recover the purchase price of a carload of rice when the appellant shipped to the respondent.

When the rice was delivered in Ogden the Continental Supply company refused to accept it because it was inferior to the sample submitted and had been damaged. The Wall Rice Milling company of Lake Charles, La., filed the suit, but the jury found in favor of the defendant. The case was appealed on the contention that the Continental Supply company had accepted the rice because it had unloaded it and stored it in the warehouse before refusing to accept it. The court held, however, that the bill of lading contained the stipulation that the Ogden company had a right to inspect the rice before accepting it and the exception was overruled. The opinion was written by Justice J. E. Peck and concurred in by his associates.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

J. H. Davis of Ogden, a locomotive engineer, has filed a petition of voluntary bankruptcy in the federal court. His liabilities are $2,300, and his assets at $177, all of which are said to be exempt.

IN POLICE COURT.

An even half dozen drunks were hauled before Judge Bowman this morning, but the only one who failed to impress the court. Five of the penitents were assessed a $5 fine, but John Collins, a "familiar," was discharged. Collins proved that he hadn't been in the courtroom on a charge of drunkenness since last February, and his five months' good behavior was enough to merit recognition. For the others, however, there was no excuse, even though the most of them had simply been celebrating the Fourth of July.

Vagrants fared better than the drunks, and W. L. Paine and Thomas Dwyer were given the chance to leave the city rather than being passed on them tomorrow morning.

Mike Seren, charged with violating the liquor ordinance by selling intoxicants to a girl under the age of 20 years, pleaded not guilty, when arraigned, and will be given a preliminary hearing on July 15.

J. W. Bustrom seemed to prefer to forfeit $10 bail rather than answer to the charge of disturbing the peace, but Prosecutor Rogers would not have it that way. On the motion of the prosecutor the bail was declared forfeited but a bench warrant for the arrest of Bustrom also ordered issued. C. M. Lucas arrested with Bustrom under a similar charge was represented in court by counsel and will have his hearing Saturday.

William Ballard, whose marital troubles reached a crisis when he was arrested upon complaint of his wife, who charged that he had violently struck her, blacked her eyes and so forth, this morning that he would prefer to be tried by some judge other than Judge Bowman. When arraigned and asked for his plea he reiterated that he wanted a change of venue. When it was impressed upon him that he was entirely out of order the plea was refused and he was placed under $100 bonds pending his hearing on July 16.

P. Grandell, whose insatiable appetite for the toothsome morsel of chicken led him into trouble yesterday, finds himself in deeper trouble today. Yesterday his craving for chicken was so overpowering that he couldn't withstand the temptation of the henroast of J. S. Nielson, at 56 west Fourth South street. He got the chicken, but his anticipation of the coming feast was snuffed by Mr. Nielson, who has serious objections to the loss of even one of his chickens. Instead of enjoying an appetizing chicken dinner, Grandell found himself at police headquarters with a charge of petty larceny against him, and at liberty only after depositing $10 as a guarantee of his good faith in his assurance of being present to explain his side of the case to the court. His good faith didn't carry, however, and when he failed to appear in court this morning a bench warrant was ordered issued for his arrest. Unless he can increase the magnitude of his good faith to $50 he will be kept at headquarters so that he will be sure to answer when his name is called out in court tomorrow morning.

Tim Murphy was too demonstrative in his celebration of Independence, and it cost him $10 for the use of the street as a show place. He had yelled and shouted so that his voice was still hoarse, but he managed to pitch it high enough to tell the court that he had had so much fun that he was willing to leave Salt Lake now if given the chance. The court, however, thought that Tim should pay for all the fun he had had—and Tim will make a noise like breaking rocks for the next 10 days.

LEAGUE TO DISBAND AT MEETING TONIGHT

Butte, Mont., July 7.—In an interview here today, Manager Barnes of the Butte team in the Intermountain baseball league says that at the conference to be held here this evening between President Lucas and the owners of the franchise, the organization will disband. He declares that the four clubs have lost $14,000 in the aggregate and that the attendance is very discouraging.

RAILROAD NEWS.

LANDSLIDES ON D. & R. G.

Traffic on Rio Grande Blocked as Result of Heavy Rains.

Denver, July 6.—Tonight the blockades in railroad traffic in various parts of Colorado resulting from the heavy rains of the last few days, are unbroken. Probably the most serious tie-up occurred along the line of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad west of Canon City, in the famous Royal Gorge. Here landslides caused by the rains have covered the track to a depth of from six to 20 feet for several hundred feet in three different places. Three through trains are held at Canon City, carrying over 1,000 bound for various points on the Pacific coast, including delegates to the Elks' national convention in Los Angeles, the Christian Endeavor convention in Portland and the Epworth league convention in Seattle.

At Ramah, Colo., the rains of last night washed out a quarter of a mile of the Rock Island track, and today trains for Colorado Springs and Pueblo have been detained by way of Denver. Today 600 men were engaged in clearing the Colorado & Southern track in Clear Creek canyon between Denver and Idaho Springs. Scenes of pioneer days were re-enacted at Golden today, when a special train from Los Angeles, loaded with provisions and started across the hills for Idaho Springs and other mountain towns.

