HORSE RAISING IN ALBERTA.

In breeding horses, Alberta occupies somewhat similar position to Canada that Kentucky does to the United States. Owing to the high altitude, dry and invigorating atmosphere, short and mild winters, nutritious grasses and inexhaustible supply of clear, cold water, school and the relative increase and de it is pre-eminently adapted for breeding horses, and the Alberta animal has Sept. 10. First day already become known for endurance and lung power.

There are in Alberta several grades of horses, varying in point of quality from the hardy Indian peny or cayuse to the beautiful, well-formed thorough. bred. Thoroughbreds from Great Brit-aln and Kentucky, Clydesdales from Scotland, Percherona from France and trotting stock from different parts of the United States have been imported at considerable expense, and he result is that the young horse of Alberta will compare with any in canada, and finds a ready market in England and Belgium. Good three-quarter bred Clydes and Shires which at maturity weigh 1,400 to 1,650 pounds bring from $75 to $100, good quality of other classes $50 to $100. In quanty or other classes so to $100. In recent years Alberta-bred horses have carried off nearly all the principal events in which they were entered in Montana and other Wester States against some of the fastest stock of northwestern America.—T. SAVING STEPS.

It is surprising how people will fritter necessary steps because they do not ex-ercise their brains a little. I have seen men make four trips from the house to the barn to get four little things they needed. I have seen women make six rips between the table and pantry in moving six little things, three from each them. By keeping our wits about us all the time we can save a multitude of steps and hours of time every week. An old farmer once said to his son, 'Don't take a step, John, until you see whether you can save two or three. Do one thing going and another coming it you possibly can. Don't wear yourself out unnecessarily!"-Fred Gundy in Farm and Fireside,

FAIR AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Enrollment of First Day, 10,801 Against 10,891 Last Year.

MANY MORE ENTERED TODAY

Decrease of Ninety for Opening Day Does Not Indicate a Failing off in the Lebool Attendance.

The Salt Lake public schools launched out upon their tenth year yesterday with an enrollment of 18,801. The enrollment on the opening day of last year numbered 10,891. This does no show that there was a larger attend ance upon the schools last year than there will be this, it simply indicates that more children began on the first day last year than they did this year But there are more school children in the city now than there was then and it is confidently expected that there will be a very material increase in the umber of school children this year over that of last year.

The decrease in the Webster and Wasatch schools is attributed to the change in the boundaries of the disrict, which resulted in sending a numtrict to the training school in the new University building. The following h

CONFERENCE WEEK.

All indications point to an immense attendance at the coming Conference and State Fair, the first week in October. ADVERTISERS DESIRING TO REACH THE PEOPLE IN THEIR HOMES can do so effectively by using the Semi-Weckly News (printed Mondays and Thursdays) before the Conference season. As all subscribers of the Semi-Weekly News who visit the city receive the DAILY FREE during their stay, that paper will be an unexcelled advertising medium during Fair and