HILL GETS FRANCHISE.

Cheyenne City Council Grants Colorado Road Rights Through City.

(Special to the "News.") Cheyenne, Wyo., July 6.—The Cheyenne city council tonight granted a franchise to the Colorado railroad, a Hill line, to build through the business section of the city and connect its Cheyenne & Northern and Cheyenne & Holdrege branches. The franchise requires that Hill extend his Wellington, Colo., line on to Cheyenne within two years.

A great demonstration followed the passing of the ordinance, the council chamber being crowded with citizens, while hundreds of others gathered outside.

The Union Pacific waged a hot fight against the ordinance. The victory of Hill is a decisive defeat for the Union Pacific and marks the beginning of the end of the long and bitter domination of public affairs in Wyoming.

The Burlington people announced tonight that they will at once build the connecting links in Wyoming, and Colorado for the Gulf to Puget Sound line.

Keller, formerly Miss Daisy Wolfgang of this city. The entire trip was much enjoyed.

AROUND THE WORLD PARTIES IN SALT LAKE

Three Young Men Going After Record By Encircling the Globe in Forty-seven Days.

Charles D. Pike, city passenger agent of the Salt Lake Route at Los Angeles, is in the city today, "chaperoning" the "around the world" party of young men and women sent out by the Los Angeles Examiner. With the party of young people, and acting as conductor and manager of the big trip, is H. J. Wells, a well known newspaper man of Los Angeles. Mr. Wells has with him 15 boys and girls, winners of the Examiner's around the world, and New York, London and Paris trips, etc., and the first leg of the long trip has been accomplished in the arrival in this city. Otherman Stevens, a well known writer and art critic, is in charge of two boys who are going after the record for circling the earth. Mr. Stevens and his proteges are also in the city. They broke the tape at Los Angeles at 10 o'clock yesterday morning to the music of brass bands and the tooting of whistles. They will make all speed on their journey, and expect to catch the tape at Los Angeles again, having encircled the globe, in 47 days from the time they left the city yesterday. Their itinerary includes stops at Salt Lake, New York, London, Berlin, Hamburg, Moscow, Vladivostok, Hong Kong, Nagasaki, San Francisco and back to Los Angeles.

At Vladivostok the party expects to meet and take lunch with another party of three being sent via Seattle in charge of John Gray.

THE WHEAT YIELD.

Dry Farms Producing Seventy Per Cent of Total.

David Robbins of this city is building a 50,000 bushel grain elevator at Trenton, Cache county, to cost $14,000. Mr. Robbins has a 6,000 bushel elevator of this state last fall by growers, in response to foreign demands, one mill alone having taken 300,000 bushels. The production this year will be about the same, the dry farmers doing especially well. It is estimated that 70 per cent of the wheat raised in this state is dry farm product, these dry farms investing 25 bushels of seed to the acre, in cases running as high as 60 bushels. Irrigated lands produce 40 and 45 bushels, while the eastern average is 18 to 20 bushels. Mr. Robbins believes that the erection by J. K. Mullin, the Denver flour magnate, of a number of grain elevators in southern Idaho will be the means of retaining considerable wheat in this section that might otherwise be shipped out of the country.

ANOTHER BUILDING FOR SOUTH TEMPLE

George Q. Cannon Association Plans Structure to Replace the Old Juvenile Offices.

The George Q. Cannon association has completed plans for the erection of a three-story building on the site formerly occupied by the old Juvenile Instructor building on South Temple, between First and Second West. The new structure will be 50x167 feet, and the two upper floors will contain 42 rooms, and be used for hotel purposes. It will be under the management of Mrs. Pinty and will be fitted up in first class style. The ground floor will be divided into two stores, one of which has already been let to the Salt Lake Dairy company. The building is estimated to cost $30,000. Cannon & Pitzer are the architects for the building. Plans have also been completed for a building which will cover all the land on the corner owned by the George Q. Cannon association, which is 330 feet on South Temple and 100 feet on First West street. This work will not be undertaken at present, though the association expects to raze the old Cannon mansion to the ground later and build a new structure on the whole corner.

HENPECKO, THE MONK.

Latest Arrival at Lagoon Brings Joy To Simian Family.

A new baby monkey was born at the "Zoo" at Lagoon last night, and there is great rejoicing among the monkey colony and the children who visit the resort. This is the third new arrival in monkey-land to make its appearance at the Lagoon grounds, the two preceding simians to first behold the light of day at the Davis county resort having been called "Cassidy" and "Briggs" and "Rhyme." The latest arrival, it is said, designated by the euphonious appellation of "Henpecko," preserving the name of the fourth of the series, "Groucho" to be applied later.

William T. Jack of Cassia county, Idaho, is in the city today on business connected with the Burley Townsite company. He is distributing a prospectus setting forth the many fold attractions of that section of the country. One of these is the new hotel built at an expense of $25,000. The townsite consists of 600 acres, with a $15,000 schoolhouse, a public park, a $10,000 newspaper plant, etc.
